CANNON GIVEN 16 YEARS

NEGRO WHO RAVISHED A WHITE GIRL IN SEDALIA SEPTEMBER 26, 1907.

HE WITHDREW PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

Pleaded Guilty and Threw Himself Upon the Mercy of the Court—Brief Review of a Most Dastardly Crime.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The Lloyd Cannon negro rape case, wherein Miss Sophia Schwensen, a white domestic, was the prosecuting witness, which has been hanging fire in the criminal court since Monday, was abruptly terminated shortly after Judge Hoffman convened court this morning, when the prisoner, through his leading counsel, C. C. Kelly, withdrew his plea of not guilty to the charge of rape and entered a plea of guilty.

Mr. Kelly pleaded for leniency at the hands of the court, and after a brief consultation with the state's attorneys Judge Hoffman sentenced the prisoner to sixteen years' confinement in the state penitentiary.

Under guard of Sheriff I. N. Sprecher and Deputy M. T. Henderson, Cannon was taken to the state prison at Jefferson City on the noon train today, where he began the serving of his sentence.

Surprise at Guilty Plea.

The court room was filled early today with eager spectators who had assembled out of curiosity to hear the evidence, and the prisoner's action in pleading guilty caused no little comment.

The selection of the jury to hear the case was begun last Monday, but the trial proper was not entered upon until yesterday afternoon, when the prosecuting witness was placed on the stand.

Shortly after 4 o'clock last afternoon the defense's counsel objected to the admission of certain testimony purporting to show at what time the prosecuting witness had revealed the fact of her assault.

Both sides argued the point until 5 o'clock, when Judge Hoffman adjourned court until this morning No witness was placed on the stand today, the attorneys being earnestly engaged in private conversation until Mr. Kelly announced the intention of the prisoner.

Employed at Same House.

Cannon is a negro about 27 years old and had been employed in doing chores at the home of Font Meriwether on West Seventh street, at which place Miss Schwensen also was employed.

On the morning of September 26, 1907, according to the allegations in the information filed against Cannon, while members of the Meriwether family were absent from home, Miss Schwensen was attacked by Cannon, who, after accomplishing his fiendish desires, threatened to kill the young woman if she ever divulged his deed to anyone.

On October 14, 1907, less than three weeks after the first assault had been committed, Cannon made a second assault on Miss Schwensen with the intention of ravishing her, but her screams attracted the attention of carpenters who were at work on the Meriwether residence, and when they hurried to her assistance the negro coolly and deliberately walked away.

Fled From Scene of Crime.

He left Sedalia that night, and Prosecuting Attorney Dow issued a state warrant charging the negro with assault with intent to rape.

For several months Cannon's whereabouts remained a mystery to the authorities of this county, but on February 10, 1908, Sheriff Sprecher arrested Cannon, who was then working on a farm ten miles northeast of Paola Kas.

Cannon was brought to Sedalia and several continuances were granted the prisoner before the preeliminary examination was finally held. When the original hearing was held in Judge R. J. Leaming's court Mr. Kelly refused to take any part in the examination.

However, one startling fact was revealed at the hearing, when Miss Schwensen, who labored under the theory that the negro would kill her, informed the court that Cannon had previously assaulted her and accomplished his purpose. This fact had heretofore been unknown to the authorities.

Several Continuances Granted.

After Cannon's preliminary arraignment had been concluded he lay in the county jail for months, awaiting trial in criminal court. Several continuances were also granted in this court, but finally the case was called last Monday.

Prosecutor Dow was assisted by James T. Montgomery, who acted as leading counsel, and W. D. Steele, while Mr. Kelly, leading counsel for the defense, was assisted by P. D. Hastain and W. W. Blain.

The selection of the jury required one and one-half days' task, and at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon the case proper was begun. Only one witness,

NINE DEAD; TWENTY HURT

REAR-END COLLSION ON NEW ORLEANS & NORTHEASTERN RAILWAY.

THE WRECKAGE SOON CAUGHT FIRE

Blaze Was Extinguished With Small Loss—Accident Occurred Only Few Miles From Metropolis of Louisiana.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 11.—In a rear-end collision on the New Orleans & Northeastern, this morning, at Little Woods, twelve miles out of this city, nine persons are known to have been killed and twenty injured.

The accident was caused by a New Orleans & Great Northern train running into a Northeastern incoming passenger train.

All of the Northeastern train was derailed.

The wreckage caught fire, but was soon extinguished.

WILL WED NOVEMBER 18

J. P. Dunlap, a Katy Brakeman, and Miss Anna Mucphy.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

J. P. Dunlap, a former Sedalian, now employed as brakeman on the M., K. & T. between Parsons, Kas., and Muskogee, Ok., and Miss Anna Murphy, daughter of Joseph Murphy, a retired conductor of Parsons, will be united in marriage at nuptial mass at St. Patrick's Catholic church at Parsons on the morning of Wednesday, November 18.

Rev. Fr. Neiusees, the pastor, will perform the ceremony, and immediately afterwards the couple will leave for Texas to spend their honeymoon, after which they will return to Parsons to live.

The groom-to-be is a brother of Miss Alice Dunlap, a stenographer at the office of the Worrell Manufacturing company in this city.

THE REVIVAL MEETINGS

By Rev. Kokendoffer at First Christian Church.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The revival meeting in progress at the First Christian church, conducted by home talent, as it were, is growing in interest.

Last night Rev. Kokendoffer had a splendid audience, considering the weather, and tonight he expects a much larger crowd.

He speaks this evening from the text, "No Man Saw Jesus Only.'

Mrs. E. B. Quisenberry, who is the soloist, sang "Moment by Moment," her rich contralto voice pleasing all who heard her sing during the meeting.

MR. BRYAN AS EVANGELIST

Divine Predicts He Would Become Equal of Apostle Paul.

Burlington, Kas., Nov. 11.—Rev. French A. Oliver, who is holding revival meetings here, has issued an open letter to Wm. J. Bryan, urging the Nebraskan to become an evangelist, and predicting that he would become an equal of Apostle Paul.

Expense Account Filed.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Dr. F. R. Morley, coroner-elect of Pettis county, today filed with Recorder Morey his expense account, amounting to $49.25.

DO YOU SCRATCH TICKET

AS JESUS CHRIST WANTS YOU TO WHEN YOU ENTER THE VOTING BOOTH?

NOT FIND CHRIST IN DANCE HALL

Rev. La Mance, Railroad Evangelist, Preached a Strong Sermon at Epworth M. E. Church Last Evening.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Evangelist LaMance used for his text at the Epworth M. E. church last night John 12:21: "Sirs, we would see Jesus." He began by giving a beautiful description of Bethany and the feast which occasioned the visit of the Greeks. He said, in part:

"If you are not seeking Jesus you are pursuing shadows. It is the business of the preacher to show people that they are really seeking Jesus. I am not a believer in total depravity. No matter what walk of life we are in, Jesus will meet us half way and give us a blessing.

"Do people see Jesus in the home life? If some one should get under conviction in your neighborhood would they come to you as the representative of Jesus? One reason that many children are not led to Christ today is that parents professing to be christians have not lived right in their home life.

"What is your social life? Is that pure? And your political life? When you are shut up in the booth and take the pencil to mark your ticket, do you mark it as Jesus Christ wants you to? Then what of your commercial life? If you love God in deed and in truth it will reflect in your business life. This world is hungry to see the people in the church demonstrate Jesus Christ.

"You will not find Jesus in the lustful, corrupt dance hall. The people there are not expecting any testimonies or any spiel about Jesus. Such things would not be welcome there. Neither is he found in the cheap shows or the damnable nickelodeons.

"When you see Jesus you will want to be like Him. You will want to appropriate Him and assimilate His character. The sight of Jesus will humiliate you. If you are proud and puffed up, a glimpse of Him will straighten you out.

"I have seen people who profess to have great experiences that they never put into practice. They have never seen Jesus. Jesus, like the famed Aeolian harp, can play the softest, sweetest, most enchanting music that will wean you from the world and you will see Jesus in everything."

On Wednesday night of next week will be a special service for laboring men. There will be special music and the discourse will be one of great interest to organized labor.

READ ADMIRAL MILLER DEAD

Was Appointed to the Navy From Missouri in 1863.

Philadelphia, Nov. 11.—Rear Admiral James M. Miller, aged 61 years, governor of the United States naval home in this city, died today, after a brief illness.

He was appointed to the navy from Missouri in 1863. He commanded the cruiser Columbia, later coming to the Philadelphia navy yard, where he commanded the receiving ship Lancaster. He had been in charge of the naval home eighteen months.

NIGHT RIDING IN SOUTH

To Be Discussed by Farmers in Session at New Orleans.

New Orleans, La., Niv. 11.—The National Farmers' Educational and Co-Operative Union opened in this city today. Many delegates arrived last night.

Among the subjects to be discussed will be "Night Riding in the South," and the plan to build mammoth cotton store warehouses at New Orleans.

BLAME THE ADVISERS

Statesman Says Emperor William Should Have Been Told His Duty.

Berlin, Nov. 11.—The Reichstag was again crowded today when the debate on the interview with Emperor William published in the London Daily Telegraph October 28 was resumed.

Baron Gamp, a conservative, said his majesty's trouble ought to be ascribed to his responsible advisers, who, since the time of Bismark, never have been able to tell his majesty plainly his constitutional duties.

Rev. Campbell to Officiate.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Rev. F. Y. Campbell, pastor of the First Baptist church, went to Warrensburg this afternoon, where at 7:30 o'clock this evening, he will unite in marriage Henry Reed, a Quarry City druggist, and Miss Mollie Burrus, a popular Warrensburg girl. The ceremony will be performed at the Baptist church.

WAS THERE THIRD PARTY

ON SCENE WHEN ROBIN COOPER SHOT FORMER SENATOR E. W. CARMACK?

THIS IS THE STORY NOW RELATED

The Elder Cooper Has Been Remanded to Jail Without Bail, Charged With Murder—Son Still in a Hospital.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 11.—Excitement here over the killing of ex-Senator Carmack by Robin Cooper, Monday afternoon, is still the sole topic in political circles throughout the state.

Col. Cooper has been remanded to jail without bail, charged with murder.

Young Cooper is at a hospital, under guard.

Friends of Carmack say a third party was with the Coopers just before the shooting, and intimate sensational developments in a day or two.

DESERTED FAMILY IS HERE

Arrived From Spokane, Washington, This Morning.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Emmett Petty, accompanied by Mrs. Grant Butcher and four children and Mr. Butcher's mother and his sister, arrived from Spokane, Wash., this morning. Mr. Petty came to Sedalia, but the Butchers stopped off at Lamonte.

The family returned to Missouri owing to the disappearance of Mr. Butcher, who is alleged to have deserted his family for a married woman formerly of this city, as chronicled in the Democrat-Sentinel Sunday.

Mr. Petty stated to the Democrat-Sentinel this afternoon that Butcher left his family something like $4,000, and to his daughter, Minnie, a piece of property at Sunnyside, Wash., worth $1,200.

On November 2d Mr. Petty received a letter from Butcher, mailed on a train, saying he would never return, but would be a "weary Willie" henceforth, as for the past two years his life had been simply hell on earth.

Mr. Petty has no idea where Butcher has gone, nor does he know definitely that there is another woman in the case.

KATZER-RILEY NUPTIALS

Bridal Couple Departed for a Tour of Lone Star State.

(From Wednesday's Daily.).

William J. Katzer, Jr., an M. K. & T. painter, and Miss Ruby E. Riley, of 600 West Second street, were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. Neiberg at nuptial mass at Sacred Heart church at 7 o'clock this morning. Emil Katzer, brother of the groom, served as groomsman, and Miss Ida Lennartz as bridesmaid.

A wedding breakfast was served to the immediate relatives at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Hattie Adams, on West Second street, and at 9:10 o'clock the couple left for a ten days' honeymoon tour of Texas, after which they will return here to make their home.

Missourian Dies From Loss of Blood.

Nevada, Mo, Nov. 9.—While removing his shotgun from a wagon Clarence F. Broderick, who lived near Bronaugh, was shot through the arm and died five hours later from loss of blood.

A CALL TO BACKSLIDERS

WAS THE THEME OF EVANGELIST HAMILTON'S SERMON LAST NIGHT.

BROADWAY PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

A large audience again greeted the evangelists at the Broadway Presbyterian church last night. Despite the threatening weather, a number of new voices joined the splendid chorus Mr. Henderson has organized. There is great enthusiasm over the music. The audience showed their appreciation of the beautiful solo by Mr. Henderson entitled, "Let Him Have His Way With You."

The new song book, "Famous Hymns, is becoming very popular. Besides many of the older songs like "Will There Be Any Stars in My Crown?" and the celebrated "Glory Song," it has many beautiful new ones 'My Anchor Holds" and "It Cleanseth Me" have already become favorites. Mr. Henderson drills the large chorus after the service each evening and invites all who will sing to join it.

The heart-searching sermon of Evangelist Hamilton last night upon 'Backsliding" was a compliment to Monday night's discourse on "Can I Know That I Am Saved." His subject last night was "The Fall and Restoration of the Strongest Man in History." In part he said:

"Sampson lost favor with God by falling into sin. There are multitudes of men and women in this country who have had rich Christian experience, but they are now more like shorn giants. They were once on the mountain peaks of spiritual life and glory, but they are now in the valley of spiritual poverty.

"One of the saddest things I hear is 'I have seen better spiritual days than these.' It is the confession of a distressed soul. I may be speaking to some who have had the joy of leading others to Christ, but your own heart knows its bitterness.

"Some people lose their joy when they leave behind their church letters or keep them hidden in their trunks. No man can keep his joy and peace who refuses to take up his religious responsibilities when he moves to a new field."

The evangelist spoke of the possibility of one who has lost his joy and fellowship with Christ of getting it back again if he comes praying "Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation and uphold me with thy spirit.' He said "You may have forgotten Christ, but He has not forgotten you. If you return there is a waiting Savior to receive you. Come back and I will heal all your backslidings."

Tonight's subject will be, "The God of Wonders in Revivals." Mr. Henderson's solo will be "A Little Bit of Love." The cottage prayer meetings are increasing in attendance. The public is cordially invited to all the meetings.

WED BY THE REV. ATWILL

Bridal Couple Departed for Kansas City This Afternoon.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

W. P. Kimberlin, of the Landmann Abstract and Title Co., and Miss Ethel Wells, of 409 North Grand avenue, were married at the home of the bride's parents at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. Douglass Atwill, rector of Calvary Episcopal church, performing the ceremony.

One hour later the bridal couple left for Kansas City to spend their honeymoon. They will return here to make their home.

The original intention of the couple, as announced in the Democrat-Sentinel seveal weeks ago, was to be married at 8:30 o'clock tonight, but learning of the intention of friends to charivari them they decided to be married earlier and avoid such embarrassment. Nevertheless a crowd of young gentlemen friends assembled at the depot and showered the bridal couple with rice.

Under Arrest at Springfield.

Johnnie Wright, the 16-year-old son of respected parents in Sedalia, is under arrest at Springfield, Mo., as is also Robert Farmer, another lad, charged with burglary and larceny. The lads were held on a bond of $5,000. The Springfield Leader says:

"A telephone message from the authorities at Sedalia, where Wright lives, was received by Chief Loveless this morning, asking that Wright be given to the Sedalia authorities as he had been paroled from servng a sentence for a felony committed there."

Fidelity Council to Dance.

The members of Fidelity council No. 53, K. and L. of S., will give a dance at the Sedalia Printing company hall on Thursday night, November 19. A five-piece orchestra will furnish music.

BEEN SILENT 30 YEARS

AND ALL BECAUSE OF HAVING BEEN JILTED BY GIRL HE LOVED.

MAN HAD VERY BAD CASE OF IT

Benjamin Landis, a Resident of Pennsylvania, Swears Off Talking, and for Thirty Years Has Kept His Pledge.

Middletown, Pa., Nov. 11.—For thirty years Benjamin Landis, who lives with his mother in a modest little home two miles outside of this town, has not conversed with friends or relatives, because, it is said, he was jilted by a girl whom he loved devotedly in his youth.

More than thirty years ago "Ben" Landis wooed Miss Fanny Gingerich, who was then the belle of the countryside, and who married Henry Snavely. Landis was about 18 years old. He tried to forget there ever had lived such a girl as Fanny Gingerich, and he went west, hoping his affections might be lost in a mining camp or on a prairie ranch.

For several years he lived near Kansas City, but finally came east and returned to his home near Middletown. Love's flame had not died out, but he was a far different Landis than the one who went away a few years before. Relatives declared "he became queer while in the west," but neighbors and friends say "it was the girl."

Landis confessed that his love disappointment had disheartened him. It was this time he took the vow never again to hold conversation with anyone through the length of his life.

And he has lived up to this self-imposed sentence unflinchingly for thirty years. Now and then he mumbles a short sentence, but his mother, Mrs. Catharine Landis, a venerable woman 84 years old, with whom he has lived since he swore off talking, says he never speaks to her.

THE DAILY TARIFF GRIND

Resumed by Committee on Ways and Means Today.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The committee on ways and means of the house of representatives today continued the hearings begun yesterday on the schedules for chemicals, oils and paints.

These public hearings, which are for the purpose of gathering information useful in revising the tariff, are part of the tariff plan proposed by Chairman Payne on the floor of the house last May.

KILLED BY AN ENGINE

Man Was Crushed When It Went Through a Culvert.

Nevada, Mo., Nov. 11.—W. R. Nichols, of near Schell City, was killed yesterday in crossing a culvert with a traction engine over a small bridge. It gave away under the heavy weight.

Mr. Nichols was caught under the engine and killed instantly.

THIS HAPPENED IN TEXAS

In One County the Republicans Received Every Vote.

Temple, Texas, Nov. 11.—In the election held November 3 Seapata county cast 424 ballots and the republican candidates received every one of them.

GOVERNMENT MAKES CHARGES AGAINST A FLORIDA LUMBER CONCERN.

THE CASE IS ON TRIAL IN NEW YORK

It Is Alleged That by Means of Alluring Advertisements Laborers Are Enticed and Held in Practical Slavery.

New York, Nov. 11.—What was asserted to be the practical marooning of 3,000 men in the wilds of Florida and their detention there at hard labor for several months was dealt with at length yesterday before Judge Hough and a jury in the United States circuit court.

The testimony was at the trial of the government's case against employers and agents of the Florida East Coast Railway company for alleged violation of the statute prohibiting "peonage, slavery and enforced servitude." The men under indictment are Fransisco Sabbia, Edward J. Triay, David E. Harley and Frank A. Hough.

After a jury had been selected Glenn E. Usted, deputy attorney general, outlined the prosecution's case. He contended that the treatment accorded the workmen supplied to the Florida East Coast company by the defendants was nothing short of slavery.

The government would show, he said, that in 1905 the men had been induced by alluring advertisements to apply for employment in the south. Through the long journey they were given nothing except stale bread and bologna sausage, he said, and when they reached the end of their land journey many refused to leave the train. A hose was turned on them and in this manner the entire consignment was driven aboard a waiting steamer, he said.

When the ultimate destination was reached, said Mr. Usted, the men found that the paradise that had been promised them was a barren wilderness, overrun with reptiles, with no place to sleep provided. Their "high wages," the prosecutor said, were of paper, exchangeable at the company's store. The escape that many sought was impossible, as the region was entirely cut off.

Thinking to be discharged, some refused to work. These, Mr. Usted said, were threatened with death and brutally beaten. Fi[illegible] some were able to smuggle let[illegible] through to relatives, and in this m[illegible]ner the government had been ap[illegible]ised of the conditions existing, the lawyer said.

An adjournment was taken until today.

SARDOU LAID TO REST

Funeral of French Dramatist Was Very Simple by His Wish.

Paris, Nov. 11.—Victorien Sardou, the French author and dramatist, who died November 8, was buried today. Although simple, the funeral was expressive evidence of the place that Sardou held in the hearts of the French people. He would have been gladly accorded a state funeral had it not been for his expressed wish that he be buried without pomp.

EIGHT DEAD IN WRECK

Collision on Union Pacific Railway, Followed by Fire, Has Fatal Results.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 11.—Nine men are known to have lost their lives as a result of a collision between two Union Pacific freight trains last night at Borie Wice, and a fire which broke out in the wreckage.

Only four bodies have been recovered, and it is feared the others may have been cremated.

Serenaded Mr. Katzer.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The Sedalia Military band, of which William J. Katzer, Jr., was formerly a member, gave Mr. Katzer a pleasant serenade at his home, 702 Wilkerson avenue, last night, in anticipation of his marriage to Miss Ruby E. Riley, which was celebrated today.

Will Attend a Banquet.

Hon. J. H. Bothwell left Wednesday morning for St. Louis to attend a republican banquet Saturday night.

AN EASY ESCAPE.

The sentence given Lloyd Cannon was too light. Here was a negro man, almost a giant in stature, brutal, strong, bestial, who stood in open court and of his own free will confessed to having committed the most henious crime known to the world, a capital crime, one punishable by death—and was given but sixteen years in the penitentiary.

The story of the girl whose life he has ruined irreparably was in evidence, with all its horrible and heartbreaking details told amid sobs and tears; other witnesses were ready and willing to add corroborative testimony to the recital; the court knew that another charge of similar character had been made against him, and that not one word had been or could be said in his defense; that he had fled from the scene of his infamy, thus from the first confessing, and then before all men he acknowledged with seeming indifference to being guilty of the "unnamable crime"—and he received sixteen years in the penitentiary! Sixteen years, which, with time allowance, means twelve!

Twelve years of imprisonment for having robbed an innocent and simple maiden of the most priceless jewel in the crown of pure womanhood, twelve years for the ruthless blighting of a life which through all the years to come will be haunted day and night by the fiendish memory of that awful deed.

Twelve years! Faugh!

BRYAN AND TAFT.

William Jennings Bryan can not attain the presidency. With a personal following and popularity exceeding that of Henry Clay and James G. Blaine he seems destined, like them, to be always in the White House atmosphere but never in possession. Like Cleveland he was thrice a candidate, but as against Cleveland's two victories there remains for Bryan only a series of defeats.

It is idle to indulge in "ifs" in viewing the election results or to speculate on what might have happened had Governor Johnson, Judge Gray or some other democrat been the nominee. It is possible that the alignment of states might have been different, but it is probable that so far as the popular vote is concerned Bryan's total is larger than would have been recorded for any other democrat in the land.

The are six million people in America who love the Nebraskan with an enthusiasm and ardor that is inspiring, but there are not enough to make him president. It was his last and greatest opportunity, but the presidency was not to be attained. It was a difficult task. A party well intrenched in power is hard to dislodge, and this is especially true when a reasonable degree of material prosperity exists. Furthermore, it is undoubtedly the fact that certain principles and policies which are supposed to be represented in the person of Roosevelt are popular, and that the voters had been brought to believe that Taft was the natural executor of an administration created by an enormous popular vote.

The Democrat-Sentinel is not disposed to find fault with the judgment of the majority, but it serves notice that this verdict was obtained upon the understanding that the republicans in authority should "do something"—that the tariff should be revised downward, and that other remedial legislation promised by Roosevelt should reach the stage of performance.

Yesterday we were democrats and republicans. Today we are all Americans. We all realize that Judge Taft is a clean and high minded man, whose aims and purposes are just. We realize further that no man in history has had a better, more thorough or more practical training for the presidential office. He is built into it, as it were. And, therefore, in acknowledgement of the will of the many, we face the futrue with serene confidence.

Anyhow, hats off to Bill!

NOW FOR TARIFF REVISION.

Now that a republican president and congress have been elected, what will be done with the tariff becomes an interesting subject for consideration. The republican platform pledges the president-elect to call an extra session of congress immediately after his inauguration the fourth of March, next, for the purpose of enacting a new tariff law. It may be taken for granted that Mr. Taft will issue the call at that time, inasmuch as there is no prospect that the approaching session of congress will bother itself about the matter. If there is one subject on earth which a republican senator or congressman has a loathing for when mentioned in connection with legislation it is the tariff. Therefore, it is certain the disagreeable matter will be put off as long as possible, and that nothing will be done until there is no avenue left for escape.

We have the advance information furnished already by Senator Aldrich that the tariff will not be taken up in the coming session of congress, and what the Rhode Island senator says usually goes in that body.

Senator Burrows says it may be, but Senator Burrows best likes to see himself quoted when he is talking through his hat. Of course, tariff revision could be entered upon by congress this winter, were it so disposed, and in view of the fact that this legislation has been deemed of such great importance as to call from the republican national convention a resolution asserting that it should be the subject of an extraordnary session, it would seem that the law makers should apply themselves to the task at the earliest moment. But now that the battle has been won, the urgency of a new tariff law appears to have diminished in reverse ratio with Candidate Taft's plurality.

So we shall in all probability see, as following presidential campaigns of the past, indifference as to law making responsibilities when congress reassembles. The tariff will be as unpopular as ever, but after the short session has been wasted in doing nothing, and Mr. Taft has called the promised special session, we shall then have the pleasure of seeing the stand patters squirm.

What headway Taft and the revisionists will make against the Burrows-Fordney-Cannon-Payne-Dalzell crowd is the most entertaining feature of congressional politics to which the public looks forward.

AS TO ADVERTISING.

When buyers forget to forget; when competition ceases to compete; when every actual and prospective customer has been convinced that your product is the best of its kind and nothing better can be produced, then, and only then, says the Selling Magazine, will it be safe to get along without advertising.

Just as long as old buyers die and new ones take their places; just so long as there is competition to coax your customers from you; just so long as there is a possibility that somebody else will produce a better product, just so long will it be important, absolutely necessary to carry on the work of educating and reminding your own and your competitors' customers as to your goods.

Is it not quite as necessary to do this work of educating and reminding in dull times as when business is brisk? It takes time at any time to excite interest and create desire; men are coming into your business field every day; there is always plenty of worth while material to work on. Where, then, is there any saving in a temporary discontinuance of a work which which must be done more and harder and at greater cost if once interrupted?

EVERYBODY! LET'S GET BUSY.

And now to business again! The summer's over; the election is over; the panic is over; we hope hard times are over; and we are all right up to the time for which we have been waiting.

After all, our work is our happiness. Waiting and hoping is what makes the heart sick. Work is what wings the hours. Work is what strengthens the body and the mind. Work is what tunes the voice and puts us in harmony with the universe. God gave us work and in that giving, our greatest blessing.

No. We are not forgetting the poor fellow whose only request is for work. We must work to get work for him, and if he can't get work, we must do double duty till he can. There is a screw loose with our system, or there would not be any lack of work for willing hands. Here and now is our time, and with our system there is work for nearly all. And there is more work for each man than we are doing.

And in doing more we will be more. We will grow and expand. We will live a larger life, a more happy life; and, incidentally, as we serve we will be rewarded. And as we are rewarded we will prosper. And as we prosper we will grow stronger. The only thing that kills is idleness and inaction.

The dead rest. Work is the antthesis of death.

A HORSE APIECE.

As a means of relief from the despotic rule of Speaker Cannon the whispered suggestion is made in republican circles of putting Representative John Dalzell in his place, now that the party is sure of the next congress.

That would be an escape, so to speak, from the devil into the deep blue sea. What kind or a committee of ways and means to revise the tariff could be expected of John Dalzell in the chair of speaker? He was the representative and agent of the steel trust when a duty of $7.84 was imposed on steel rails, of $10 a ton on building materials of steel and of $30 a ton on tin plate.

In vain it was shown that these exorbitant duties were not necessary for protection and would be unproductive of public revenue; that they would be a heavy burden to American manufacturers requiring steel and iron for materials of production, and that they would therefore be a grievous obstruction to the country's export trade. The greed of the tariff beneficiaries was insatiable, and the committee on ways and means wrote the tariff schedules according to their dictation.

By the schedule of the duties on steel was bred the greatest trust the world has ever known, and Andrew Carnegie was enabled to sell out to it for something like $300,000,000. Since then Dalzell has again expressed his hostility to a revision of the tariff. He is, in fact, a stand patter of the stand patters.

Uncle Joe Cannon and John Dalzell are personally as much unlike as any two men in congress. But politically they are tarred with the same stick and wear the same livery. To trade one for the other would be an even exchange.

ORGANIZE.

The good soldier may feel the shock of defeat more severely than the bad soldier, says the Kansas City Post, but the good soldier recovers his courage and his wits first.

If the democracy of Missouri is composed of good soldiers—and the Post believes that it is—it should by this time have come to its senses and be ready to begin the battle anew.

That eternal vigilance is the price of victory is truer in politics than it is in war. Wars may come and go, but politics goes on forever, and the results of political battles are more sweeping than are the results of conflicts at arms.

The people of Missouri have nothing to be proud of in the recent election, and if they do not want to see another republican administration elected to succeed the present one, the democrats of Missouri must organize, and organize at once.

The day has passed in Missouri when campaigns can be won by a desultory appeal to the people. The party which now makes the strongest and most thorough appeal, and which on election day marshals its forces to a man to vote their convictions, is the party that wins.

It is not enough to have speakers in the field—it is not enough to circulate literature, it is not enough to have a fighting force of newspapers. All these things are necessary, and in former years they would win political battles. They will not and can not win them now. The efforts of the orator and pamphleteer and the press must be supplemented by the efforts of skillful organizers in command of an organization that is in good working order year in and year out.

It is imperative that such organization must be formed and formed at once for the next campaign. Each and every voter in Missouri must be catalogued. The heads of the organization must know where to put their fingers upon their workers at a moment's notice.

Anything less than such an organization is useless in Missouri.

The time to begin the organization is now.

The state committee, the Young Men's Democratic club of Missouri, or some body of men organized for the special purpose, should begin at once upon a state-wide organization which shall reach into every nook and corner of Missouri.

To such an organization the Post will give its earnest and unqualified support—and to such an organization many well to do democrats will give liberally of funds.

But the democrats of Missouri do not want any half-hearted organization. They do not want any more failures for lack of organization.

Let's organize at once, and organize right.

Who'll be the first to take the responsibility?

A DESERVED TRIBUTE.

It is seldom a defeated candidate for office, and especially one who made so hard a fight as did William S. Cowherd, receives such a tribute of admiration and respect from a newspaper of opposite political faith as was given Mr. Cowherd by the Kansas City Journal in its issue of Friday morning. It is so novel an occurrence and the editorial is so full of truth that the Democrat-Sentinel reproduces it. Surely it is great compensation for defeat that words such as these can be said:

"It is gratifying to know that Missouri has gone republican and that it will have so good a governor os Herbert Hadley will make. But there would have been no alarm in Missouri had William S. Cowherd been elected governor. The democracy of this state boasts no more respected member, and here in his home city he has the confidence of all good citizens irrespective of party. It was not William S. Cowherd who was defeated, but the party whose standard bearer he was. While the campaign was characterized by a great deal of mud-slinging, yet there was not a successful assault upon Mr. Cowherd's private character or public record. His personal enemies here in Kansas City took a savage delight in maligning him, but the people of the city and county understood its animus and were not misled.

"The Journal is a republican newspaper and in the late campaign it supported the republican ticket, including Mr. Hadley, who was well worthy of support on his own merits. As a governor, the Journal believed that Mr. Hadley was the better man for Missouri, and still thinks so. But it respects Mr. Cowherd and can testify to his long and honorable citizenship in this community, where the personal enemies he has made are a fine tribute to his own high character.

"Kansas City is proud of both the late candidates for governor, whom it supplied. One of them had to lose, but it is pleasant to think that with either in the governor's chair the interests of the state would have been served, as each man honestly conceived them. Mr. Cowherd has lost none of the esteem and good will of his fellow townsmen by reason of his unsuccessful candidacy for a high office for which he was well qualified."

BEGIN NOW.

It may be a little early, but what do you say to begin making your Christmas purchases now? Think ahead about six weeks or so and picture in your mind's eye the hurry and scurry, the perplexities and physical exhaustion that will dominate your home and favorite shops as they did just before Christmas last year and ever has and ever will unless you wish to avoid them. Can't you see the tired, overwrought women scrambling at the counters and bemoaning their mistake at having put off making purchases till the last minute? Do you wish to be caught again in this crush just before Christmas that is as inevitable as the twenty-fifth of December itself?

A far-seeing young woman of our acquaintance who meets the exactions and problems of social and home life evenly and pleasantly says she does it principally by looking ahead. Applying this rule to the holiday period, she informs us that she has made it a practice for years to have all her Christmas shopping done by the 15th of November, the "Merry Christmas" cards written, the gifts properly apportioned and the pacakages neatly wrapped and ready to mail or express at least ten days before the annual festival. She does not do all the buying nor all the wrapping in a day. She commences about this time, when the stores are filled with their fresh fall and winter stocks, making selections each day that she has occasion to visit the shopping district. In this way the presents are secured, one or a few at a time, with no inconvenience, and before she realizes it she has them all purchased.

"You have no idea," this woman says, "what a relief it is to me. I have time to select the gifts for my family and friends deliberately, and know what I am buying, and I believe on many articles I actually save money. I know, at least, that I am not buying rom the frazzled end of a merchant's stock, and presents, too, that have been pawed over by a thousand shoppers. However, the real satisfaction and fun of the thing is to sit back in my easy chair during the month of December and watch all my poor, dear, foolish friends in the holiday shopping riot."

Desn't this sound like good common sense? And don't you think you would profit a deal in peace of mind and health of purse if you commenced now to look about the stores for Christmas presents and make your selections when there is plenty of time to do it wisely and advanageously?

PURGNG THE BANKING BUSINESS

The entencing of Charles W. Morse, crooked exponent of high finance and promoter of many dishonest enterprises, such as the ice trust and shipbuilding combine, is a wholesome lesson to others of his kind who are fortunate enough to be out of jail.

This gambler, robber of innocent investors and defier of federal banking laws, who many years posed as one of New York's bon ton millionaires and select citizens, has finally come to his just reward. He had a spectacular career, full of glory and riotous renown while it lasted, but when it collapsed, as inevitably it must have done sooner or later, the crash made the maudlin kings of finance tremble with apprehension.

Morse's offenses were numerous, but the most serious of all was that upon which he was convicted and sentenced to prison. It was of the kind which the panic of last year revealed existed on a wide scale in the greatest banking city in America, and which in principal degree was responsible for the panic itself. Morse was one of the go-between for speculators and certain so-called reputable banking institutions of New York. He poured the funds of his bank, which was one of the largest in the metropolis, into his own and other nefariuos schemes until there was little left of its assets that could be realized on in an emergency. All this he did in reckless disregard of the national banking laws and of the trust he occupied for bank depositors.

Possibly in time, after a few more bankers are imprisoned, they will learn that the United States banking laws are made to be obeyed, and that those who can't obey them must either get out of business or go to jail.

A FORMER SENATOR SHOT

WAS SLAIN IN STREET DUEL AT NASHVILLE, TENN., MONDAY AFTERNOON.

WOMAN WITNESSED THE TRAGEDY

Killed by Robin Cooper, Son of an Early Friend He Had Ridiculed in the Columns of the "Tennesseean."

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 10.—Ex-Senator Edward W. Carmack, editor of the Nashville Tennesseean, was shot and killed last afternoon about 4 o'clock by Robin J. Cooper, a young attorney, the son of Col. Duncan B. Cooper. The tragedy occurred on Seventh avenue, near the southeast corner of the lawn in front of the Polk flats.

Ridicule of Col. Cooper in the editorial columns of the Tenneseean was the cause of the tragedy. Mr. Carmack had been warned that Col. Cooper would resent the ridicule, if continued, and was armed with a revolver, two chambers of which he emptied, wounding young Cooper in the shoulder.

Within a few seconds after the men met the tragedy was over, and it was difficult to get the exact details.

Mr. Carmack had left his office and was going to his apartment on Seventh street, down which Col. Cooper and his son were coming. As they came together Mr. Carmack was talking to Mrs. Charles H. Eastman, and the last words spoken by him were to her.

Mrs. Eastman says that when Mr. Carmack was addressed he immediately jumped to one side, so as to be clear of her, and as the terrible truth dawned upon her she turned into a gate.

Several shots rang out in rapid succession and Senator Carmack whirled around and seemed to catch at an electric light pole, but missing it in his reach, fell in a heap in the gutter, just at the edge of the granitoid sidewalk.

He fell somewhat on his right side and was lying with one hand raised to his face. His revolver fell to the street by the side of him and was picked up and turned over to the police. Mr. Carmack was in all probability dead when he fell as three bullets had been fired into his body.

Just who fired the first shot will in all probability be a matter of controversy, but the shots were very nearly simultaneous. Friends of the Coopers claim Carmack drew his pistol and fired first. Mrs. Eastman did not see. The nature of Carmack's wounds would indicate that he could not have used his pistol after being shot. Col. Cooper, it is understood, drew a pistol, but did not fire.

The affray occurred before the Polk flats, a large apartment house erected on the site of the old President Polk mansion

After the shots were fired young Cooper stood a few moments over the prostrate form of the ex-senator and his father stood still. Col. Cooper then walked up to his son, who was faint as a result of the wound, and placing his arm around him they walked to the infirmary of Dr. R. E. Fort, where the wound of the young man was give nattention by Dr. Fort and Dr. Lucian E. Burch. He was shot in the right shoulder, in the region of the collarbone, and it is stated that the wound is not a dangerous one. He was later removed to St. Thomas' hospital.

At the infirmary of Dr. Fort, Col. Cooper surrendered his revolver, none of the chambers of which had been emptied. Robin Cooper turned his revolver over to Patrolman Vaughn, and one empty shell dropped ou when it was unbreeched. It is an automatic magazine revolver, and it is believed that three shots had been fired. As heretofore stated, two chambers of the revolver of Senator Carmack were emptied.

The greatest excitement prevails throughout Tennessee, as well as in Nashville, Mr. Carmack having been a prominent political factor and popular with thousands of men and women in Tennessee. The Coopers are among the most popular people in Tennessee.

Col. Duncan B. Cooper is a half-brother of Judge William F. Cooper, now of New York, formerly of the supreme bench of Tennessee, and Edmund Cooper, a prominent lawyer of Shelbyville, Tenn., now past 80 years of age. Robin Cooper is a practicing lawyer of the Nashville bar, and stands high in his profession.

Col. Cooper is widely known throughout the state. Twenty-five years ago he gave Mr. Carmack his first start in life, bringing him as a young man from Columbia, Tenn., to Nashville to engage in his first newspaper work with the American. Col. Cooper recognized the genius of the young man and pushed him to the front, championing him in his numerous political battles until Mr. Carmack was elected a United States senator from Tennessee. The race between Mr. Carmack and Governor Patterson for the democratic gubernatorial nomination, however, marked the parting of the ways between him and his old friend.

The first manifestation of bitterness between the two came during the late primary campaign. At Ashland City in the joint canvass on June 15, Carmack made a sarcastic reference to several of Governor Patterson's supporters, among them being Col. Cooper. Elsewhere in the campaign he referred to Cooper as the "bald-headed angel-dunce."

In the campaign for the nomination, Carmack had stood for statewide prohibition, and Governor Patterson for local option. After the former's defeat for the nomination Mr. Carmack continued his efforts in behalf of state-wide prohibition, becoming editor of the Nashville Tennesseean, a paper that had warmly espoused his cause. In making his fight he referred several times to Col. Cooper.

Yesterday morning the Tennesseean carried the following editorial reference, the connection being that Col. Cooper had helped to bring about a conference between ex-Governor John I. Cox and Governor Patterson, heretofore political enemies:

"To Major Duncan Brown Cooper, who wrought the great coalition; who achieved the harmonious confluence of incompatible elements; who wileded the pewter handle to the wooden spoon; who grafted the dead bough to the living tree and made it to bloom, and bourgeon and bend with golden fruit; who made playmates of the lamb and the leopard, and who made soda and vinegar to dwell placidly in the same bottle, and who taught oil and water how they might agree — to Major Duncan Brown Cooper, the great diplomat of the political zweibund, be all honor and glory forever."

Relative to the conference, the Tennesseean, in its news columns, had previously intimated that the conference had been to defeat the success of a state-wide prohibition act in the next legislature.

Col. Cooper's attitude toward these editorial attacks was known to his friends. Sunday night Col. Cooper met former State Treasurer E. B. Craig at the Tulane hotel, and the matter was referred to. Col. Cooper stated that he had letters in his pocket which he proposed to send to Mr. Carmack, demanding that he desist in his editorial abuse. Mr. Craig declared that he would attempt to bring about a reconciliation, and he went to see Mr. Carmack in his office across the street. He returned, saying that Mr. Carmack was in a very ugly humor; that Mr. Carmack would hardly talk with him about it. However, Mr. Craig assured Col. Cooper, as coming from Mr. Carmack, that his name would not appear in the paper hereafter.

There was evidently some misunderstanding, however, as the above quoted editorial appeared in the Tennesseean yesterday morning.

Killing Created Great Sensation.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 10.—Messages by wire and mail from various sections testify to the tremendous sensation caused throughout the state and the entire south by the killing of former United States Senator E. W. Carmack by young Robin Jones Cooper in a street duel here late yesterday afternoon. Carmack's briliiant career as United States senator from Tennessee had made his one of the best known national figures. Col. Duncan B. Cooper, father of young Cooper, and who was with his son when the duel occurred, has an extensive acquaintance and a legion of friends both in his own and various other states.

In former years the men were dear friends, Carmack having declared in public print that Cooper was his benefactor, but the friendship has been replaced by an enmity which was more noticeable since Carmack became editor of the Tennesseean, following the late primary. Then the editorial attacks began which culminated in yesterday's tragedy.

Was to Have Appeared Here.

Former United States Senator Edward Ward Carmack, of Tennessee, who was shot and killed at Nashville, Tenn., Monday afternoon by Robin Cooper, a young attorney, as described in detail in this issue of the Democrat-Sentinel, was to have lectured in Sedalia Tuesday night, December 1, under the auspices of the Sedalia Lecture Course association.

THE OFFICIAL CANVASS

OF VOTES CAST IN MISSOURI IS TO BE OPEN TO THE NOMINEES.

SO SAYS THE SECRETARY OF STATE

John E. Swanger Leaves St. Louis Uncertain of Election, but Hopeful—Unofficial Vote Is Presented Below.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 10.—Secretary of State John E. Swanger, republican candidate for re-election, departed for Jefferson City last night after spending Sunday and Monday in St. Louis in an effort to determine from the returns received at the republican state committee headquarters whether he or his democratic opponent, Cornelius Roach, has been elected.

When he boarded a train at Union station at 8:10 o'clock last night Secretary Swanger was hopeful, but uncertain.

Under the law the official canvass of the election returns must be made by the secretary of state in the presence of the governor. There is no provision in the law requiring a public canvass of the state vote, such as is provided in the various county canvasses, but Mr. Swanger yesterday said there would be no secrecy about the canvass to be made by him.

"Although I am not required by law to compile the figures in the presence of anyone save the governor, I shall invite every interested candidate to be present in my office when the canvass is made, either in person or by representative," he said. "I want the candidates to be there, and I wish everyone to feel that the count has been fair.

"If it should happn that my opponent beats me by only one-half a vote he will be given that advantage and I shall issue him a certificate of election. I made a fair fight for re-election and if I am defeated I shall accept the verdict without protest.

"It is only right that each of the interested candidates should be given the opportunity of watching the official canvass of the vote cast in the state which means so much to them."

Democrats and republicans alike, upon learning of Secretary Swanger's decision, praised him for his fairness.

Mr. Swanger did not hesitate to say that he did not believe the election commissioners of St. Louis were respecting the letter of the law in making secret the canvass of the vote cast here.

"I understand that interested candidates or their representatives have been denied permission to watch the canvass of the St. Louis vote," said Mr. Swanger. "This is not in accordance with the law. Of course, the commissioners evidently intend to be fair, barring, as they do, the candidates of all parties.

"But the law as I understand it, provides that the official canvass in St. Louis, as well as in every county of the state, shall be 'publicly open.' It is certainly not 'publicly open' to keep out watchers. Personally, I believe I have as much right to watch that canvass as any of the commissioners, and I am speaking now as a citizen and not as a candidate.

"Two years ago I invited Governor Folk not only to witness the canvass of the state vote, but to aid me in checking it. The law only provides that he be present when the canvass is made. This year I shall again ask his aid. If I can help it, there will be no ground for criticism after the state canvass has been completed, no matter who is declared elected."

Secretary Swanger has fifty days under the law in which to complete the official canvass. He said yesterday that he would begin work just as soon as all of the returns have reached his office. He was notified by one of his subordinates yesterday that seventy of the 114 counties had forwarded official figures to him.

"I will not begin the state canvass until all the counties and the city of St. Louis have reported," he said. "There will be no unnecessary delay in my office. I am as eager as anyone to learn the official result."

The St. Louis Republic of this morning had the following as the unofficial vote cast for state offices:

Lieutenant governor—Gmelich, 347,366; Painter, 347,424.

Secretary of State—Swanger, 347,219; Roach, 348,304.

Auditor—Tolerton, 346,226; Gordon, 349,383.

Treasurer—Maring, 346,195; Cowgill, 348,336.

Attorney general—Fulkerson, 347,476; Major, 349,353.

Railroad commissioner — Wilder, 346,837; Knott 348,731.

Judge supreme court—Cox, 346,117; Graves, 349,365.

The Dr. Camp Medical Co.'s Great Work

Our Modern Americanized European Method of Painless, Bloodless Surgery Treatment For Female Diseases is Working Wonders in a Large Number of Cases Heretofore Classed as Incurable.

To show what our New Discoveries are accomplishing we herewith present a most extraordinary case for the consideration of all who may suffer from such conditions.

Goitre Cured Without the Knife!

BEFORE TREATMENT.

AFTER TREATMENT.

Mrs. Nancy Rayl and Mr. Wm. M. Rayl of Houstonia, Mo.

Mrs. Rayl is the wife of Mr. Wm. M. Rayl, whose photos appear above, residing near Houstonia, Mo. They are a very estimable couple and have a host of friends who are much surprised and greatly delighted at the wonderful cure Mrs. Rayl has obtained while taking our special combined course of treatment for the cure of Female diseases and Goitre. We pride ourselves on our great achievement in curing this most remarkable case, and we are truly thankful that it is our mission in life to add happy years to all such sufferers.

Mrs. Rayl came to us some months ago, suffering from a most aggravated case of goitre of the neck, complicated with Female weakness. The growth on her neck was as large as a pint cup. For over twenty years this condition had been gradually developing. She tried all kinds of treatment and many doctors, but to no avail. She had been told that the knife was her only hope and that the operation would probably kill her. She gave up in despair and had lost hope of ever being cured. As a last resort, she consulted us, and when we told her that her condition would yield to the influence of our new method of treatment, and that in four months her goitre would entirely disappear, she was greatly encouraged and began treatment at once, having her photograph taken for us with her neck exposed at that time. Mrs. Rayl is now happy and well and expressed herself with much feeling and gratitude for the cure she has obtained.

The Dr. Camp Medical Co.

Gentlemen:—I am a woman 51 years of age, and just to think that for over twenty years I have been a constant sufferer from that terrible disease, Goitre, that grew and grew until it was ten inches one way and nine inches the other, and as large as a pint cup. I was always so mortified because I could never wear a collar and dress like other women. I tried every remedy I could hear of, and many doctors, while I gradually grew worse all the time. I was told an operation was my only chance and that it would probably kill me if I had it cut off. I was in great despair and had given up, but it was certainly a lucky day for me when by chance I saw your advertisement in the papers about your new method of treatment, and I concluded to consult you, and when you told me you could cure me in about four months, I was greatly encouraged; but while I was taking treatment everyone said I was only throwing my money away; that I could never be cured—but I never lost faith, and now that you have done what you said you could without any cutting, I am overjoyed. You are master Specialists of great skill and men of your word, and you deserve all the praise a heart overflowing with gratitude can bestow. It will always be a great pleasure for me to answer all letters from all sufferers and tell them about my case and cure. Ever most gratefully yours,

MRS NANCY RAYL,
Houstonia, Mo.

HAPPY HOMES

It is the health of the wife. the mother and daughter that mars or makes the happiness of home life. Many suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, well knowing they need medical attention.

THE CAUSE is readily traceable to some derangement of the female organs, chief of which are a depression of spirits, melancholy, a reluctance to perform cheerfully the daily duties, backache, dragging sensation, unnatural discharges, irregularities, pain in the back, sides, breast, neck or head, nervousness, bloating and sleepless nights, discoloration around the eyes, liver spots, blotches muddy complexion. One or all of these symptoms are but timely warnings and if unheeded a life of suffering with serious complications is the inevitable result. To all such sufferers we extend a helping hand, and if you have been a chronic sufferer beware, cancer of the breast or womb, ovarian tumors, pupili ulcerations, etc., stand ready to wreck your hopes of a ripe old age, and to those of you who have already encountered these terrible wreckers of happy homes, we bid you hope, for it is on these malignant and deep-seated diseases that we have concentrated all our energies for years and have so perfected our methods that we cure absolutely and permanently without operations or the use of the knife, advanced case of cancer, goitre, ovarian fibroid and uterine tumors, together with all other complications arising therefrom by our modern Americanized European method of Painless, Bloodless Surgery Treatment for Female Diseases. Our sanitarium connection enables us to accept cases that need constant attention and those who are unable to come to our offices regularly. If you cannot call, write.

HAD A DOUBLE WEDDING

The Rev. Perry E. Pierce Performed the Ceremony.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Tony J. Turner, a well known tinner and coppersmith of this city, and Miss Mae Cone, daughter of H. F. Cone, an agent for the Prudential Life Insurance Co., were united in marriage by Rev. Perry E. Pierce, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church, at the home of the bride's father, 903 South Lamine avenue, at 6 o'clock last evening.

At the same time V. E. Cone, who conducts a lunch wagon on Second street and a brother of the bride, and Miss Minnie Mason, of Lincoln, Neb., were united in marriage at the same place. Rev. Pierce also performing the ceremony.

After a wedding supper at Mr. Cone's home both bridal parties left for Windsor for a brief visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner will make their home on South Montgomery avenue, while Mr. and Mrs. Cone will temporarily be located at the home of H. F. Cone.

PETITION WAS DENIED

Famous Standard Oil Fine Still Held Unjust by Appellate Court.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—The government's petition for a rehearing of the case in which the United States circuit court of appeals reversed the trial court in fining the Standard Oil company of Indiana $29,240,000 for alleged rebating, was denied today in the court of appeals. It is now authoritatively stated that the government will attempt to bring the whole matter before the United States supreme court on a writ certiorari.

Will Spend Sum of $1,500.

Contractor A. J. Mutchinson Monday began repairing and improving the Anheuser-Busch Brewing depot on Osage avenue, which was recently damaged by fire. The work will necessitate the expenditure of $1,500.

ANOTHER "SECRET" IS OUT

The Marriage of John Mansfield and Miss Ada Rymer.

John Mansfield, a Missouri Pacific shop employe, and Miss Ada Rymer, daughter of Mike Rymer, of North Grand avenue, were secretly married at the parsonage of the Central Presbyterian church by the pastor, Rev. A. A. Boyd, at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The only attendants were Miss Daisy Long and Mrs. W. D. Rymer, but they were sworn to secrecy. The bridal couple intended keeping the news of the marriage a secret for several weeks, but through a "tip" the details were learned today.

MRS. HANSBERGER RESIGNS

As President of the Local Chapter of the "D. O. C."

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

The Daughters of the Confederacy met at the home of Mrs. F. L. Farley yesterday afternoon. Mrs. W. F. Hansberger's resignation as president of the chapter was accepted, and Mrs. George F. Longan was elected to succeed her.

Mrs. Hansberger, who leaves soon for San Antonio, Texas, to reside permanently, was made honorary president of the chapter for life by unanimous vote.

The Daughters decided to give a euchre immediately after Christmas, but no details were arranged. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Will Have a Turkey Shoot.

A turkey shoot will be held on the Carson farm, four miles southeast of Sedalia, on Wednesday, November 21.

NATURE IS PLAYING PRANKS

Illinois Produces October Crops of Peaches and Strawberries.

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 10.—Nature has been playing pranks in Central Illinois orchards this season. W. H. Conard, of Ransom, has been picking his second crop of peaches, no less than ten trees bearing all through the month of October. James Miller, who resides southwest of Sterling, has been picking strawberries in his garden all fall, gathering the last on the first of the present month.

Mrs. Rose Early, of Sangamon county, reports blossoms on cherry and apple trees in her garden in the month of October. Many similar freaks are reported. Some think that the extraordinary drought has been responsible.

Many Central Illinois cities are without any water supply to fight fires, and if cold weather should set in without rains, the situation will be alarming.

COUNTY SEAT STAYS IN AVA

Vera Cruz, Mo., Loses Contest at Recent Election.

Springfield, Mo., Nov. 9.—The proposition to remove the county seat of Douglas county from Ava to Vera Cruz was defeated in the recent election, and the defeat at this time is considered most important to the county.

The new Mansfield-Ava electric line, which had suspended operations awaiting the result of the election, resumed work with an increased force of men the day after the matter was decided.

Ava is the proposed terminus of the line, and the promoters feared that if the county seat was taken away from that town its progress would be retarded.

The line will be completed now and will cover a rich timber region heretofore without transportation.

WOMAN STIRS SENSATION

SISTER OF CARTER HARRISON IS ARRESTED AT ASHEVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA.

THERE IS A MAN IN THE CASE, TOO

Mrs. Eastman, Daughter of Noted Chicago Mayor, Made Defendant by Son of Man Who Lived at Her House.

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 9.—Mrs. Sophie Eastman, sister of Carter Harrison, former mayor of Chicago, has been arrested at her home, Buck Shoals, on a warrant issued by a county magistrate, charging her with a violation of a state law which forbids a man and a woman to live alone in a house unattended, they being unmarried or not relatives.

The case was continued until Nov. 19.

The warrant was obtained by the son of Col. V. E. McBee, who has been living at Buck Shoals for several years.

The sensational interest of the case is heightened by the fact that Mrs. Eastman has begun suit against Col. McBee, charging that while she furnished all the money to buy Buck Shoals from the heirs of the late Bill Nye, the humorist, who built the house and who died there, he has so deluded her that the property is invested in a company which he controls.

The suit followed a quarrel between Mrs. Eastman and Col. McBee, formerly her companion at horse shows and such functions, and the substitution by Mrs. Eastman of a young man named Rider Edwards as her companion on drives.

This was followed at 4 o'clock Sunday morning by the destruction by fire of the hotel barn at Skyland, and Mrs. Eastman's two fine saddle horses.

Mrs. Eastman's friends say the charge is utterly malicious, and is intended to influence public sentiment in respect to the suit she is bringing against Col. McBee.

WILL INCREASE SALARIES

BOOST OF 10 PER CENT FOR ALL EMPLOYES UNDER THE CIVIL SERVICE.

THERE ARE A NUMBER IN SEDALIA

So Far As Known, Not One Will Enter a Protest, Despite the Fact That It will Increase Expense of Government.

Washington, Nov. 9.—A general increase of about 10 per cent in the salaries of all civil service employes at navy yards will be recommended in the report of the committee on grades and salaries of the keep commission.

The report is about completed and is expected to reach the department by the latter part of this week or the first of next week.

In its report to Congress last winter the keep commission recommended a substantial increase for these employes, but in the opinion of the naval authorities the increase was too large.

The question of revising their salaries was re-submitted to the committee on grades and salaries by order of President Roosevelt with the suggestion that their report ought not to increase their pay more than 10 per cent.

If the report is received before November 15, it will probably be approved and put in operation on December 1. The new wage scale will affect about 1,600 clerks, draughtsmen and inspectors. This change of grade and salary can be made without special legislative authority as the rating of civilian employes in the clerical and mechanical departments of navy yards are subject to department regulation.

MR. JNO TEMPLE GRAVES

TODAY CELEBRATING THE FIFTY-SECOND ANNIVERSARY OF BIRTH.

A CANDIDATE FOR VICE PRESIDENT

On the Independence Party Ticket at Recent Election—A Native of Willington Church, South Carolina.

New York, Nov. 9.—John Temple Graves, editor orator and vice presidential candidate of the Independence party in the campaign just closed, is today 52 years of age. Mr. Graves is now employed as an editorial writer on Hearst's New York American, but it is rumored that he will soon return to Atlanta to assume the editorship of a new Hearst paper to be established in the Georgia metropolis.

Mr. Graves is a southerner, having been born at Willington church, Abbeville county, South Carolina, on November 9, 1856. His father was Gen. James Porterfield Graves, and his mother Katherine Calhoun, a niece of John C. Calhoun.

Mr. Graves was graduated from the University of Georgia in 1875 and went into journalism. In the south he is looked upon as the successor of the late Henry W. Grady, both as an editor and orator. He was a presidential elector from Florida in 1884 and from Georgia in 1888. In 1905 he was a candidate forr United States senator from Georgia, but withdrew.

Mr. Graves was for years one of the most popular lecturers on the Chautauqua circuit, and a number of his lectures, as well as other works, have been published in book form.

Mr. Graves began his editorial career on the Florida Union, of Jacksonville, and his reputation as a writer and as a speaker soon spread throughout the south. Later he became editor of the Atlanta Journal, the Rome, Ga., Tribune, the Atlanta News and the Atlanta Georgian. His ability attracted the attention of William Randolph Hearst and he came to New York to accept an editorial position at a reported salary of $13,000 a year.

Will Give a Wedding Dinner.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Mrs. J. H. Vitt, of 501 West Sixth street, will give a wedding dinner at her home at the noon hour tomorrow in compliment to S. R. Smith and Miss Anna Geigel, who are to be united in marriage tomorrow morning.

The residence will be appropriately decorated in white chrysanthemums and ferns, while festoons of tissue paper will adorn the dining room.

Owing to the inability of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Smasal, of Cole Camp, to be present, Jerome Vitt and Miss Susie Geigel will serve as groomsman and bridesmaid, respectively, at the wedding.

CANNON JURY SECURED

RAPE CASE TAKEN UP FOR TRIAL IN THE CRIMINAL COURT THIS AFTERNOON.

DEEP INTEREST IS MANIFESTED

Mr. Dow Presented the Case for the State and Mr. Kelly for the Defense—A Splendid Jury to Hear Evidence.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The famous Lloyd Cannon rape case, which has been hanging fire for months past, was called for trial in the Pettis county criminal court this afternoon.

H. T. Dow is assisted by James T. Montgomery and W. D. Steele, while C. C. Kelly is leading counsel for the defense, being assisted by P. D. Hastain and W. W. Blain. The case will be tried before the following jury:

L. H. French, farmer, Lamonte township.
James M. Potter, farmer, Bowling Green township.
W. E. Cook, farmer, Smithton township.
J. C. Beaman, farmer, Beaman township.
T. L. Scott, farmer, Longwood township.
W. A. Smiley, farmer, Lamonte township.
A. O. Rager, farmer, Elk Fork township.
J. A. Johnson, farmer, Green Ridge township.
Elmer Jolly, farmer, Smithton township.
I. D. Barrow, farmer, Dresden township.
D. I. Tevis, farmer, Lamonte township.
Charles Broyles, farmer, Smithton township.

Mr. Dow outlined the nature of the case to the jury, and was followed by Mr. Kelly who outlined the evidence the defense expected to introduce at the trial.

While Prosecuting Attorney Dow was making his opening statement to the jury the court made a ruling which was very far-reaching and which in its effect will go far toward the acquittal of the negro. It was that the state could not, either in the statement or evidence, make any reference to the second attempt at assault, even though the defendant did during that attempt confess to the first and more heinous crime.

The prosecution relied much upon the witnesses to the second attempt to corroborate the evidence of the prosecuting witness as to the actual ravishment, and all evidence as to this assault being ruled out, makes the task of conviction the more difficult.

The ruling, therefore, gives a tremendous advantage to the accused.

Shortly after 3 o'clock Miss Sophia Schwensen, the prosecuting witness, was placed on the stand. Assisted by Mr. Montgomery, she told of the accomplishment of the negro's purpose at the home of Font Meriwether on the morning of Sept. 26, 1907, but she became completely exhausted and was unable to relate the circumstances when she was questioned about the minute details of the assault.

Wed by Judge Leaming.

(From Monday's Daily.)

H. C. Sands, a prosperous and popular young farmer of Sweet Springs, and Miss Bessie L. Reed, an accomplished and pretty young lady of the same locality, were married by Judge R. G. Leaming at the latter's office at 9:30 o'clock this morning. They left today for Sweet Springs to make their home.

"TEDDY" TAKES HIDE OFF

OF OHIO MAN WHO WROTE A LETTER ABOUT TAFT'S RELIGIOUS BELIEF.

HE REFERS TO IT AS "AN OUTRAGE"

Man's Religious Belief Concerns Him and His Maker—Protestants, Catholics, Christians and Jews in Cabinet.

Washington, Nov. 9.—"Secretary Taft's religious faith is purely his own private concern and not a matter for general discussion and political discrimination," says President Roosevelt in a letter he made public last night in which he answers numerous correspondents. The president says he deferred the publication of the letter until now to avoid any agitation likely to influence the election. The letter is addressed to J. C. Martin, Dayton, O., and is as follows: November 6, 1908.—My Dear Sir: I have received your letter running in part as follows:

"While it is claimed almost universally that religion should not enter into politics, yet there is no denying that it does, and the mass of the voterrs that are not Catholics will not support a man for any office, especially for president of the United States, who is a Roman Catholic.

"Since Taft has been nominated for president by the republican party, it is being circulated and is constantly urged as a reason for not voting for Taft that he is an infidel (Unitarian) and his wife and brother Roman Catholics * * * If his feelings are in sympathy with the Roman Catholic church on account of his wife and brother being Catholics, that would be objectionable to sufficient number of voters to defeat him. On the other hand if he is an infidel, that would be sure to mean defeat. * * * I am writing this letter for the sole purpose of giving Mr. Taft an opportunity to let the world know what his religious belief is."

Letter Was an Outrage.

I received many such letters as yours during the campaign, expressing dissatisfaction with Mr. Taft on religious grounds; some of them on the ground that he was a Unitarian, and others on the ground that he was suspected to be in sympathy with Catholics. I did not answer any of these letters during the campaign because I regarded it as an outrage even to agitate such a question as a man's religious convictions, with the purpose of influencing a political election. But now, that the campaign is over, when there is opportunity for men calmly to consider whither such propositions as those you make in your letter would lead, I wish to invite them to consider them, and I have selected your letter to answer because you advance both the objections commonly urged against Mr. Taft, namely; that he is a Unitarian and also that he is suspected of being in sympathy with the Catholics.

You ask that Mr. Taft shall "let the world know what his religious belief is." This is purely his own private concern; and it is a matter between him and his Maker, a matter for his own conscience; and to require it to be made public under penalty of political discrimination is to negative the first principles of our government, which guarantee complete religious liberty, and the right to each man to act in religious affairs as his own conscience dictates. Mr. Taft never asked my advice in the matter, but if he had asked it, I should have emphatically advised him against thus stating publicly his religious belief. The demand for a statement of a candidate's religious belief can have no meaning except that there may be discrimination for or against him because of that belief. Discrimination against the holder of one faith means retaliatory discrimination against men of other faiths.

Fatal to True Liberty.

The inevitable result of entering upon such a practice would be an abandonment of our real freedom of conscience and a reversion to the dreadful conditions of religious dissension which in so many lands have proved fatal to true liberty, to true religion, and to all advance in civilization.

To discriminate against a thoroughly upright citizen because he belongs to some particular church, or because, like Abraham Lincoln, he has not avowed his allegiance to any church, is an outrage against that liberty of conscience which is one of the foundations of American liberty. You are entitled to know whether a man seeking your suffrage is a man of clean and upright life, honorable in all his dealings with his fellows, and fit by qualification and purpose to do well in the great office for which he is a candidate; but you are not entitled to know matters which lie purely between himself and his Maker. If it is proper or legitimate to oppose a man for being a Unitarian, as was John Quincy Adams, for instance, as is the Rev. Edward Everett Hale, at the present moment chaplain of the senate, and an American of whose life all good Americans are proud—then it would be equally proper to support or oppose a man because of his views on justification by faith, or the method of administering the sacrament, or the gospel of salvation by works. If you once enter on such a career there is absolutely no limit at which you can legitimately stop.

Relatives Not Catholics.

So much for your objections to Mr. Taft because he is a Unitarian. Now, for your objections to him because you think his wife and brother to be Roman Catholics. As it happens, they are not; but if they were, or if he were a Roman Catholic himself, it ought not to affect in the slightest degree any man's supporting him for the position of president. You say that "the mass of the voters that are not Catholics will not support a man for any office, especially for president of the United States, who is a Roman Catholic." I believe that when you say this you foully slander your fellow countrymen. I do not for one moment believe that the mass of our fellow citizens or that any considerable number of our fellow citizens, can be influenced by such narrow bigotry as to refuse to vote for any thoroughly upright and fit man because he happens to have a particular religious creed. Such a consideration should never be treated as a reason for either supporting or opposing a candidate for political office. Are you aware that there are several states in this Union where the majority of the people are now Catholics? I should reprobate in the severest terms the Catholics who in those states (or in any other states) who refused to vote for the most fit man because he happened to be a Protestant; and my condemnation would be exactly as severe for Protestants who, under reversed circumstances, refused to vote for a Catholic.

Lives Refute Slander.

In public life I am happy to say that I have known many men who were elected, and constantly re-elected to office, in districts where the great majority of their constituents were of a different religious belief. I know Catholics who have for many years represented constituencies mainly Protestant, and Protestants who have for many ears represented constituencies mainly Catholic; and among the congressmen whom I know particularly well was one man of Jewish faith who represented a district in which there were hardly any Jews at all. All if these men by their very existence in political life, refute the slander you have uttered against your fellow Americans.

I believe that this republic will endure for many centuries. If so there will doubtless be among its presidents Protestants and Catholics, and very probably at some time, Jews. I have consistently tried while president to act in relation to my fellow Americans of Catholic faith as I hope that any future president who happens to be a Catholic will act towards his fellow Americans of Protestant faith. Had I followed any other course I should have felt that I was unfit to represent the American people.

Jew and Catholic in Cabinet.

In my cabinet at the present moment there sit side by side Catholic and Protestant Christian and Jew, each man chosen because in my belief he is peculiarly fit to exercise on behalf of all our people the duties of the office to which I have appointed him. In no case does the man's religious belief in any way influence his discharge of his duties, save as it makes him more eager to act justly and uprightly in his relations to all men. The same principles that have obtained in appointing the members of my cabinet, the highest officials under me, the officials to whom is entrusted the work of carrying out all the important policies of my administration, are the principles upon which all good Americans should act in choosing, whether by election or appointment, the men to fill any office from the highest to the lowest in the land. Yours truly (Signed)—Theodore Roosevelt.

WORK WEAKENS THE KIONEYS

Doan's Kidney Pills Have Done Great Service for People Who Work in Sedalia.

Most Sedalia people work every day in some strained, unnatural position—bending constantly over a desk—riding on jolting wagons or cars—doing laborious housework; lifting, reaching or pulling, or trying the back in a hundred and one other ways. All these strains tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they fall behind in their work of filtering the poisons from the blood. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, put new strength in bad backs. Sedalia cures prove it.

Mrs. J. V. Albertson, 611 West Seventh street, Sedalia, Mo., says: "My husband had kidney trouble for several years, brought on, no doubt, by the nature of his work. He suffered from pains in his back and hips and the kidney secretions became irregular, unnatural and contained a sediment. He tried many remedies, but did not receive much relief until he procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Bard's drug store. MR. M'AULIFFE WINS BET

HE IS WELL KNOWN NEWSPAPER MAN NOW EMPLOYED IN ST. LOUIS, MO.

WILL SOON HAVE VIEW OF EUROPE

Wagered All the Money He Had in His Clothes, the Princely Sum of $5, Against a Free Trip Across the Atlantic.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 9.—Joe McAuliffe has a trip to Europe in prospect that will not deplete his bank roll a cent, but promises to be expensive to Alfred Kennedy, all because Taft carried Missouri.

McAuliffe is a newspaper man, and Kennedy makes cigars. Naturally, Kennedy has the most money. In discussing the election prospects McAuliffe showed some signs of thinking that Bryan might lose Missouri.

"Physical impossibility," said the man who makes cigars. McAuliffe insisted that Taft had a chance, and Kennedy offered to bet a trip to Europe against any money that McAuliffe had in his clothes on the proposition. Being reasonably near to the last pay day, McAuliffe had $5, which he put up against a guarantee that the trip to Europe would be paid for.

The agreement calls for sailing December 20. They are to go first class on a good steamer. All hotel bills, legitimate tips, railroad fares and other expenses on the other side must be paid by Kennedy, who has agreed to hand over $10 each day to McAuliffe for his personal expenses.

TRAIN ROBBERY FOILED

TWO ROBBERS WERE DISCOVERED IN A DINING CAR BY PORTER.

WERE TRACKED BY THE CONDUCTOR

One of the Men Fell From the Train and Sustained a Fractured Skull, but the Second One Was Captured.

Columbus, O., Nov. 9.—An attempt to rob Big Four train No. 18, from Cincinnati, due in Columbus at 9:55 o'clock, was prevented last night by the discovery of two robbers in a dining car by a porter.

As a result, one man, Harry G. Emmitt, 38 years old, a pressman of 494 East Mound street, Columbus, is believed to be dying at Protestant hospital, and a man who says his name is Patrick Mahem, of Cleveland, is held by the police as a suspect, pending identification by the dining car crew.

When the porter saw the men he called Conductor Reese of the dining car, who tackled the two. He first grabbed Emmitt, who jerked out a small knife and cut the conductor across the hand. Emmitt then made his way to the platform and climbed to the top of the car.

As the speeding train made a sudden lurch near the Union station he was thrown to the ground and is thought to have sustained a fractured skull.

Mahem was arreste dlater at the Davidson hotel near the station. He admitted being on the train, but said he was a regular passenger traveling from Springfield to Columbus.

CHASNOFFS EXPAND

ILGENFRITZ ROOM AT 113 OHIO WILL BE PART OF THE SECOND STREET STORE.

DETAILS ARE MADE PUBLIC TODAY

New Arrangements Will Double Floor Space and Increase Stocks and Provide Enerances on Ohio and Second Streets.

Announcement was made today of the lease by M. Chasnoff of the Ilgenfritz room at 118 Ohio street. The negotiations have been on for some time, but the details were not arranged until today. This is an important step in the career of Chasnoffs, who have felt the need of more room for some time. It means larger stocks, increased accommodations for the patrons, and conveniences which, on account of lack of space, could not be given in the present quarters. When all improvements are complete, Chasnoff's store will have two entrances, one on Ohio street and the other on Second street. The room at 118 Ohio street has natural advantages for connecting the two rooms, and all that will be necessary will be to cut through the walls. The work was started today, and other improvements in both rooms, which include general alterations to suit the convenience of the new lessees, steel ceilings in the Ohio street annex, with a new front with large plate glass windows and the door centered Mr. Chasnoff hopes to have his new quarters and all alterations in the old room complete and in shape for service not later than Dec. 1.

In speaking of the improvements and expansion, Mr. Chasnoff said: "I have felt the need of more room for a year or more, and have been contemplating such a move for a long time. My business has grown to such proportions that it became an impossibility to serve my patrons with anything like the way I want them served. There is satisfaction in giving the right kind of service. as well as in giving values, which to the latter I attribute, more than anything else, the growth of this store. It is service and values that popularize, and I intend that both shall have full representation."

The new store will give Chasnoffs just double the floor space now utilized, which will necessitate nearly again as much stock. Every department will be increased. The shoe department, which has not had attention on account of the cramped space, will be doubled. The suit and cloak and millinery departments will be increased, and, in fact, every department will receive the attention the present conditions demand.

The growth of Chasnoffs has been substantial with its rapidity. In its ten years in Sedalia every year has shown a gain, and the new arrangements will doubtless give it a greater impetus and bring it to a higher standard of fitness to serve its patrons conveniently and with greater values.

Two Deaths at Katy Hospital.

(Monday's Daily)

Edward Kollert, an M., K. & T. crossing watchman from Denison, Texas, died from a cancer of the neck at the company hospital at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, aged 53 years. The body will be shipped to Denison this evening for interment. Deceased held membership in the Improved Order of Red Men.

The funeral of Philip Carroll, an M., K. & T. employe from Dallas, Texas, who died at the company hospital here last Friday night, will be held from Sacred Heart church at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and burial will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

Trustee's Sale.

Whereas, S. S. McIntire and Alice, his wife, by their certain deed of trust, dated the 17th day of January, 1907, and recorded in the recorder's office of Pettis county, Missouri, in trust deed record No. 181, on page 227, conveyed to F. Taylor Cain, as trustee, all their right, title, interest and estate of in and to the following described real estate, in the county of Pettis, state of Missouri, to-wit:

The southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section No. thirty-five (35), in township forty-six (46), north of range No. twenty-one (21), west of the fifth principal meridian, in the county of Pettis, state of Missouri, in trust to secure the payment of two certain promisory notes, in said deed described, and, whereas, said deed provides that in the event of the absence from Pettis county, Missouri, of the said F. Taylor Cain, trustee, or in the event of his sickness, death or other disability, or refusal to act, then the acting sheriff of the said Pettis county, Missouri, shall proceed to sell the real estate above described upon the request of the legal holder of said notes; and, whereas, F. Taylor Cain, trustee, has refused to act and default has been made in the payment of said notes. and the same now remain due and unpaid. Now, therefore, at the request of the legal holder of said notes I shall proceed to sell the above described real estate for cash to the highest bidder at public auction at the west front door of the court house, in the city of Sedalia, Pettis county, Missouri, on Saturday, the 12th day of December, 1908, between the hours of 9 o'clock in the forenoon and 5 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, in order to satisfy said deed of trust, together with the costs and expenses of executing this trust.

I. N. SPRECHER,
Sheriff and Acting Trustee.

Was Elected Behind His Back.

Carl Dungan, assistant claim agent of the Wabash, whose home is in Montgomery City, Mo., is the victim of a political joke.

Without his knowledge or consent he was placed on the democratic ticket and elected to the office of public administrator of Montgomery county, defeating Rev. John C. Robinson, the republican nominee, by 46 votes.

His railroad duties may prevent him from serving. Dungan is a splendid baseball player, as well as an efficient deputy claim agent.

THE MEDICAL SOCIETY MET

Dr. Alderman Read a Paper on "Surgical Diagnosis."

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The initial meeting for this season of the "ethical men" of the city—the Pettis County Medical society—was held at the court house Monday night. There was a good attendance, and an enthusiastic session was held.

An instructive paper on "Surgical Diagnosis" was read by Dr. M. C. Alderman, Dr. W. J. Ferguson opening the discussion which followed, being assisted by Dr. D. P. Dyer and Dr. M. T. Collins.

After disposing of matters purely personal to the society, adjournment was taken, to meet next Monday night.

REV. BRADY KICKED OUT

RECTOR OF TRINITY CHURCH, TOLEDO, O., SAYS VESTRYMEN DID IT.

LITTLE INSIDE HISTORY IS GIVEN

Dr. Cyrus T. Brady Issues Statement Telling of Troubles With Members of His Flock in Buckeye State.

Toledo, O., Nov. 10.—In a communication of more than 1,000 words, addressed to the parishioners and vestry of Trinity church, and which was not read before the parishioners, Cyrus Townsend Brady tells them in plain words the reason he is resigning is because he was practically and to all intents and purposes "kicked out" of a vestry meeting some months ago.

It seems that Brady did not like a heated argument that was in progress, and he did not hestate to say so. There and then he was informed that he could take it or not, as he pleased; that he was allowed in the meeting only by courtesy alone, and that if he did not like the way that things were going on he could get.

And he did get out and later was invited to return. But he refused to accept the invitation to return, claiming that that privilege was an inherent right, according to the canons of the church.

Whereupon Dr. Brady was informed that the church was an incorporated body under the laws of Ohio, and that under such conditions the vestry was acting within its right when it ran things to suit itself.

Brady, in the letter which certain vestrymen say will not be read to the parishioners, and which Brady has published in the press, says, in part:

"At a vestry meeting held shortly after Easter, at which I presided as rector, one vestryman made use of expressions or arguments in a heated debate which I considered improper. I said immediately that I would rule such remarks out of order. The secretary of the vestry coolly informed me that I could not make such a ruling, because I was not the presiding officer of the vestry and had no right to be present. I thereupon withdrew from the vestry.

The Rev. Dr. Brady has accepted a call to the pastorate of St. George's Episcopal church in Kansas City.

CHILDREN TO GIVE A PLAY

At Sacred Heart School on Thanksgiving Night.

(From Tuesday's Daily)

The children of Sacred Heart school will give their annual Thanksgiving entertainment at the school hall on the night of Thanksgiving day, November 26. "Our Lady of the Lourdes" is the title of the play, and it will be produced by the scholars of rooms Nos. 3 and 4.

In addition to the production there will be vocal and instrumental numbers rendered by the scholars of other grades.

The play will be given in commemoration of the golden jubilee of the apparition of "Our Lady of the Lourdes," which will be celebrated by the Roman Catholic church on that day.

According to Scripture, the Blessed Virgin appeared to a small girl at the shrine of "Our Lady of the Lourdes" in France, and since that appearance the day has been annually commemorated by members of that faith.

SMITH-GEIGEL NUPTIALS

A POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE MARRIED AT SACRED HEART CHURCH TODAY.

THE REV. FR. NEIBERG OFFICIATED

Jerome Vitt Was the Groomsman and Miss Susie Geigel, Sister of the Bride, Was Bridesmaid—Left for Kansas City.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

A pretty church wedding was solemnized at nuptial mass at Sacred Heart church at 8 o'clock this morning, when Shields R. Smith and Miss Anna E. Geigel, both of this city, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Stanislaus Neiberg. Jerome Vitt served as groomsman and Miss Susie Geigel, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid.

The sanctuary of the edifice was prettily decorated in anticipation of the ceremony and as the officiating clergyman pronounced the words that united the couple as husband and wife the impressiveness of the ceremony was felt by all.

Many lady and gentlemen friends of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony. Following the wedding the bridal couple and immediate relatives proceeded to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Vitt, 501 West Sixth street, where, at the noon hour, a sumptuous wedding dinner was served.

With an escort of "charivariers," numbering about twenty-five, the bridal couple proceeded to the Missouri Pacific station this afternoon, where at 2:30 o'clock they boarded train No. 1 for a few days' visit at Kansas City, after which they will return to the Queen City to make their home.

Prior to their departure the bridal couple was showered with rice in a manner heretofore unsurpassed, while novel placards and signs, bearing the words, "We are just married," "We can't help it," and the like, were placed in conspicuous places on the train to convey the general news of the wedding.

THE FARMERS' INSTITUTE

IT WILL BE HELD AT SMITHTON, MO., NOVEMBER 20 AND NOVEMBER 21.

ALSO TO BE CORN AND SEED SHOW

Lecturers from the State Board of Agriculture Will Be Present—A List of the Premiums to Be Awarded.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Smithton, Nov. 12.—Arrangements are being completed to make the Farmers' institute, corn and seed show, to be held here Friday and Saturday, Nov. 20 and 21, one of the most successful and instructive institutes held in Missouri.

The farmers are taking unusual interest in the coming meetings and the success of the affair is assured, no matter how disagreeable the weather conditions may be.

S. M. Jordan and F. G. King, lecturers sent here by the state board of agriculture, will discuss stock and agricultural subjects in the morning and afternoon sessions of both days.

Mr. Hillman, of Washington, D. C., representing the United States department of agriculture, will also attend and address the farmers on the question of adulterated seeds.

Papers wll also be read by prominent local farmers and stockmen.

The institute will be held in the Woodmen hall, and the morning sessions will begin at 9 o'clock and the afternoon sessions at 1 o'clock.

Night meetings will be held should the weather be favorable.

An effort is being made to secure the state veterinarian to lecture on the ailments of stock one night of the institute.

Butter-making, a subject of great interest to the farmers' wives, will be discussed by an experienced and practical dairyman at 1 o'clock in the afternoon of the first day's session.

E. N. Norton, of the Maplewood distict, will read a paper on "The Fertility of the Soil," and W. Stockton Cotton, of Woodford farm, will make an address on "Hog and Cattle Feeding."

Louis M. Monsees, senior member of L. M. Monsees & Sons' Limestone Valley farm, and who has a national reputation as an authority on jacks, jennets and all matters pertaining to horses, will be asked to address the institute on "Jacks and Missouri Pumpkins."

Col. M. V. Carroll, editor of the Ruralist, will also deliver an address on some topic germane to the meeting.

In connection with the institute a corn and seed show will be given, at which the following premiums will be awarded.

The object of these meetings is to bring the farmers and stockmen together and discuss the best ways and means of improving their farms, crops and stock.

All exhibits must have been grown in the year 1908 and exhibited by the grower:

A SCHOOL FOR FARMERS

ONE ON WHEELS LEFT PHILADELPHIA FOR SERIES OF 22 MEETINGS.

TALK OF 45 MINUTES MADE AT EACH

The Trip Is Under the Joint Auspices of the State Government and the State College of Agriculture.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 10.—A farmers' school on wheels left Philadelphia today for a tour of Eastern Pennsylvania, under the joint auspices of the state government and the State College of Agriculture.

Practical instruction will be given the farmers and the project promises to be a great success. Much interest has been manifested in all the towns where the special agricultural train will stop.

Twenty-two stops will be made, at each of which a forty-five minute talk by an expert from the state college will be given on the growing of alfalfa, soil fertility, corn culture and dairy products.

Under the direction of Prof. Alva Agee, of the department of agricultural extension of the state college, pamphlets have ben prepared for distribution containing practical suggestions to the farmers for improving both the products and the soil.

Prof. Agee believes that the adoption of improved methods will greatly increase the agricultural output of Pennsylvania, and the state college experts will urge their adoption in their lectures.

A Change for Priests.

Rev. Father Kretcher, who has been stationed at Wardville, but who for the past two months has been ill at St. Mary's hospital, has been transferred to Wentzville, St. Charles county, says the Cole County Democrat. This change is made because it is thought it will benefit Rev. Kretcher's health. To succeed him at Wardville Rev. Paul Groos, of Montgomery City, will be stationed. Rev. Gross is expected to take charge of the parish some time next week.

HAS SETTLED OLD DEBTS

NEW ORLEANS BANKER WHO WAS A FUGITIVE FROM JUSTICE FOR YEARS.

TURNED PIRATE; IS NOW RETURNING

Has Squared All His Obligations—Would Return to Former Home From Honduras, Where He Owns Two Gold Mines.

New Orleans, La., Nov 9.—William Adler, the millionaire New Orleans banker, who turned pirate, and, after suffering ship wreck, escaped and in twelve months dug enough gold out of three mines he owns in Honduras to pay off $2,000,000 of debts, is coming back to stand trial before a federal jury on a charge of misappropriating the funds of the State National bank, of which he was president. This news has just reached financial New Orleans

Adler's flight from New Orleans and the revelations of his frenzied finance deals, which followed quickly, created a national sensation a year ago, and ever since have been a subject of considerable annoyance to the department of justice and the state department at Washington.

Adler left New Orleans, as he had made his fortune, in a bold, masterful way. No one knew of his financial embarrassment because of his exclusive control over the State National bank and his ability to borrow all the funds he wanted from that institution without suspicion being aroused.

Stories of fabulous wealth carried away with him on the ship spread as soon as it became known that Adler had departed secretly on his piratical voyage, and before he was well on the high seas at least three wealthy New Orleans men complained to the authorities that they each had loaned Adler $50,000 on his personal note the day before he left.

There were half a dozen others who came forward with complaints that Adler had carried away loans between $1,000 and $10,000, and innumerable former friends of the financier told of Adler having hurriedly negotiated loans with them on shaky collateral.

Knowing nothing of the furore that his departure had created in this city, Adler steered straight for the only land with which the United States has no extradition treaty. It happened to be a land also where Adler was and still is a political power because of his being the business partner and warm personal friend of President Davlla.

Stories of shipwreck tell of Adler clinging tightly to a money-stuffed satchel and abandoning all his other possessions in a wild effort to save his life, and of his succeeding by paying a luggerman a fabulous price to convey him from British Honduras, from which he could have been extradited, to the hospitable shores of Spanish Honduras, where he knew his friend Davila would guard him.

Reaching Spanish Honduras in safety, the fugitive banker hastened to Managua, the capital; told his story to Davila and then went to San Pedro Sula, which is the center of Adler's interests.

It was shortly after Adler's arrival in Honduras that the Baileys, emulating him, attempted to carry a cargo of goods from New York to Honduras, and succeeded. The federal government did not overlook either incident and the Baileys were later brought back to trial. Adler was not touched, for the reason that when he heard of the Bailey incident he hastened to Managua and conferred with his friend, President Davila. The result evidently was satisfactory to Adler, for he returned at once to San Pedro, after lending President Davila $10,000.

In New Orleans the financial crash that followed Adler's departure will not be forgotten in years. The State National bank, where Adler had made former Governor W. W. Heard one of the active vice presidents, was the scene of great excitement. The wholesale grocery house of A. Adler & Co., which had supplied Adler with the $50,000 worth of goods that went to the bottom of the gulf with his ship, went at once into the hands of a receiver and its supposed assets of a million dollars were found to have vanished.

The great foundry of which Moses Schwartz was the head was the next concern to go. and depositors at the State National bank refused to be reassured by the committee of bankers working on the bank's affairs, and demanded their money.

Under a rule made by the receivers of the bank it was impossible to withdraw funds from the bank, but they could be checked out, and within a few hours after Adler's exploits had become known $10,000,000 of deposits had been removed. The liquidation of the bank resulted in the stockholders losing practically everything they had invested, almost a million dollars.

After the liquidation of the concerns affected by Adler's departure had been under way for some time, Adler opened negotiations with financial connections here and revealed the fact that he was the owner of three gold mines in Honduras. He told his creditors through his representatives that he would pay dollar for dollar, and would not stop until he restored every instituton shaken or destroyed by his departure.

Following his rescue of the firm of A. Adler & Co., he began settling with his creditors, and his task, according to Adler's attorneys, has been completed and were it not for the seventy-four indictments brought against hm by the federal grand jury, Adler, so his attorneys say, would have been back in New Orleans months ago, so greatly has he prospered.

Adler, his attorneys say, is confident he will be exonerated of any crime in these transactions, and that his cherished hope of returning to this city, his former home, will become a reality within a week from this time.

It is estimated that Adler has raised $2,000,000 since his sensational departure, a year ago, and it is known that practically this entire sum has come from his gold mines.

MAIL ORDER WIFE MISFIT

FARMERS GETS DIVORCE AFTER THIRD MATRIMONIAL VENTURE.

THE WOES OF A MAN IN MICHIGAN

Sent the Third Woman $500 Before He Saw Her, and When He Arrived at Her Home She Got $500 More.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 10.—That the "mail-order wife" as an investment does not fill the bill and rarely comes up to the description and specifications in the advertisement is the testimony given in court here by Joseph Sturgis.

Mr. Sturgis, quaifying as an expert, swore he had thrice married what he called "mail-order women," and found them unsatisfactory.

After successfully escaping from two of them through the courts, he corresponded with one in New York City. On the stand he said he had sent the woman $500 before he saw her. Then she urged him to come to New York City and see her, sending her $500 more in advance to assure her of his coming.

He forwarded the required sum, and when he got there found her an invalid in a wheel chair. She said she was awfully sorry to have deceived him so regarding her beauty, but that she had wealthy relatives in England whom she expected to die very soon, and just as soon as they did she would pay him $10 for every dollar he had let her have. So Joseph gave up another $500 and she sent him on an errand to a dressmaker.

When Joseph got to the dressmaker's she rushed to him, threw her arms about his neck and wanted to marry him straightway. Joseph agreed and they were soon married. They came to Marshall and then went to live on the farm.

The latest Mrs. Sturgis told "Joe" that the "corn-fed lobsters" around this country "didn't look very good to her," and after she had spent her husband's money she returned to New York and Joseph applied for a divorce.

After this story the court thought Sturgis was certainly entitled to a divorce and it was granted upon the grounds of desertion. Joseph said Mrs. Sturgis' postoffice address is unknown to him, but he knows she is in New York, because he received a souvenir postal card of the Singer building and knows she sent it.

Possibly the Next Warden.

The Jefferson City Post believes that Col. W. C. Irwin, who was the recent candidate for congress from the Eighth Missouri district, will be named as warden of the penitentiary by Governor Hadley. The Post further says that Rush Lake may be made excise commissioner in St. Louis ,and that Frank Blake will probably be the governor's private secretary.

YOUNG GIRLS DO STUNTS

SOCIETY BUDS, AT BID OF SORORITY, DANCE AND DIVE AT WICHITA, KAS.

WERE SHOWN INTO DRAWING ROOM

"Lambda Alpha Lambda" Is a National Sorority for Girls—Members Are of the Highest Social Standing.

Wichita, Kas., Nov. 10.—The homes of some of the best people of Wichita were entered Saturday night, practically without invitation, and the families were more or less shocked by beautiful girls, scantily and daintily clad, who, after pushing by the person who answered their ring of the door bell, entered the parlors, and, in the presence of the households, gave a splendid exhibition of plain and fancy dancing, calculated to make the average vaudeville artist green with envy.

The dancers departed as suddenly as they came, and left the people speechless. The girls were of exclusive society families of the town.

Still another family gasped for breath when a beautiful young woman, clad only in a bathing costume such as is calculated to make the folks on the beach sit up and take notice, entered the home, and, mounting a chair, gave a diving stunt, using a folded rug as a pool. The family sat helpless until the girl had disappeared, and then they began to get busy over the telephone.

The girls and their actions are town talk today. People wanted to know what it all meant, and the solution of election bets was not accepted, because girrls don't bet on elections, not that way.

It finally leaked out though one of the society women of the city that it was all a part of the initiation ceremony of the Lambda Alpha Lambda sorority. The girls are all members of the best families in the city and are well known here and at schools.

"It was downright mean for the members of the fraternity to exact such embarrassing things of us," said one of the girls who had done her stunt. "But we promised to do our part, and we did it."

They certainly carried out their part of the program to perfection, judging from the comment of the people whose homes they invaded.

The Lambda Alpha Lambda is a national sorority for girls. It includes among its members only those of the highest social and school standing, and its membership is limited. There are many of the alumni members here.

Man Found With Throat Cut.

Carthage, Mo., Nov. 9.—Lying in the henhouse with his throat cut from ear to ear, Al Parker, a former saloon keeper of Carthage, was found by his wife last evening. He had apparently been there for five or six hours. It is said the wounds were self-inflicted. He will die.

Stettin, Germany, Nov. 10.—The steamer George Washington of the North German Lloyd line was successfully launched at Bredow today and christened by the American ambassador, David J. Hill, who made a brief speech before breaking the bottle of champagne over the vessel's bow.

DR. J. D. TODD WAS FREED

GOVERNOR J. W. FOLK COMMUTES SENTENCE AT REQUEST OF PETITIONERS.

A RESIDENT OF VERNON COUNTY

Physician, Who Killed Merchant, Is Released After Serving Less Than One-Third of a Ten-Year Sentence.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 10.—Dr. J. D. Todd, of Vernon county, was released from the penitentiary late last evening on a commutation of sentence issued by Governor Folk.

He was received at the prison March 6, 1906, under a sentence of ten years for murder in the second degree.

Dr. Todd had served in the Confederate army with distinction from beginning to the end. In the early nineties he represented Vernon county in the lower house of the legislature.

He was convicted of killing Richard Wall, a merchant of Richards, Vernon county, the home of both.

The trouble between Dr. Todd and Wall was of long standing, and owed its origin, it was said, to a family injury.

Petitioners to the number of more than 5,000, from Vernon, Bates and neighboring counties, asked Governor Folk last summer for Dr. Todd's release.

This was supplemented by petitions from the State Medical association, survivors of the Confederate army and most of the members of the legislature who served with Dr. Todd.

It was late last evening when Dr. Todd was released. Two sons and a daughter were here to meet him. He goes from here to his old home at Richards, Vernon county.

THE LABOR FEDERATION

TWENTY-EIGHTH ANNUAL CONVENTION MEETS IN DENVER COLORADO.

MATTERS OF UTMOST IMPORTANCE

To All Branches of Organized Labor Will Be Discussed—President Samuel Gompers Is In the Chair.

Denver, Nov. 9.—Though there is much talk of plans that are afoot to oust Samuel Compers from the presidency of the Amerocan Federation of Labor, the leaders declared this morning before the beginning of the annual convention of that organization was called to order that they did not know of any organized opposition to him.

Will There Be a Fight?

Denver, Colo., Nov. 9.—With President Samuel Gompers presiding and delegates present representing a million workers, the twenty-eighth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor was called to order here today. Matters of the utmost importance to organized labor in the United States are scheduled for consideration and the convention promises to be the most notable in the history of the federation.

There are surface indications that a determined fight will be made against the re-election of Samuel Gompers to the presidency. Many delegates are dissatisfied with the stand taken by Gompers during the recent campaign. They declare that he took the American Federation into politics in violation of its constitution and by-laws. There are also many socialist delegates who are opposed to Gompers, owing to the stand he has taken against their political creed.

The trouble growing out of the "federation blacklist" will also be discussed during the convention. Last winter the Buck's Stove and Range company, of St. Louis, secured an injunction restraining Gompers from printing the name of the concern in the "We don't patronize" list of the American Federationist, the official organ of the American Federation of Labor. Gompers nominally obeyed the injunction, but only nominally, having made all sorts of references to it, and to the fact that organized labor is against the Buck's company. This led to a contempt case against him. In this case, the federation is solidly back of Compers, and one and all the delegates believe that the injunction was a violation of the fundamental right of free speech and a free press.

Reports have been circulated by a Cleveland detective agency that the convention would be secret, and offering to furnish complete reports of the sessions secured by spies. Mr. Gompers denies that there will be anything of a secret nature about the deliberations of the federation, and every effort has been made to give the representatives of the press full opportunity to report the convention.

During their stay in Denver, the visiting delegates will be entertained in a lavish manner by the local labor organizations. Several trips to points of interest have been arranged and there wil be numerous entertainments. The business men of the city have heartily cooperated in the plans to give the labor men a pleasant time during their convention.

GOT DRUNK ON 'LEAVIN'S'

FROM A CIDER PRESS IN PENNSYLVANIA, DID FIVE HUGE BEARS.

DONALD GALLRGHER FOUND THEM

Animals Had a Football Game, a Piute War Dance, a Grand Opera Rehearsal and an Artistic Salome Windup.

Laporte, Pa., Nov. 10.—"Searching their souls for sounds to tell how glad they felt," five big black bears, very, very drunk, gave a vaudeville performance in the Loyalsock woods near Ringdale.

John Ferrell has a big cider press on the edge of the forest. Hundreds of bushels of apples have been ground and pressed during the past few months and the pomace dumped into a great heap near the Loyalsock creek. It recently rained on this pomace and it fermented.

Farmer Donald Gallagher was driving home from Ringdale when he heard the sounds of revelry. His horses refused to proceed and he went forward to investigate. Dancing around the pomace pile were five bears, all whooping and squalling in Bacchanalian abandon.

Gallagher avers that while he watched they had a football game, a Piute war dance, a grand opera rehearsal and a Salome wind-up.

ERROR IS STRAIGHTENED

RECOUNT OF BALLOTS IN THE FOURTH WARD WAS MADE SATURDAY.

EVERYBODY IS NOW SATISFIED

Mistake Was an Excusable One and Was Participated in by Representatives of Both Parties—Names of New County Officials

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Under an order from Circuit Judge Hoffman, the judges and clerks of election for the Fourth ward Saturday opened the ballot boxes of that ward and in the presence of County Clerk Imhoff recounted the ballots cast on November 3 in an endeavor to ascertain the cause of the discrepancy in the number of votes cast and the number received by some of the candidates on district and county ticket.

After working all day it was found that a correct count tallied with the vote cast and that approximately 120 more ballots had, on the first count, been credited to the candidates than had been voted.

The error was the fault of both the demicratic and republican judges and arose from having picked up a bunch of ballots that had been counted once and counting them again. It was a mistake that could easily have happened and no one interested thought for a moment that there was any intention of fraud, as was alleged in a dispatch in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat of November 5.

The democratic candidates and their friends fro mthe first discovery of the error were anxious for a recount, and after two days of endeavor had the matter settled to the satisfaction of all.

The recount does not change the situation in the slightest as far as the question of who is elected is concerned, but gives the republican offiicers-elect a slightly larger majority and the democrats lesser ones.

It was thought at one time that the loss of 120 votes might endanger Congressman's Hamlin's chances for re-election, but in a talk with Mr. Hamlin over the long distance telephone last night, the Democrat-Sentinel was informed that he was safe even with that loss. Mr. Hamlin estimates his majority, less the 120 votes, at about 700.

Following are the county officials-elect:

George W. Anamosa republican, representative.

Charles W. Knox, republican, judge Eastern district.

Andrew L. Haggard, democrat, judge Western district.

Harvey D. Dow, republican, prosecuting attorney.

Mel T. Henderson, democrat, sheriff.

Phillip Sullivan, republican, assessor.

Lon V. Ware, democrat, treasurer.

Harry O. Moss, republican, surveyor.

H. R. Camp, democrat, public administrator.

Frank R. Morley, republican, coroner.

Louis H. Kahrs, republican, constable.

The county court remains democratic by reason of the presiding judge, C. W. McAninch, holding over.

GRANT BUTCHER IN AN UNENVIABLE ROLE AT SPOKANE, WASHINGTON.

WIFE, CHILDREN, MOTHER, SISTER

Are Left to Get Back to Missouri by the Sale of Their Household Effects—Took $6,000 of His Wife's Money.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Mrs. Mollie B. Petty, of 1802 South Harrison avenue, received a letter Saturday from her son, Emmett Petty, who is at Spokane, Wash., stating that Grant B. Butcher, formerly owner of the cash grocery, at Sixteenth street and Missouri avenue, this city, had deserted his wife, their four children, his mother and sister, and had left for parts unknown.

At the time he left, according to Mr. Petty's letter, Butcher had $6,000, which he fraudulently obtained from his wife. The supposition is that he was met by a former married lady of this city, with whom he is alleged to have had friendly relations while the two were in Sedalia.

Buecher is about 45 years of age and had successfully conducted a grocery business in this city. Less than two months ago he disposed of his business, house and lot and other personal belongings, and about a month later, accompanied by his family, left for Spokane, Wash., where he said he intended making his future home. Besides his wife and four children, he was accompanied by his mother and his sister, who had been making their home with him.

According to Mr. Petty's letter Mr. Petty received a letter, mailed on a train, from Butcher, requesting him (Mr. Petty) to sell all the belongings of the Butcher family at Spokane and with the funds derived from the same to provide for bringing his family back to Pettis county.

From this request, Mr. Petty learned of Butcher's actions and he at once notified his mother in this city. Mr. Petty accompanied the car of household goods and furniture of Butcher from this city to Spokane.

Butcher's scheme to get his wife's money was shrewd. All of their property and earthly belongings were in Mrs. Butcher's name, and under the pretense of paying off his debts, which he said he did not know the exact amount of, Butcher persuaded his wife to sign her name to a blank check, and after he had learned the aggregate amount of his indebtedness he would fill in the required amount.

Instead he drew from the bank the entire $6,000 and disappeared.

Affects 6,000 Operatives.

Taunton, Mass., Nov. 7.—The Cohannet, Nemasket and Canoe river mills of the New England Cotton Yarn company here will go on full time basis next week, together with the company's mills in Fall River and New Bedford. All the mills of the concern have been on short time. The company employs 6,000 operatives.

WIFE AND CHILD KILLED

DOUBLE MURDER IS FOLLOWED BY SUICIDE IN EAST PITTSBURG, PA.

WIFE'S THROAT CUT EAR TO EAR

Six-Year-Old Adopted Daughter's Head Almost Severed With Razor—Bodies Found by the Husband and Father.

East Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 7.—His wife lying on a bed, her throat cut from ear to ear; his 6-year-old adopted daughter on the floor near by with her head almost severed; a razor dripping with blood, on the bed beside the dead woman, was the ghastly sight which confronted William Casey when he returned to his home in Fifth avenue, East McKeesport, early today.

The scene of the tragedy was a room occupied by George Hartzell, Casey's son-in-law, whose wife was mysteriously killed a year ago and who had been boarding recently at the Casey home.

Hartzell was missing when the murder was discovered, but forty-five minutes later he was found unconscious in a trunk near the bodies, a chloroform bottle at his nostrils, and died in a short time.

Circumstances point to Hartzell as the murderer and suicide. He was under suspicion when his wife was found dead, but for lack of evidence was discharged.

MAY NOW SUE HUSBAND

BRYAN'S DAUGHTER IS EXPECTED TO ASK FOR A SEPARATION.

SHE WAS MARRIED TO AN ARTIST

Has Delayed Action for Fear of Affecting Father's Chances for President—The Charge Non-Support and Cruelty.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Now that the election is past and there is no chance that the airing of her domestic unhappiness might have a harmful effect upon the political future of her father, Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt is peparing to bring suit for absolute divorce from her artist husband, William Homer Leavitt.

This information was given out by an intimate friend of Mrs. Leavitt in Chicago. She says the suit will be filed in Denver, where the Leavitts had a home—purchased for them by William J. Bryan—and where they last lived together.

Leavitt is now in Paris, continuing his art studies. The two children, Ruth Leavitt, 5 years old, and William Bryan Leavitt, 3 years old, are with their mother. Officially they still live in Denver, but they spend much of their time in Lincoln, and the children had the time of their lives at Fairview during the campaign.

Mrs. Leavitt's romance is as interesting as it proved unfortunate. It ended long ago, but the forms were permitted to continue for fear that their open severance might react upon Mr. Bryan. Mrs. Leavitt was anxious to sue for a divorce before the national convention in Denver.

But now that restraint is gone it is said that Mrs. Leavitt intends to have her liberty as soon as the courts will give it to her. No opposition is expected from the artist. When his wife told him in Denver that he was "simply impossible," and that she "simply couldn't endure him another day," it is said that they agreed that the end had come.

When the action is begun the charges will be non-support, mental cruelty and incompatibility of temperament. Mrs. Leavitt will ask for the custody of the children.

Just six years ago William Homer Leavitt, then about 29 years old, good looking and suave, rang the bell at Fairview. He had been engaged to paint Mr. Bryan's portrait.

Ruth Bryan, a girl of 17 years, opened the door. She fell in love with Leavitt at the first glimpse, and the poor artist—he was so poor that he had to get credit from the street car conductors—was not slow to note the fact.

Being a girl after her father's own mold, Miss Bryan announced that if she were not permitted to marry Leavitt she would elope with him and dispense with the parental sanction.

Mrs. Bryan refused to attend the wedding. Her husband was a reluctant witness. He expected the worst, but he did everything he could to ward it off.

SENATOR STONE GOES TO ST. LOUIS

Will Not Try to Explain the Result in the State Until After He Has Talked With Some of the Party Leaders.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 7.—Senator William J. Stone arrived in St. Louis last night from Jefferson City and is at the Planters.

He is pleased with the confidence the people of Missouri showed in him by giving him the senatirial nomination over Governor Folk, but he regrets keenly the defeat of the democratic national, state and city tickets and cannot understand why this happened.

"The surprise of surprises is that the state of Missouri did not go for Bryan," he said. "I was cetain he would carry it with a big majority.

"I want to ascertain the exact situation, and I know of no better way than to talk with the big men of the party in St. Louis and Kansas City.

"I will spend Saturday in St. Louis and will find out all I can in explanation of the defeat of the national and state tickets.

"Saturday night I go to Kansas City on a similar quest.

"I do not believe tha Bryan is responsible for the big vote given to Taft, but I am not prepared to say what the cause of the defeat was. That's what I am trying to find out.

"Governor Folk" has accomplished some good things while in office," he added.

AMBASSADOR TO AMERICA

Count Johann Heinrich Von Bernstorff Is Slated.

Berlin, Nov. 7.—Count Johann Heinrich Von Bernstorff, who recently has represented the German government in Egypt, has been selected by Emperor William to succeed the late Baron Speck Von Sternberg as ambassador to America.

Countess Von Bernstorff is a daughter of Edward Luckemeyer, of New York.

The appointment is not yet made formally, but it is understood the official announcement will be given out in two or three days.

Second Vice President of the Union Pacific Railway.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 7.—William D. Cornish, of New York, second vice president of the Union Pacific Railroad company and a director in many other corporations, was found dead in his bed at the Auditorium Annex in this city today. Death apparently was due to heart disease.

GRAND JURY ADJOURNED

INQUISITORIAL BODY CALLED BY JUDGE HOFFMAN FINISHED ITS LABORS.

IT RETURNED FOUR INDICTMENTS

Report Recommended That County Build a New Jail Which Will Be More in Keeping With Needs of Present Conditions.

After a four days' session the grand jury of Pettis county, charged by Judge Hoffman last Monday, concluded its work at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Four indictments were returned by that body, but until the persons indicted are apprehended, their names will not be made bublic.

The jury's report in full follows:

To the Honorable Circuit Court of Pettis County, Missouri: We, the grand jury, empaneled for the November term, 1908, of the criminal court of Pettis county, Missouri, beg leave to report as follows:

Indictments.

The report upon our investigation of crimes committed in our county is embodied in the indictments returned herewith.

County Jail.

We have thoroughly inspected and examined the county jail, and recommend for that building:

First, the furnishing of new cots and bedding.

Second, a cell properly padded for violent insane persons should be built in some convenient part of the jail. There is now no place in this county to confine insane persons, except in the cells of the present jail, where they must be thrown in close contact with criminals, and to a certain extent the prisoners in the jail must be depended upon to wait upon and care for insane persons confined in the jail. If a proper place for the confinement of insane persons was built in the jail, they could have whatever attention they require either from those interested in them by family ties or those who may re employed to nurse and care for them, or by the officers of the county.

Third, the prison for males and females should be separated by a solid wall. It would be difficult to accomplish this with our present jail; since we are to recommend the building of a new jail we leave that to be cared for in the plans for that building, if our recommendation should be adopted.

Fourth, our present jail is old, unsafe and an insecure place for the confinement of prisoners, many of whom are reckless and some of whom are dangerous and desperate men. The jail is inadequate, does not meet the needs of Pettis county in that respect; is located almost in the business heart of the city, and is upon property adjoining one of the largest hotels in the city. The prisoners are at times boisterous to such a degree that guests at the hotel and those employed in neighboring buildings are disturbed. The street upon which the jail is located is rapidly building up and the buildings are being occupied by business men and business interests. The property is far more valuable now than it has ever been before and is probably as valuable now as it will be at any time in the near future. It could possibly be sold at this time for enough to buy suitable ground for the erection of a new jail and go far towards paying the cost of the erection of a new jail and workhouse combined in some part of the city more remote from the business houses and in a better location for such building.

We respectfully recommend that a new jail and workhouse be built to meet the needs of a county growing as Pettis county is growing, to be in keeping with her other improvements and in such location as would meet the objections we have made to the location of the present jail. And in order that this may be carried out we recommend that the county court take such steps as may be necessary to provide for the construction of such a new jail and workhouse and submit the same to a vote of the people of Pettis county.

LOSERS BESIEGE CLOSED OFFICE

Went After the Garments They Had Won, but Found Doors Locked, and the Police Were at Once Notified.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 7.—Plugging a board at from 1 cent to 75 cents, with the chance of making a hole that would entitle the lucky one to a $25 suit of clothes was the scheme by which the Wagoner Tailoring Co., with offices in the Chemical building, defrauded several hundred workmen for the Terminal Railroad Co., the United Railways, the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co., the Busch Glass Works, the Mountain Railroad Co., and many other large concerns.

It is estimated that the Wagoner Tailoring Co. took in between $20,000 and $25,000 before it shut up shop last Saturday, leaving many clamoring at its locked door for the suits of clothes they had won.

Agents for the Wagoner Tailoring Co. called at all the big plants where many men are employed and left boards in which holes had been bored and covered with paper. Behind the paper in each hole was the amount the player was to pay for his chance. They ran from 1 cent to 75 cents, and one hole contained a prize number which drew a suit of clothes worth $25. The company realized $28.50 from each board.

In each establishment where the boards were left three or four men drew suits. They were instructed to go to the office of the company last Saturday and be measured for their clothes.

When they got to the office the door was locked and all that remained of the Wagoner Tailoring Co. were a few pieces of cheap furniture. Since then the office has been invaded by angry workmen looking for the manager of the scheme, and when they could not find him they notified the police.

About a week before the concern closed its place the police investigated it. They learned that the company was doing a lottery business, but did not discover the extent of it. The manager of the company promised to discontinue the business and was left alone.

Fred Weininger, who said he represented the company at that time, called at the law office of Judge B. R. Brewer and Attorney Carlisle H. Callon and sought to retain them to defend the company in case of the arrest of any of the agents of the company. After he had explained the business the retainer was refused on the ground that the business was fraudulent and they would have no defense in any court.

At the office of the Chemical building S. J. Stevens, assistant manager, said that October 14 a man who said he was the owner of a tailoring business in Cincinnati wanted to open a branch office in St. Louis. He rented the rooms until November 15. He left last Saturday wthout giving notice that he was going to relinquish his office, and has not been back.

It is said that Weininger worked the same scheme in Chicago, New York, Buffalo and Cincinnati.

THE LAST SAD RITES

Funeral of Mrs. McKenzie Was Held Saturday—Friends Pay Tribute.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

The last sad rites over the remains of Mrs. Katie McKenzie, wife of A. W. McKenzie, who died from a complication of diseases at her home Friday afternoon, were conducted by Rev. Dudley M Claggett, pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian church, at the family residence, 510 South Quincy avenue, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

As a tribute to the memory of the departed hundreds of sorrowing relatives and friends assembled at the residence to pay a last homage of respect, while the many beautiful floral offerings attested slightly the esteem in which deceased had been held.

Large chrysanthemums of yellow and white colors, roses and other floral offerings rested on the casket and completely covered it. Rev. Clagett's remarks were brief, but appropriate, and caused tears to dim the eyes of many.

Mrs. Harvey MacGugin was in charge of the music, being assisted by Mrs. W. D. Steele and Mrs. C. H. Bard. "Abide With Me," "Lead Kindly Light," and "Nearer My God to Thee" were the selections rendered.

The following served as pallbearers: Judge D. E. Kennedy, Major J. L. Babcock, E. R. Smith, W. M. Johns, T. H. Johnson and R. C. Combs.

Burial was made in Crown Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Shook Seeks Divorce.

Alleging general mistreatment, Dora Shook, through Attorneys Steele and O'Bannon, Saturday instituted suit in circuit court for divorce from M. E. Shook. She also prays for the custody of their six minor children and alimony from defendant's estate of $1,200. They were married in Sedalia on November 9, 1888, and lived together until October 7, 1908.

CHICAGO NEWS LETTER

ELECTION RETURNS COST THE LAKESIDE CITY $250,000 THIS YEAR.

SOUR MILK AND BROWN BREAD DIET

This Is Newest Substitute for the Fountain of Youth—Work Has Begun Upon New $20,000,000 Station.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Election day cost the city of Chicago this year a quarter million dollars. The mere distribution of paraphernalia kept 70 teams busy for a week, there being 340 tons of it. Beside the 2,600 ballot boxes there were the election booths, 80,000 pounds of official ballots and all the incidentals, except cigars, which equip a polling place complete.

In Chicago the ballots supplied would have made a pile 300 feet higher than the tallest building. As they were over two feet square the string of them would have reached from the Masonic Temple to the dog-pound in Hutchinson. Kas., according to the nimble statistics of Secretary I. N. Powell, of the Board of Election commissioners.

The election judges and clerks numbered 6,300 and their vouchers for service totaled to $142,000. The closing of the 7,600 saloons during the day meant a matter of $20,000 to their proprietors and the public service during the day cost over $10,000. No figures have been offered by an enterprising press as to how long voters of the city would have been in passing a given point in case they had marched in Indian file to headquarters to hear the returns announced. The voters outnumbered the entire population of Illinois in 1850, the year that Millard Fillmore defeated Daniel Webster for president

Sour milk and brown bread diet, that is the newest substitute for the fountain of eternal youth that Ponce de Leon hunted, that now is to be tried out on the Chicago women. This diet is laid at the door of Metchinkoff, the Russian scientist, and, like other fad diets, is declared the real thing in defying the ravages of Father Time and in rejuvenating the aged.

Also like other fads a scientific explanation accompanies every recommendation of it For it seems that the bacillus Acide Lactis is the miracle worker, being able to knock out the bacilli that destroy the human body.

"We may live to any age now," say the enthusiastic admirers of life and works of Acide Lactis. New York got first word of him and now some 300 persons are absorbing sour milk and sour bread and trying to like it, meanwhile watching anxiously to see the crows feet and wrinkles go, assured they will because it is said, men and women of 80 and even more have grown as spry and lively as the sour milk bug itself.

One man not less than 90 years old who adopted sour milk and brown bread either because he had to or had caught the fad, publicly danced a sailor's hornpipe, which, as some one remarked, is going some at 90. Of course, the scoffers, including those who have had the cold water fad, the barefoot fad and others, say that sour milk won't do, no sir, it lacks carbohydrates. The diet however is simple, very, and all faddists clamor for simplicity.

Work began upon Chicago's new $20,000,000 railway station the next day after the Northwestern road let the big contract. Trainloads of material made their appearance as by magic. It is expected that by January, 1910, trains will run into the new station, which will be big enough to accommodate 250,000 people a day, the second largest in the United States.

The train shed is to cover six acres, the basement of the main building over two acres, ten acres of floor space are to be provided for the public. The buying and tearing down of brick and steel buildings covering four blocks of ground has already meant an expense of millions of dollars. In planning it the architects embodied so many features unique in railway stations that it will bear little resemblance to the primitive frame "depot" of old scarred benches, cracked cannon stove and dingy walls.

There will be ticket offices and waiting rooms, but the waiting rooms will include rest rooms, tea rooms and emergency rooms and baths for women, and barber shops and baths for men, and dining rooms. Instead of splintered plank floors, such as were laid in Chicago's pioneer depot, all floors will be of marble, and the walls will be marble all around a main waiting room 100 by 200 feet and 80 feet high.

The trainshed is built for the travel of the future, being 318 feet long, with 16 tracks and big enough for the handling of 1,500 trains daily—as many trains as arrive and depart now at Chicago's six railway stations—during the number, 1584, there being daily 502 from the Illinois Central station, 417 from the Northwestern's, 275 from the Union, 233 from the La Salle street, 115 from the Polk street and 42 from the Grand Central station.

Many disappointed candidates will echo the warning, "Stay out of politics," the solemn advice to young men in general given by Alderman John Coughlin, of "oe Foist"—"Bathhouse John," of political notoriety—in addressing the children of a Catholic parish at a church fair. He has been in politics in a practical way so long he ought to know.

"Now this is what I want you kids to remember: Stay out of politics," he said. "Be good citizens; get a business of your own; and if you can't do that, work for someone who has a good business. Remember, that honest labor and having a happy home and a family is better than holding an office that is always a disappointment to you. Remember what I say. I know what I'm talking about."

Was he dashing ambitious hopes of youth to succeed him? He was emphatic about the personal cost of practical politics. "No, boys," he added, "don't go into politics; if you do you'll be sorry. This is straight. Take my advice and you'll never run for office. If you should lose—well, that ain't so bad—for you might quit then. But if you win it's all off. You don't even own yourself any more. You've sold yourself to the public. You're everybody's servant. You can't enjoy the joys of private life like you could if you had lost. Running for office looks good, but if you win the fruit turns to gall and ashes, as the poet says."

Coughlin is a poet himself, having done, he says, the lyric, "Dear Midnight of Love."

HAD FIVE DERAILMENTS

Katy Had That Number of Accidents on Sedalia Division Saturday.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Five derailments occurred on the Sedalia division of the M., K. & T. Saturday, necessitating the dispatching of Chief Dispatcher O. F. Fowler to one scene to clear up the debris, and other officials in other localities to help gather up the cars.

A broken flange on a tank car on second No. 401, in charge of Conductor Wilson, resulted in four loaded cars being derailed at the north switch at Pleasant Green at 11:55 o'clock Saturday forenoon.

No one was injured. The wrecking crew was sent from Sedalia and cleared the wreck in six hours, delaying passenger train No. 1 about an hour and one-half.

At a point two miles south of Nevada at 4:40 o'clock Saturday afternoon, eight loaded cars and two empty cars on first No. 404, in charge of Conductor Norton, with Engineer Weer in the cab of engine No. 478, were derailed, due to a broken flange on a coal car.

The wrecking crew was sent from Parsons, arriving on the scene after the midnight hour. The track was cleared at 6 o'clock this morning. An effort was made to borrow the wrecking outfit of the Missouri Pacific and the 'Frisco railways, but both were in use.

A bad order car on a High line train, being brought to Sedalia, jumped the track three consecutive times while en route here Saturday, entailing no other damage than a delay to traffic Walked Off the Gridiron.

On account of what they term a "rotten" decision by the referee the Sedalia High school football team walked off the gridiron in the last half of the game with the High school team of Holden on the latter's grounds Saturday afternoon, when the score was 17 to 6 in Holden's favor, losing the game. Slugging, rank decisions by the referee, foul tackling and general indignities on the part of the Holden team, according to the Sedalia team, caused the home boys to throw up the game.

SWEET SPRINGS NEWS

HAPPENINGS IN THE CITY OF HEALTH DURING WEEK JUST PASSED.

A NUMBER OF SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

George W. Tuthill, a Former Resident of Sedalia, Died at the Soldiers' Home at Leavenworth November 3.

Special to Democrat-Sentinel.

Sweet Springs, Mo., Nov. 7.

Mr. N. M. Cooper has returned from a business trip through Texas.

Mrs. William Binkley left Friday for a three weeks' visit in Sapulpa, Ok., with Mrs. Rodney Kelley.

Misses Nelle Smith and Dorothy Simrall spent Saturday in Sedalia.

Mr. Roy Barnes and wife have returned to their home in Granville, N. D., after an extended visit here.

Mrs. B. F. Swaggard, of Kansas City, was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Elliott, last week.

Mrs. J. H. McGuire spent a part of the week with relatives in Kansas City.

Miss Daisy Smith is at home after a two weeks' visit with Mrs. Arthur Bush in Hannibal.

Mr. Ed Beatty is in North Dakota on business connected with his farm there.

Mrs. F. H. Tisdale returned Thursday night from Kansas City, where she witnessed David Warfield's presentation of "The Music Master" at the Shubert theater.

Miss Carrie Daniel has returned to her home in Sedalia after a short visit at the country home of her brother, Mr. G. L. Daniel.

Mr. Marvin Davis and wife went to Kansas City Wednesday morning, Mr. Davis to buy stock cattle and Mrs. Davis to visit friends.

Mrs. E. J. Pelot, of Pueblo, Colo., is here for a short visit before going to Columbia to visit Mrs. A. E. Huston. Mrs. Pelot will return to Pueblo about Thanksgiving

Rev. Harry Shiffler returned to his home in Fulton Wednesday, after a week spent here with his brother, Rev. S. F. Shiffler.

Mrs. P. L. Deweese and daughter, of Sedalia, are guests of Mrs. Dollie Simrall and family.

Mr. E. L. Spurgeon and wife returned Sunday from a visit with friends in Lexington and Kansas City.

Mrs. J. C. Diggs and baby returned Tuesday night from Kansas City, where they were the guests of friends for a week.

Miss T. C. Andrew came down from Kansas City Saturday night to spend Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Andrew.

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Jarvis went to Kansas City Wednesday morning for a brief visit.

Mrs. C. E. Ferguson has as guests Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Greening, of Webb City. Mrs. Greening, as Miss Augustine Marrah, had many warm friends here. After leaving here, Dr. and Mrs. Greening will go to Hannibal to visit relatives before returning home.

Arrangements were made by the citizens for receiving the election returns by telegraph and telephone. The bulletins were posted in the W. T. Lackey building. Another party received them in the store of Sweet Springs' popular druggist, F. H. Tisdale.

Miss Odie Perry will go to Appleton City next week for a month's visit with Mrs. J. B. Wright and Miss Ruby Wright.

Mrs. T. C. Andrew and Waldo Andrew were in Sedalia Thursday for the day.

Mr. J. J. Smith returned Monday night from Searchlight, Nev., to cast his vote here Tuesday.

The piano pupils of Miss Eva Frances Tisdale, assisted by Miss Myrtle Smith, soprano, and Mr. Waldo Andrew, violinist, will give a recital in the Methodist church Tuesday evening, November 17th. A small admission fee will be charged, the proceeds to go toward establishing a fund for a new church organ.

Mr. W. T. Lackey, of Mt. Leonard, will put a moving picture show in the store building which he recently purchased from Mr. C. K. Smith.

Messrs. S. K. Ray and W. F. Hedger, of Winfield, Kas.; W. T. Bellamy, of Parkville, and Clyde Shanks, of Columbia, returned to their homes here to vote Tuesday.

Mr. Roger Jones, of this city, a student at William Jewell college, Liberty, has been made choir director in the Christian church in Liberty. This is an unusual tribute to his musical ability, and is a well deserved compliment. The Liberty Christian church is one of the most imposing in that section and contains a very fine pipe organ. The position of choir director is very desirable, both for the experience and the salary which accompanies it.

Mr. B. F. Johnson, wife and son, of Englewood, Kas., are here, guests of Mr. Robert Rhodes and family. Mrs. Johnson is in poor health and while here will undergo an operation, with Drs. Jarvis, Owens and Ringen as attending physicians.

The heating plant is being installed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wall, in the southern part of the city, and the house will soon be ready for occupancy. When complete, it will be one of the prettiest and most modern houses in the city.

One of the most elaborate functions in Sweet Springs' social history was given at the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hicklin Hallowe'en afternoon, to the Priscilla club, of which the hostess is a member, and about thirty other guests. The home in which this charming hostess is such an important factor is one of the most commodious and up-to-date residences to be found anywhere, and is a monument to good taste in every detail. They have their own light plant, steam heat, and every convenience that good taste and money could suggest Once inside its walls one could imagine they were in the heart of a great city instead of in the home of one of Saline's most prominent farmers. The house was darkened and each of the ten rooms thrown open to the guests was decorated in keping with the day. All present were in regulation Hallowe'en attire, and before descending to the parlors, donned masks furnished by the hostess. Upon entering the reception hall, the guests were startled to see a ghostly sentinel stationed by a ladder across the staircase in such a manner that every one was compelled to go under it in ascending or descending. The sentinel informed them that they must whistle every time they had occasion to go under this ladder, otherwise ill luck would follow them. Many ludicrous attempts were made to comply with this injunction. One of the spookiest places imaginable was the one the hostess designated as the spirit room. Each guest was solemnly ushered into this room alone, the only light furnished being from the weird jack-o'-lanterns. Here their fortunes were told by Miss Mabel Douglass, attired as a spirit. In another room was a representation of an old well, but its moss covered bucket brought forth sweet cider, with which was served ginger cookies. After the masks were removed the guests were given pencil and paper and told to draw the picture of a witch. There were some embryo artists among the assembled company, as was proven by the drawings submitted. By popular vote Miss Myrtle Smith was declared the prize winner and received a little brown jug of cider. In the beautifully appointed dining room, Mrs. Hicklin, with the assistance of Mrs. C. L. Jones, served an elaborate me-

TWO ST. LOUIS WIDOWS ON THE LOOKOUT FOR A MAN WHO HAD "DUPED" THEM.

MARRIED ONE; SHOOK THE OTHER

Waited at the Union Station in the Mound City for Their Admirer, But He Wisely Failed to Materialize.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 7.—Mrs. Minnie Allen, of 1444 Warren street, and Mrs. Catherine Baughman, of 625 Chestnut street, both middle aged widows, were waiting at the Union station Friday to intercept John Madison, 51 years old, if he attempted to leave the city.

Mrs. Allen wants to know whether the ceremony performed Wednesday by a stranger is a genuine wedding, and if not, she will demand the return of $400 and a diamond ring she says Madson took from her. Mrs. Baughman will demand reparation for her slighted affections and reimbursement to the extent of $174.

Madson could not be found by the police at 2710 Washington avenue, his rooming place, and although the two women joined in the search for him, he is still missing.

"I answered a matrimonial advertisement inserted by Madson in the Post-Dispatch," said Mrs. Allen. "I was looking for affection and a comfortable home. Wednesday he brought a marriage license and a stranger to my home, and we went through what he said was a marriage ceremony. Then I gave him $400 and a diamond ring. I have not seen him since."

"I thought he was wealthy," said Mrs. Baughman, "when I met him after answering his matrimonial advertisement in the Post-Dispatch. He said he owned 472 acres of land in California, and I thought he would be a good match, although I did not love him. He only got $174 from me, but I'd like to talk to him a few moments."

Madson made a fatal mistake, according to the women, when he forgot which one he had married Wednesday. He wrote both of them letters and to be sure he was right, he addressed each woman as "My Dear Wife."

Your Neighbors Can Tell You

No doubt, if you yourself don't know, of many marvelous cures of Stomach, Liver, Blood and Skin affections that have been made by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, for it has a most successful record of over 40 years.

These CURES embrace also many bad cases of Weak Lungs, lingering Coughs, Bronchial, Throat and Lung affections, some of which, no doubt, would have run into Consumption, had they been neglected or badly treated. William W. Williams and Walter M. Oestreicher Played a Game of Billiards in New York to Settle a Bet.

New York, Nov. 7.—Something new in freak bets was introduced in Brooklyn when William W. Williams and Walter M. Oestreicher wagered their trousers on the result of a billiard match.

The bet, made in the heat of an argument over their ability as cue wielders, was carried out, much to the distress of Mr. Oestreicher, who, after losing the game and his trousers and being compelled to hide himself beneath the friendly folds of a pool table cover, learned that his wife, to whom a messenger had been dispatched for aid, had sent in lieu of another pair of trousers a daintily embroidered smoking jacket.

y Orders for Supplies.

aha Bee of Saturday print- wing: roads of the United States have released orders for equipment and supplies aggregating $240,000,000 since election day. These orders had been placed prior to November 3, contingent on the outcome of the campaign.

"This statement was made by First Vice President Brown, of the New York Central lines, at Clarinda, Ia., the day after election.

"Mr. Brown was visiting in Clarinda, which is his old home. He said that the day after election the allied lines forming his system released $31,000,000 of these orders, and that he had sent out over 100 telegrams to manufacturers releasing orders for railroad supplies.

The Court Interfered.

Judges Grosscup, Seaman and Baker in the United States circuit court in Chicago granted a temporary injunction restraining the interstate commerce commission from carrying into effect its order in what is known as the Missouri river rate case.

The court did not go into the merits of the law in the case, but stated that the temporary order would issue, inasmuch as no injustice would be done by allowing the old rate to continue until the matter is finally adjudicated.

Judge Grosscup suggested that the lawyers endeavor to agree on a statement of facts which could be presented without loss of time to the supreme court.

A Washington dispatch of the 6th says: "Considerable surprise was expressed by officials of the interstate commerce commission today on receipt of the information that the United States circuit court at Chicago had granted even a temporary injunction in what is known as the Missouri rate case.

"The order of the commission in the case was that the rates on first-class freight from Mississippi river crossings to Kansas City and Missouri river points should be reduced 9 cents per 100 pounds, thus making that rate 51 cents, instead of 60 cents per 100 pounds. Proportional reductions also were made on second, third, fourth and fifth-classes of freight between the same points.

"This order the commission considered to be entirely just to the transportation lines, inasmuch as the rates on the same classes of freight shipped from Atlantic seaboard points through Missouri river crossings to Minneapolis and other northwestern points were even lower than those fixed by the commission to Kansas City and Missouri river points.

"In the final adjudication of the case the commission will endeavor to demonstrate that its position as stated in its order was entirely fair and just to the railways."

LIFE SECRET IS REVEALED

A MAN ON TRIAL FOR SHOOTING WIFE CONFESSED TO A CHANGE OF NAME.

GIVEN 10 YEARS IN PENITENTIARY

Both the Woman and Her Spouse Wept as the Aged Spouse Made His Confession When Tried at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 7.—On trial for shooting his wife three times last June in an attempt to slay her, Guy Hadley, a white haired man, 60 years old, broke down on the witness stand in the superior court and confessed that his real name was Elias Hamlet, and that prominent people in Indiana by the name of Hadley were relatives of his.

He changed his name, assuming that of his mother, fifteen years ago, following the death of him first wife.

He was superintendent of the Woodsmen Sovereign Wheel works of Indianapolis twenty-four years ago, he testified, but he lost his position because of gambling.

He drifted over the country as a gambler for many years, marrying his second wife several years ago.

Hadley attempted to kill himself, but failed, at the time he shot his second wife. He said he did not know why he tried to kill her, as he had no reason for it.

Both Hadley and his wife wept throughout the former's recital of his life's story. The old man said he had spent the night on his knees imploring for courage to make this confession.

Ten years in the penitentiary is the penalty Hadley will pay for his crime.

The jury was out but fifteen minutes.

WAS GUEST OF HONOR

Miss Anna Geigel, Who Weds Tuesday, Charmingly Entertained.

Miss Anna Geigel, whose marriage to S. R. Smith occurs Tuesday morning, was the guest of honor at a delightful and thoroughly enjoyable linen shower, given at the home of Miss Bess Brinton, Eleventh and Ingrave avenue, Saturday night.

Miss Brinton and Misses Elizabeth Snell, Myrtle Higgins and Addie Everett were the hostesses, while the invited guests included young lady friends of the bride-to-be.

The home was prettily decorated in a color scheme of pink, in anticipation of the event, and a feature of the amusement was a poem guessing contest, dedicated to the bride, wherein proper monosyllables were inserted to fill the poem with rhymery.

Mrs. L. J. Pierce captured the first prize in the contest and was awarded a picture, while Miss Sadie Baker gaily walked off with the consolation prize.

Refreshments of salad, buttered sandwiches, pickles, potato chips, coffee and wafers were served. The guest of honor was the recipient of numerous and beautiful pieces of wearing apparel, each guest in attendance making a presentation.

Near the midnight hour the guests departed for their homes, voting the hostesses charming entertainers and wishing the bride-to-be the joy of a long and happy life of wedded bliss.

Those present were: Misses Lillian Ingman, Nell Connor, LaVerne McGinnis, Flossie Taylor, Maud Siler, Leta Huntsman, Jo Card, Anna Redding, Mabel Henderson, Hattie Riley, Elsie Neighbors, Sadie Baker, Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy, Mrs. L. J. Pierce, S. R. Smith and Misses Geigel, Brinton, Snell and Everett.

WIFE SHOT OFFICE GIRL

STENOGRAPHER EMPLOYED BY LUMBERMAN IS FATALLY WOUNDED.

THE HUSBAND WAS TOO ATTENTIVE

One of the Bullets Entered Girl's Head and Passed Through the Root of Tongue, Inflicting a Bad Injury.

Cape Girardeau, Mo., Nov. 7.—Mrs. Nettie Huggins, of Campbell, yesterday entered her husband's office and fired three shots from a revolver at Miss Victoria Maynard, a stenographer. Miss Maynard was probably fatally wounded. Mrs. Huggins walked away to her home.

Huggins is a lumberman and maintains an office, which was in charge of Miss Maynard most of the time.

Mrs. Huggins declares her husband was paying too much attention to the young woman.

One of the bullets entered Miss Maynard's head and passed through the root of the tongue, inflicting a terrible injury.

Another bullet entered the chest, while a third tore her hand.

Huggins was not present when the shooting took place.

mediate repair, and we recommend the employment of the best of architects by the county court to examine and report upon the repairs required and necessary and that the same be attended to promptly.

City Jail.

We visited the city jail. We found it in a fair condition in the manner in which it is kept. The sanitary condition could, however, be greatly improved upon.

County Home.

We visited the county home and are proud of the fact that we can speak of it in the highest terms of praise. It is cared for in a business-like manner, is well kept in every respect, and the unfortunate poor of this county have a home where they are made comfortable and are supplied with all the wants of life. Our recommendation is that the present methods of caring for the place be continued.

Workhouse Stockade for Prisoners in the County Jail.

We commend the action of the prosecuting attorney and the county court in the enforcement of the law by working on the county roads the prisoners in the county jail, and further recommend that the continuation of the work thus begun be extended to the roads in the extreme parts and throughout the county, where such work is needed and will be of the greatest benefit to the public and to that end recommend that the county court purchase movable cells if necessary to secure the safety of the prisoners when working in the remote parts of the county. While such work may be continued through a great portion of the year, yet during the winter months, and when the weather is so inclement and severe as to prevent such work, a proper place, such as a workhouse or stockade, should be provided for them to do whatever practical work they can do. In the erection or location of such stockade or workhouse, we recommend the county court select a place the least inconvenient for its practical working and the least detrimental to the property owners in proximity thereto.

We approve of the conviction of vagrants, peace disturbers, malicious trespassers and other violators of the statute law for offenses against public morals and decencies.

We beg to state that the books of the county treasurer and county collector and the records of the other county offices are kept in neat and business-like manner.

We desire to congratulate most heartily all of the officers of the county on the able and efficient manner in which they have conducted the business of the county.

We recommend that a copy of this report be delivered to the county court of Pettis county and the council of the city of Sedalia.

Respectfully submitted—M. V. Higgins, foreman of the grand jury. W. S. Scott, clerk of the grand jury.

Wife Tells Spouse She's Going to Be a Bloomer Girl.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 7.—The swish of the ball as it curved over the plate and the thud it gave forth as it nestled to the catcher's glove on the sturdy hand of Mrs. Theresa Beasley proved so alluring to her that she chose to give up her home, husband and all to act as catcher of a woman's nine of Bloomer Girls.

William Beasley, her husband, was granted a divorce by Judge Hallam in the Ramsey county district court.

Beasley testified that when he returned home from a short business trip his wife was gone.

She left a note simply stating she had joined a baseball company and liked the sport so much she would not be back, and if he so desired he might get a divorce.

GOVERNOR RETURNS GIFTS

Marshall, of Indiana, to Pay Own Campaign Expenses.

Columbus, Ind., Nov. 7.—At the beginning of the campaign Thomas R. Marshall, governor-elect of Indiana, made the statement that he would accept no contributions in financing his political contest.

In spite of this, letters containing money were frequently received, the total amount being about $3,000.

Mr. Marshall has accepted none of this money, and he is now engaged in returning the contributions.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

SPELL BINDER HAS GONE

WITH CLOSE OF THE POLLS ON NOVEMBER 3 HIS VOCATION VANISHED.

WILL REST UNTIL NEXT CAMPAIGN

Now Comes the Horse Show at Madison Square Garden—The Hains Case May Equal That of the Notorious Thaws.

BY GLENN GUERNSEY.

New York, Nov. 7.—No longer arises the incense of the campaign "Havanas" and booze; no longer do newspapers bore us with yards of political news; the spellbinder has lapsed into silence; the shouters are haggard and worn; and out of a medley of madness a magical peace has been born.

And now that election is over and the country again has been saved, (though some are morose and disgruntled and some have won honors they craved) we shall rest—and, faith, but we need it—be calm for another four years, till the silver-tongued spouters of "issues" shall set us again by the ears.

Over Manhattan this glad November morning broods a peace that passes understanding. Staunch and trim, the tight little island nestles snugly in the arm of the Atlantic, healed south-sou'west. Down in the bay, where majestic ships go ever to and fro, the Statue of Liberty still rises, like a grim sentinel watching, ever watching, the billboard advertisement of Ueata Biscuit that rises majestically from the opposite shore.

To the westward the majestic Hudson rolls ever onward to the sea, while beyond the stately Palisades rear their weather-scarred heads. Lofty piles of brick and mortar pierce the ambient atmosphere. Down in the streets, humanity swarms like insects in an anthill. In the miles and miles of six-room apartments with all modern conveniences, women in kimonas lean from back windows and discuss the newest scandals. The roar of traffic, of hurrying people going from somewhere to somewhere else, beats on the ear-drums in a constant wave of sound. The elevated trains and the surface cars keep up a constant clangor.

And yet, and in spite of it all, there is a pervading peace and a wondrous calm in this metropolis. The election is over. The pavements no longer resound to the tramp, tramp, tramp of marching thousands, and the cheers of the admirers of Taft or Bryan or Debs no more awake the echoes. The welkin, which has had a steady job of ringing for the last six weeks, is taking a needed rest. I repeat, the election is over. The country is saved, God reigns and the government at 26 Broadway still lives.

The Horse Show.

Next week comes the horse show. Madison Square garden is today being transformed into a mammoth stable, where the equine aristocrats of the land will have their quarters during the six days beginning Monday. In the tanbark arena the thoroughbreds will show their graces, while in the boxes above the display of millinery and modiste's creations will be seen. The twenty-fourth National Horse show, like its predecessors, will mark the opening of the metropolitan social season, as well as being the most important exhibition of horseflesh in America.

The coming show will be really international in extent, since many foreign horses now in this country will be shown, and Canada will be represented by a large string. The number of classes has been reduced from 132 to 125, four competitions having been eliminated from the hackney division and three from the class of trotters.

As usual, the competiion for the Forest King Challenge cup has provoked the most interest. This trophy, valued at $850, was donated by W. H. Moore, and has taken the place formerly occupied by the Waldorf cup for gig horses, which was won finally two years ago by Forest King. J. W. Harriman's Nala was last year's winner, but the cup must be won three times to become the permanent property of the winner. Brilliant entries have also been made for the English Hackney Challenge cup and the National Horse Show Challenge cup for the best pair to a demi-mail or Stanhope phaeton.

Old "Bill," of the delivery wagon, will also have a chance to show himself off in the contest for the special cup offered by Alfred G. Vanderbilt. F. Ambrose Clark has offered a handsome special prize for thoroughbreds suitable to become hunters.

The Hains Case.

Anyone who imagined that the Thaw trial reached the limit of pornographic indecency, in its revelations of the indecency existing in our "best society," will probably have reason to change such an opinion when the details of the coming Hains trial begin to develop. In the maze of vile insinuations that hangs over the principals in this tragedy can be perceived an utter degeneracy that has had no parallel. If a tenth of the charges and countercharges that have been made are based on fact, the Hains trial will depict a condition of affairs that will shock the country. The vilest denizens of the Tenderloin would blush with shame if accused of habits and practices such as are attributed to some of those involved in this wretched drama of army life.

In the outlines of this tragedy there is nothing new. An outraged husband, maddened by the wrongs he had suffered, killed the man whom he believed guilty of leading his wife astray. Husbands have wreaked vengeance in this manner since marriage became an institution, and have often been upheld by their fellows. But Mrs. Hains alleges that the accusations are false, and that her confession was wrung from her by compulsion, and hints darkly that her husband was a degenerate of the most loathsome kind. There are stories afloat of wild midnight orgies, and drunken men and women engaged in shameful revels—all the abominations of vice existing in a society that poses as pious and respectable.

When the Hains trial is finished, we may look upon Harry Thaw as a gentleman and a scholar, Stanford White as guilty only of minor peccadilloes, and Evelyn Thaw a real "angel child,' unspotted of the world.

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, bitter or sour "risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

MR. TAFT AS PRESIDENT

WILL HAVE THE APPOINTMENT OF FOUR JUDGES OF SUPREME COURT.

REPUBLICANS MAJORITY IN HOUSE

All of the Big Four Standpatters Have Been Re-Elected, and "Uncle Joe" Will Soon Be Doing Things.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—Now that the election is over, those whose interest is largely in political or national affairs are busy estimating the result. With the election of Taft the presidential policy of the next four years is as well understood as it can be. It will, of course, be modified by events which no one can foresee, but Mr. Taft is pledged to carry out the policies and enterprises of the president. It will probably fall to his lot to appoint four justices of the supreme court, where he once aspired to sit, having on more than one occasion said he would prefer a supreme judgeship to the presidency. That he will be able to select suiable men for this highest and most potential court in the world is believed by even his political opponents.

But not only was a president elected on Tuesday last. It is now known that the republican majority in the house will not be more than fifty after the fourth of next March, which will be less than the present republican majority. At this writing it is not certain that the majority will be as much as fifty, but it can be said with certainty that it will be less than the present majority of fifty-seven.

All of the big four standpatters have been re-elected—Cannon, Tawney, Payne and Dalzell. Sereno Payne, of New York, the republican leader and chairman of the committee on ways and means, to whom matters relating to the revision of the tariff will be referred, has been re-elected by a good majority.

Not many presidents have assumed the duties of the office with as complete a preparation as President-elect Taft will have. He has been for years closely identified with government affairs here in Washington, in the Philippines, in Cuba, in Panama, and before he took up public affairs as a cabinet minister in Washington he was for a number of years a judge of the federal court. No president has ever traveled as extensively as he has.

In carrying out the Rooseveltian policies, he will necessarily insist on stronger military and naval establishments, with more guns and more ships, but it may be said with assurance that his election is in a sense a message of peace, and especially to Japan, where he is better known and more fully trusted than is President Roosevelt or any other American.

He has on more than one occasion visited Japan, and last fall spent a number of days in Tokio, when the mikado assigned him a palace with a retinue—not less than three hundred servants. This all has the appearance of very grand hospitality, but when it came to paying, or rather tipping, these servants when Mr. and Mrs. Taft and their son, Charlie Taft, left the hospitable walls it was, of course, as had been expected, found to be rather expensive visiting.

The recent more than friendly reception of our officers and men at Tokio will, it is thought, interfere with President Roosevelt's plans of securing large appropriations for more ships. With Japan in the friendliest state of mind, it will be hard to convince the more conservative senators and members that there is any urgent necessity for a great increase of our naval strength.

It may be just as well to wait awhile before we build more ships, for change in battleship construction is bewilderingly rapid, and by suspending work for a year or two we may save millions of dollars in expense. Ships that were built ten or twelve years ago are obsolete now, and ten or twelve years hence it is probable that the dreadnaughts we are building today will be found so much behind the times in strength, speed and general efficiencyq that it will be necessary to consign them to the junk heap.

Moreover, it is expected that the Panama canal will be completed in five or six years, and the ships of the future must be built with reference to the passage through this waterway, in order that our western as well as our eastern littoral may be protected.

Twelve new men will come to the United States senate as a result of the election on Tuesday. In as many as twenty-nine states there were elections of legislatures to choose senators for the term beginning on March 4.

It is expected that sixteen senators in these states will be re-elected and that new senators will be named in twelve more. There is a vacancy in Iowa caused by the death of Allison, the senior senator from that state. It is expected that the democrats will gain a senator in Oregon and that the republicans will gain one in Colorado. The senate will be republican by a large majority.

In Ohio the senate is republican, and it is expected that a new senator will be named in place of Foraker. Until recently it was supposed that Theodore E. Burton, the representative from Cleveland, would not be a candidate for the senate because it was understood he aspired to the more conspicuous and influential position of speaker of the house in place of Cannon.

But Speaker Cannon has unexpectedly been re-elected by so respectable a vote from his own district, and the house is again republican by such a positive majority, that it seems to augur that Uncle Joe will succeed himself as speaker of the house. In such event Mr. Burton will be the most conspicuous candidate for senator from Ohio to succeed Senator Foraker.

Shakespeare

POSSESSED the highest type of literary genius. It is more than two centuries since he ceased to write, but when shall he cease to be read?

He grasped all things. He saw into the profoundest depths of human nature. Thoughts illimitable were at the point of his pen.

His personages live and move as if they had just come from the hand of a creator.

He was not a man of one idea, but part of the intense life of flesh and blood that seethed around him. Exuberant vitality of mind, body and soul was his supreme characteristic.

Personally he was a handsome, well-shaped man, of a merry temperament, abounding in energy and overflowing with health.

His favorite eating place in London was the celebrated Falcon tavern. Here men like Ben Johnson, Marlowe, Ford, Fletcher, Herrick, Raleigh, etc., met him daily.

These literary giants of the heroic Elizabethan age were in the habit of discussing the burning topics of their time (which included the colonization of America) over foaming tankards of beer.

"Wife, bid these gentlemen welcome. Come, we have a hot venison pastry to dinner; come, gentlemen, I hope we shall drink down all unkindness." — Act 1, Scene 3, The Merry Wives of Windsor.

THE GIRL STOLE FOR HIM

Is Now Said Former Legislator Will Marry Her.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Elmer E. Cain, the former Wisconsin legislator, who was arrested Friday with Catherine Livingston with whom he had been living at a local hotel, has announced his willingness to marry the girl who begged and stole for his benefit.

Cain is believed to have been influenced to promise to marry the girl by a negro named Wright, who occupied a cell next to him. Cain has been thrown in contact with the negro, who had been arrested for a similar offense.

The couple will live with the girl's parents on a farm in Wisconsin.

BLOWS OUT BRAINS IN HOTEL

Widely Known Iron and Steel Man of Louisville, Ky.

New York, Nov. 9.—Walworth H. Tappan, well known in the iron and steel trade of the south and middle west, who lived in Louisville, Ky., blew out his brains last night in the washroom of the hotel Savoy, a Fifth avenue hostelry.

The report of the shot was heard throughout the lower part of the hotel, and created much excitement.

Despondency over a nervous affliction, which was constantly growing worse, is given by his wife as the cause of Tappan's act.

CASE OF H. CLAY PIERCE

HEAD OF THE WATERS-PIERCE OIL COMPANY GOES TO AUSTIN, TEXAS.

CHARGED WITH FALSE SWEARING

Grew Out of Alleged "Crooked" Statements Made by Him in Securing Readmission of Company to Lone Star State.

Hillsboro, Texas, Nov. 9.—H. Clay Pierce, the indicted oil magnate, arrived here from the north last night. He retired early and asked to be excused from seeing newspaper men.

This morning Pierce went to the court house and entered recognizance for his appearance November 2?, the day set for taking up the criminal docket.

The district judge and district attorney agreed on a $20,000 appearance bond for Pierce. All the signatures to the bond are those of citizens of Texas. They represent an aggregate wealth of $3,500,000.

The trial of the case was continued until the January term. Pierce returns to St. Louis tonight.

Alleged False Swearing.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 9.—Arrangements have been made today for the trial of H. Clay Pierce, head of the Waters-Pierce Oil Co., a Standard auxiliary, who was indicted in this county on the charge of false swearing.

The case will be called before Judge Calhoun, of the Fifty-third court, but it is believed that an effort will be made to get a change of venue.

Pierce's promise to voluntarily return to Texas for trial ended the efforts of the Texas authorities to secure his extradition from Massachusetts, where the oil magnate has a summer home.

Pierce says he has nothing to fear from the trial, and would have come earlier, but his health prevented his doing so.

The charge against Pierce grew out of alleged false statements made by him in securing the re-admission of the Waters-Pierce Oil Co. to Texas after it had been evicted as a criminal trust.

United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey was involved in the matter, and was alleged to have received large sums from Pierce in return for legal services in aiding the oil company to evade the provisions of the Texas anti-trust law.

Senator Bailey was subjected to a legislative investigation and exonerated, but the democratic split caused by the affair has not yet been entirely healed.

GAVE THEM CHEST OF SILVER

Forty-Six Pieces for a Couple to Be Married Tomorrow.

(From Monday's Daily.)

S. R. Smith, local manager of the Bell Telephone company, and Miss Anna Geigel, who are to be united in marriage at Sacred Heart church tomorrow morning, were handsomely remembered by the employes of the telephone company this morning, when J. H. Chaney, in behalf of the donors, presented the couple with a beautiful and expensive chest of silver, consisting of forty-six pieces, purchased at Bichsel Bros.' jewelry store.

The recipients, taken completely by surprise, were unable to express their appreciation at length for the kind remembrance, but thanked Mr. Chaney briefly and will ever hold the donors in kind remembrance.

To Break Will Leaving a Fortune to Common Law Wife.

New Orleans, Nov. 9.—A fight for a $50,000 estate left by a wealthy Tennessee planter to his common law wife, an ex-slave, was begun in the civil district court here Saturday, with the filing of a suit by Mrs. Jane B. Holt Barrett, wife of John A. Barrett, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., seeking to have the court declare null and void a will that was filed for probate by Frank Walker.

REMEMBERED THE CHURCHES

Wesley H. Graham Corroborates Story of Dr. Graham's Will.

(Monday's Daily)

Wesley H. Graham arrived from Excelsior Springs Sunday and will remain over until Tuesday. He corroborates the accuracy of an article in the The Word and Work, a Baptist publication of Kansas City, to the effect that the last will of his brother, Dr. W. N. Graham, made at Excelsior Springs on October 20, 1908, bequeathed $1,000 each to his two brothers, Wesley and John, and a like sum to the two minor children of his deceased half sister, Mrs. Minnie H. Black.

The residue of the estate, amounting to something like $21,000, is to be divided equally between the First Baptist church of Sedalia and the Baptist church of Excelsior Springs, the money to be invested by the trustees and the annual interest added to the regular salary of the pastor of the respective churches.

Dr. Charles F. Simmons, an old friend of the testator, is named as executor of the estate, to serve without bond.

An Indigestion Remedy Free

Many people who are otherwise healthy, suffer from indigestion, or dyspepsia. When you consider that the stomach and allied digestive organs are the most important organs of the body, it would seem that a disorder there is to be taken very seriously.

Dyspeptics cannot eat the things they like; food sours in the stomach; then chronic constipation begins, or, as is often the case, you have been constipated all along, and the stools are forced and irregular.

But there is no use letting indigestion go until it becomes chronic and undermines your health. It is good advice to suggest to you that you go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the wonderful cure for stomach, liver and bowel troubles. That is what C. Fowler, of Carson City, Mich., did and he is well today. Others who did the same and are cured are Ida A. Fortune, of Grand Junction, Tenn., B. F. Thompson, of Shenandoah, Ia., who actually considers that it saved his life. You can obtain a 50-cent or $1 bottle of the druggist, and, taken according to directions, it will probably be all you need. It is a liquid, acts gently, never gripes, and besides the laxative effect, contains exceptional tonic properties which tone the stomach, and that is what is especially needed in indigestion.

All sufferers from indigestion who have never used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can obtain a free test bottle by writing the doctor. It will be sent direct to your home without any charge. In this way thousands have proven to their own satisfaction Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the very remedy they needed to cure indigestion. When once you use this grand remedy you will throw violent cathartics, tablets, salts, etc., away.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 509 Caldwell bldg., Monticello, Ill.

THESE THIEVES GOT $10,000

A Rich Brooklyn Family Saw Their Jewels Taken.

New York, Nov. 9.—With a burglar's dark lantern shining in their eyes and two revolvers, held by masked men, covering them, the five members of the family of Charles E. Tayntor, a wealthy granite dealer, lay in bed in the Tayntor home at Borough park, Brooklyn, for more than an hour Saturday night, while a third masked robber packed up $10,000 worth of jewelry and silverware. Then the burglars bound Mr Tayntor and escaped with their booty.

TAKES POISON IN PRISON

THIS THIEF A "REAL LADY"

RETURNS POCKETBOOKS TO WOMEN AFTER EXTRACTING THE MONEY.

SHE WORKS IN DEPARTMENT STORE

The Thief Described as a Tall Stylishly Dressed Blonde—Gets in Her Work at St. Paul, Minn.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 7.—Mrs. Thomas A. Cummings, who had her pocketbook stolen while shopping in a department store several days ago, has again obtained possession of the purse through the generosity of the woman thief. A check for $50 was also returned, but all the money in the purse was taken.

The thief, who is described as a tall, stylishly dressed blonde, left the articles at another department store with the man in charge of the "lost articles" department, stating that she had found the purse on the floor of the store. Having no occasion to doubt her statement, she was allowed to go, after first being thanked for her courtesy and honesty, which must have made her smile.

The theft occurred while Mrs. Cummings was buying some lace in a store on Sixth street. She laid her pocketbook down to examine the quality of the article on sale and when she turned a few moments later to pay for her purchase it was gone. A clerk stated that she saw a tall blonde woman dressed in blue pick it up and walk off, and had believed she was the owner of the purse.

The pocketbook was an expensive one and there is some curiosity as to the reason for the woman's act. Other thefts by a woman have been reported and in all cases she returns the pocketbook for some unaccountable reason. Perhaps she is of a romantic temperament and does not wish to take the chance on the article being a gift from a sweetheart or husband, and hence of special value.

INSANE OVER ELECTION

EVANSTON YOUNG MAN WHO DEPOSITED FIRST VOTE FOR BRYAN.

TUESDAY'S DEFEAT WRECKED MIND

Thinks He Is the Victim of a Republican Conspiracy, and Expects to Get Damages Aggregating $100,000.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—William Airth, a clerk in the University bookstore at Evanston, went insane when he learned that Bryan was buried under a landslide, and Wednesday was taken to the detention hospital. Airth lives at 1427 Sherman avenue, and his mother is a widow.

Airth is 21 years of age and had just cast his first vote for Bryan and Stevenson.

He was an intense partisan of the democratic ticket and watched the returns Tuesday night with feverish interest. He had believed that Illinois itself would go for Bryan and Stevenson and that Bryan would carry the country by an overwhelming majority.

As returns came in and Illinois and other states were shown to have gone republican and Bryan had proven a big loser, young Airth was greatly depressed.

Later he began to talk in such a strange, incoherent manner that his friends feared he had lost his mind, and Wednesday morning he showed such unmistakable signs of insanity and had grown so violent that his mother called in the police, and Dr. Dwight Clark adjudged him insane.

Airth laid his arrest to a conspiracy of the republican party and said he would get damages of $100,000 on account of it.

XTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS

About March for a Revision of the Tariff.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Representative Sereno E. Payne, of New York, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house, had a long conference with Mr. Roosevelt today on the tariff question.

Mr. Payne declared that tariff revision would not be taken up at the coming session of congress, but an extra session for this purrpose would be called, the date depending entirely upon the wishes of Mr. Taft, but probably about March 15.

To Be Married Wednesday.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

John D. Arnold, son of a prominent and retired stockman of Paris, Mo., and Miss Katherine M. Lowe, of Longwood, will be united in marriage by Rev. Watkins, pastor of the Presbyterian church, at her home at Longwood at 3 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon.

A sumptuous dining will be served immediately after the ceremony, and the bridal couple will go to Paris to make their home.

Aged Farmer Passed Away.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

W. J. T. Bryant, father of five daughters and five sons, the youngest of whom is 21 years of age, died from bronchial trouble at his home, seven and one-half miles southeast of Sedalia, at the noon hour Saturday, aged 82 years. For thirty years he had lived on the farm where he died. Funeral services will be held at the Flat Creek Baptist church Monday, and burial will be made in that locality.

Died at Post of Duty.

Engineer S. M. Miller is dead at Dubois, Pa., because he refused to desert his post when two children, riding the cab of a runaway engine with him, were afraid to make a leap for life.

As a result the engineer and William Brown, 12 years old, were scalded to death and Lilly Green, 18, was so badly burned that she is not expected to recover. A dozen laborers who were riding on the train jumped and escaped serious injury.

When the brakes refused to hold, a lumber train on the Buffalo & Susquehana railroad made a wild dash down a steep grade and jumped the track on a curve near the foot of the hill.

Engineer Miller saw the danger and pleaded with the children to make a leap for life with him. They were paralyzed with fear, however, and, rather than desert them, the engineer remained at his past.

Paperworks Strike Settled.

Saratoga, N Y., Nov. 7.—The strike at the mill of the International Paper company at Palmer Falls was settled yesterday. The employes voted to accept the terms of the company.

"WHIST ROOM" HELD UP

IN TRUE BORDER STYLE PLAYERS WERE ROBBED IN KANSAS CITY.

NO GAMBLING THERE, OF COURSE

Two Masked Men Hold Up Bert Brannon's Whist Room Early Saturday Morning and Got Away With $1,400.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 7.—Lining the seven players up with their faces to the wall while they went through their clothes and got about $1,400, two robbers, masked with bandanna handkerchiefs, held up Bert Brannon's "whist room" at 808 Main street at 12:45 o'clock this morning and escaped in a cab they had wainting in front of the Postal Telegraph building.

The room in which the robbery occurred is over Brannon's saloon, and last summer was raided by the police who confiscated several tables and many poker chips.

Six men were gathered around the tables playing and drinking, when the door suddenly opened and two masked men, each with a revolver in his hand, commanded the men to throw up their hands and line up against the wall.

The men responded with alacrity. One of the robbers took both revolvers and covered the victims, while the other took all the money he could get his hands on. He took nothing but money. He spurned several diamond studs and rings and didn't touch the watches.

Just as the robbers were about to leave, a man known as Denton, who was in charge of the place, came into the room. He was covered, forced to step in line and his money was taken from him. Afterward, Denton reported that he had suspected trouble, and had come out of his room, which opens on the stairway. He bumped into a small, light-haired man on the stairs, but went on, thinking that the man was leaving the place. The victims believe this was a third member of the robber band who was lookout.

After going through the pockets of the players and taking all the money they found on the tables the robbers left with the threat that any man who came downstairs inside of ten minutes would be shot.

Then the three, spilling money on the way, fled to their cab and dashed away. The men who had been robbed held their hands in the air a few minutes, cautiously turned their heads and found that the robbers had gone, then ran downstairs to see the messenger boys picking up the coins that the fleeing robbers had dropped.

L. C. Shepherd, a traveling salesman, who lives at the Mokan hotel, Twelfth and Locust streets, was robbed of $900. "Others lost from $150 down to $10," said Mr. Shepherd last night. "We made no resistance. The two men I saw were small and dark. They must have been familiar with the place and they seemed like old hands, they were so cool."

Mr. Shepherd refused to tell the names of any of the other men who were robbed. "They might not want it known that they were there," he explained.

To Work 250 Additional Operatives.

Fall River, Mass., Nov. 7.—Notices have been posted in the Stevens cotton mills announcing that beginning Monday, November 9, the carding, spinning and weaving departments are to be operated nights as well as days. The company employs 250 operatives.

Will Erect a Dwelling.

Dr. Caleb L. Bandy, of 1321 South Ohio avenue, has purchased of Mrs. Frank A. Sampson a lot on Ohio avenue, between Ninth and Tenth streets, for $1,300, and will erect a seven or eight-room modern dwelling in the near future.

HE IS NOW "AS ONE DEAD"

ROBERT BOHLER, JUNIOR, WEDDED SECRETLY, IS NOT FORGIVEN.

THE BRIDE IS OLDER THAN HUSBAND

Mother Wrote Twenty-Seven Postals to Head Off the Marriage, but the Ceremony Was Performed, Just the Same.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 7.—While Mrs. Robert Bohler, 2209 Mullanphy street, was busy sending postals to the various Gretna Greens in and around St. Louis asking the county clerks to refuse a marriage license to her son because of his being under age, Robert Bohler, Jr., the object of her solicitude, was at St. Charles, Mo., being married quietly to Miss Annie Rowan, a pretty stenographer, who resides with her mother, Mrs. Margaret Rowan, at 2928 Sheridan avenue.

Mrs. Bohler, the boy's mother, thought she had been successful in frustrating plans for the marriage until Wednesday night, when Robert, Jr., called to ask forgiveness. The mother said "nay." The boy then appealed to his father without better results.

Mrs. Bohler said: "Robert is as one dead. I appealed to him not to marry, and I appealed to the mother of the girl he married to aid in preventing the marriage. I was not successful in either instance and now, although my heart is broken, I wash my hands of the whole affair. I never have seen the young woman Robert married, nor will I see her. She may be an excellent girl, but I can not forget she is two years older than my son, who is but 18.

"The first I knew of the boy's intentions," continued Mrs. Bohler, "was when Robert came to me a month ago and in tears pleaded to be allowed to marry. The proposition seemed so ridiculous that I dismissed the matter from my mind until Monday.

"Then I had a premonition that Tuesday, being a holiday, Robert might attempt to carry out his plan to marry, and I wrote tweny-seven postals to towns in Illinois and Missouri, asking that a marriage license be denied him. My postal reached St. Charles too late."

Robert Bohler, Jr., is the son of Robert Bohler, foreman of the Columbia Brewing Co. The son's determination to marry Miss Rowan caused him to leave home several weeks ago. Since then the parents knew nothing of his actions, Mrs. Bohler asserted.

THE TAFTS IN VIRGINIA

Several Hundred Guests Gave Them a Welcome.

Hot Springs, Va., Nov. 7.—President-elect and Mrs. Taft arrived here this morning. Several hundred guests fro mthe hotel were at the station and gave them a rousing welcome.

Central Business College Items.

Sedalia, Mo.

A large number of pupils have been placed in good positions the past week, several in Sedalia.

We just received a letter from one of our former pupils who has just moved into his elegant residence on East avenue, Rochester, New York, the society street of the city, and has erected him a six-story business building containing over 48,000 square feet of floor space, and occupies the entire building from basement to dome with his own businesses. The basement and first floor are occupied by his printing plant, in which he has the largest two-color press between New York and Chicago.

Central Business college is growing every day. We have just rearranged our rooms so as to accommodate forty more pupils. Don't be afraid the school will get too full for you to get attention. The more we have the better school, and the better advantages can we give.

It matters not what system you have taken, we can continue with you here in the same system, and you will lose no time in making the change from any other institution to Central Business college.

Our teachers are practical business men who have exactly what you want; hence they can prepare you in the shortest possible time for holding the very best positions at high salaries.

Alton's Temperance Movement.

The Chicago and Alton is waging a campaign against the use of intoxicants among its employes and proposes to discourage the habit of frequenting saloons.

Those who have grown careless in this respect have been discharged in some instances, failing to comply with a warning, while others have been given another chance.

Some who asserted that they were not guilty of the charge wilted when they were shown photographs taken in the act of drinking in saloons.

ELECTION BET WORKS GOAT

Hauls Republican With Democrat Marching Behind.

Medora, Ill., Nov. 7.—In accordance with the terms of an ante-election agreement, William Cook, democrat, walked through the principal business streets carrying flags, following Harvey Gilworth, republican, who was in a boy's wagon hauled by a billygoat.

Cook wagered Gilworth that Bryan would be the successful candidate, and agreed to carry out the parade stunt if Taft were elected.

Henry Rhoads, a Bryan supporter, will pay for his convictions by husking forty shocks of corn for A. L. Carter on Carter's farm, near this city.

Released on a $150 Bond.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

J. B. Cochran, of Lamonte, was arrested Friday on complaint if Dr. J. P. McCann, who accused him of selling mortgaged property. Cochran was arraigned in Judge Clark's court Saturday and pleaded not guilty. He was released on a $150 bond for his appearance in court at 2 o'clock on November 9.

A KANSAS BANK MAY PAY OUT

Depositors Won't Lose, a Director of Arkansas City Institution Says.

Arkansas City, Kas., Nov. 7.—The closing of the doors of the Citizens and Farmers' State bank of this city yesterday caused much excitement and crowds of the depositors could be seen standing about the streets discussing the affair all day.

Mr. Sanders, cashier of the bank, stated yesterday that the suspension of the bank was due to the lending of too large a sum to the Wells Produce plant. The bank was unable to realize on the security. The produce company is still in operation.

W. T. Watson, of Iola, state bank examiner, arrived here last night. One of the directors of the bank said yesterday that there was a good supply of cash on hand and that the depositors would in time be paid in full.

The capital stock of the bank is $50,000 and the surplus is $12,500

INDICT INDIANA BANKERS

Grand Jury Charges Two With Embezzlement of Funds.

Logansport Ind., Nov. 7.—Judge Daniel P. Baldwin, of this city and William H. Dague, of Kentland have been indicted by the county grand jury on charges of embezzlement.

The indictment grew out of their connection with the Goodland bank, which was closed by Auditor Billheimer last year.

HERE'S YOUR "PROSPERITY"

It Is Coming in Huge "Chunks" for the Poor Man.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 7.—The rise in butter and eggs has begun. "Strictly fresh" eggs are now selling in downtown markets for 35 cents a dozen, and at the outside markets from that price down to 30 cents.

First quality creamery butter has jumped from 35 to 38 cents a pound. Some say the price will be 40 cents by next week. Some grades of creamery are selling as low as 30 cents a pound. At present honey is selling for 20 cents a frame.

Car Shortage on M., K. & T.

Officials of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad state that an equipment shortage has developed within the past two weeks, owing to the unusually heavy movement of freight.

Many cars are in the shops of the company, but at that the percentage in use is greater than ever before in the road's history.

Cotton has been moving in exceptionally heavy volume during the past week, and St. Louis headquarters officials state that November, 1908, earnings, from present indications, furnish a surprise.

ONE MAN WAS INSTANTLY KILLED

Thirty-Five Others Were Injured. One of Them Seriously—Railway Train Standing Near Received Brunt of Shock—Felt in Sedalia.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 12.—A terrific explosion in the glazing house of the Excelsior Powder company at Dodson, ten miles south of Kansas City, this morning, caused considerable property damage and resulted in the death of one man and the injury of thirty-five others, one seriously.

The dead man is Herman Kline, engineer in the glazing house.

The seriously hurt is Mrs. J. B. McDonough, of Fort Scott, Kas., wife of a Kansas City Southern railroad solicitor, whose injuries are internal. A Kansas City Southern passenger train, inbound for Kansas City, was standing on the tracks two blocks distant from the powder works when the explosion occurred. The windows of the coaches were blown in and some of the passengers were slightly hurt. Engineer Kline was the only person in the glazing house at the time of the explosion.. He was instantly killed.

No one can saw how the explosion occurred. The glazing house and two other small buildings were demolished, but the main plant, several blocks away, was not damaged. The total property damage will not exceed $25,000.

The injuries of the passengers and members of the crew of the train were so slight that only two remained at the hospitals in Kansas City after being taken to those institutions. These were Mrs. McDonough, whose injuries are not considererd fatal, and Mrs. Ellen Stitt, who will probably be able to leave the hospital during the day: The others injured were:

Mrs. R. W. Rowe, Indianola, face cut by glass.

Mrs. Ethel Schnitzer, Stanberry, Mo., forehead and arms cut.

Mrs. Schnitzer's 1-year-old baby, slightly cut.

Mrs. C. E. Diggett, Harrisonville, Mo., arms and face cut.

H. U. Divlebiss, Peculiar, Mo., glass in eye.

Explosion Felt in Sedalia.

The shock of the Dodson powder explosion was felt in Sedalia. Several reliable business men of the city report having felt a severe and unaccountable shock while asleep at their homes in the western portion of the city shortly after 6 o'clock this morning.

According to reports, the shock, which came from the northwest, was of brief duration, but it caused many to be aroused from their slumbers.

A well known M., K. & T. conductor who heard the noise thought some one was attempting to gain entrance to his home, but on investigating he discovered nothing.

Roy Morris, of the Houstonian at Houstonia, writes the Democrat-Sentinel as follows:

"A slight earthquake was felt here this morning at 6 o'clock, which seemed to come from the northwest.

"The disturbance was sufficient to rattle doors and windows which were loose, but no vibration of buildings could be belt.

Harry Agee, editor of the Lamonte Record, reports that the explosion was felt in his town also.

MANY LIVES WERE LOST

BY EXPLOSION OF FIRE DAMP IN RADBED MINE DURING FORENOON.

STILL OTHERS ARE IN GRAVE PERIL

It Occurred at Westphalia, Germany—Believed That 150 Men Working in Shaft No. 2 Are Doomed to Death.

Hamm, Westphalia, Germany, Nov. 12.—An explosion from fire damp in Radbed mine this morning probably will result in a heavy loss of life.

Already twenty-seven bodies have been brought to the surface and 300 men are still under ground in grave peril.

Four hundred men were working in the pit at the time of the disaster. About seventy-five were brought to the surface, a majority of them injured and one dead.

There are 150 men in shaft No. 2, and it is believed all are now doomed.

John W. Birney, of Neosho, and 4-year-old son, Jay, slight cuts.

James Foster, Pittsburg, Kas., engineer, face cut.

Fireman Pepper, Pittsburg, Kas., head cut.

THREE CARS DITCHED

Portion of the New York Central's Fastest Train.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 12.—Three cars in the eastbound Twentieth Century Limited, the New York Central's fastest train, were thrown from the rails at Blossom Road crossing just east of here early this morning, but strangely enough, not one of the many passengers hurled from their berths was badly injured.

A broken rail is said to have caused the accident.

The train had attained a speed of twenty-five miles an hour when the break came.

FIFTY VOICES IN CHORUS

WERE HEARD AT THE BROADWAY PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH LAST NIGHT.

A SOLO, 'I WALK ALONE WITH GOD'

Mrs. Johannes Sang, After Which Mr. Henderson Sang, "A Little Bit of Love"—Interest in Meetings Is Increasing.

It was a great meeting the evangelists held at the Broadway Presbyterian church last night. The perfect weather brought a marked increase in the attendance and the big audience was never more appreciative.

Mr. Henderson's success with his chorus is indeed remarkable. Many new ones joined it, and at the close the platform was crowded with fifty voices singing the new songs. It seemed as if the people wouldn't go home. Mrs. Johannes' solo, "I Walk Alone With God," was appreciated by the audience, and after the sermon Mr. Henderson sang "A Little Bit of Love."

His last song always seems the best. No one can doubt that he is a truly great leader of song, a master of assemblies. He scolds with a smile on his face and coaxes and inspires until everybody sings.

When at his invitation a little girl in the audience sang alone the chorus of one of the new songs a thrill went through the audience Mr. Henderson knows how to read human nature and to get people to do what he wants.

The evangelist's sermon held the closest attention of his large audience as he spoke eloquently upon "The God of Wonders in Revivals," from the text, "Sanctify yourselves, for tomorrow the Lord will do wonders among you." He said: "Four things are necessary to see God work wonders in salvation in Sedalia. We must believe that God loves everybody. We must have some conception of the value of a soul and what it means for it to be eternally lost. We must have a passionate desire to see men saved and do our best.

"When we speak of a wonder working God I do not mean that God will create a world and hang it over your sky or make trees grow up in a night or hedge your city with a mountain.

"What God wants to do is to create new hearts and create a right spirit within us and to save the lost men and women of Sedalia.

"No chuch can be blessed until she realizes that God's heart takes in all classes and conditions of men and that we are to seek the salvation of these as well as those who are our equals intellectually, socially, morally and financially.

"The church that seeks the rich man because he is rich and keeps the poor man out because he is poor in a stench in the nostrils of God. It makes no difference where a man lives, whether in a lane or a prominent thoroughfare, whether in a hovel or a mansion, whether he owns the house in which he lives or rents it, whether he wears homespun or broadcloth, whether his skin is white or black, brown or red or yellow, he is a man and God loves him and to him you and I are indebted."

The evangelist's subject tonight will be, "Hindrances to Revival." A great meeting is expected tonight Everybody is welcome to the feast of good things.

ATTACKED BY A NEGRO

Young White Woman Was in Kansas City Last Night.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 12.—On her way home from church last night at 10 o'clock, Miss Estelle Pees, daughter of A. C. Pees, 2828 Olive street, was attacked by a negro near an alley on East Twenty-ninth street, between Prospect and Waabsh avenues.

The extent of her injuries are a sprained arm, bruised throat and a severe nervous shock.

The negro escaped, though there several persons within calling distance at the time of the assault.

Home From Their Outing.

Hon. E. E. Johnston. Conductor John Bower and Dr. C. H, Weaver returned last afternoon from a week's hunting and fishing on the Osage river below Fairfield They caught plenty of fish, killed a couple of wild turkeys, quail galore, and plenty of squirrels and young rabbits, enjoying their outing to the fullest in every particular.

FOLK HANGED IN EFFIGY

PEOPLE AT RICHARDS, MO., CONDEMN FOR PARDONING DR. J. D. TODD.

THEY DEMAND LAW ENFORCEMENT

Freed Man Served Three Years of Ten for Killing R. T. Wall—Joins Family at Adrian, Bates County.

Richards, Mo., Nov. 12.—Governor Folk was hanged and burned in effigy here last night in public condemnation of his act in pardoning Dr. J. D. Todd from the penitentiary, after the latter had served less than three years of a ten-year sentence for killing Robert T. Wall, a merchant-farmer of this place.

About a year ago friends petitioned the governor for pardon, presenting a petition containing names of parties from different parts of the state.

In opposition to this a strong remonstrance was presented containing the names of practically every business man in town, supplemented by petitions from hundreds of farmers and stockmen in this county.

The pardon was not granted at the time, and it was thought the plea for law enforcement had been effective. The pardon, following so closely on the heels of the election, has roused the town people and farmers of the vicinity to a pitch only equaled at the time of the murder.

Since the pardon was granted Monday evening knots of men have been discussing the matter, and last night gave public evidence of their disapproval of the governor's act by the mock hanging and burning.

"Law enforcement for murderers," is the slogan one hears on the streets, and this is a town where all was peace and quiet until the killing of Mr. Wall five years ago.

Dr. Todd did not come here after his release from the penitentiary, as stated in the dispatches, his family having moved to Adrain, Mo., several months ago.

AGE OF QUACKS IS PAST

SO SAID RAILROAD EVANGELIST LA MANCE AT THE EPWORTH CHURCH.

THE EDIFICE WAS WELL FILLED

Text Last Night Was, "Judge Not, That Ye Be Not Judged; Examine Yourselves"—Synopsis of the Sermon.

The auditorium of Epworth M. E. church was filled last night with people who were interested in the meeting. Mrs. LaMance sang "Does Jesus Care" to an appreciative audience.

Evangelist LaMance again announced the special service for laboring men on Wednesday night of next week. He used for a text last night, "Judge not that ye be not judged; examine yourselves." He said, in part:

"The age of quacks is past. This age is too propressive to allow a man to maintain a position who is not proficient. We have a standard of examination for lawyers, doctors, teachers, railroad men, preachers, and men of every profession and business. God has a standard, too, that we must reach, and the grade required is 100 per cent, for if we break one of the least of the commandments we are guilty of the whole. If God should examine us tonight many of us would be running like the boodlers of St. Louis ran when Joseph W. Folk began his examination. If you would let God's searchlight down into your soul you would quit criticising and judging and begin begging for mercy.

"We should not judge our fellow man because our standard is imperfect. You can no more find two souls that are alike than you can find two faces that are alike. You do not see your neighbors and you can not judge them. You see the vehicle in which I travel, the house in which I live, but you have not seen me and can not judge me.

'My wife has gone to three conservatories of music, and each one had a different standard. What she learned in one had to be unlearned in another. So we have different standards of judging one another.

"I saw a little sissy sit down to a piano and try to play Beethoven's pathetic sonata. I did not compliment her when she had finished because I did not want to lie about it. She afterwards expressed regret that I did not appreciate classical music.

"When I was in the theological seminary they tried to teach me homiletics and hermaneutics and elocution and oratory, and tried to make a preacher out of me; and I went out and tried to do as they told me and made a failure.

"One day God got hold of me and showed me that I could not be anybody but LaMance, and I loaded my gun and began to shoot, and I have been bringing down game ever since. Some people think if a man has not got a long face he has not got any religion, or if a woman wears a feather she is lost.

"I once went to a meeting where they prayed with their heads under the benches, and wanted me to do the same thing, and said I did not have any religion because I would not.

"I started out to go through life with my head up. I wish some one would write a book on the ysychology of nations. You can not judge an Irishman and a Scotchman by the same standards. One is long faced and the other broad faced. Man looks on the outward appearance, but God looks on the heart.

"When I started out to preach I came in contact with some people who thought I ought to farm. But God did not call me to the plow. He called me to preach, and I am going to work at my job. If I do not throw the hammer to suit you, do not judge me till you know my motive."

There was much conviction in the congregation, and one young lady came to the altar and was saved, and another united with the church.

Cost Mr. Knox, $52.75.

C. W. Knox, judge-elect of the Eastern district of the Pettis county court, this afternoon filed his expense account with Recorder Morey, amounting to $52.75.

Will Be Married Tonight.

Rae Simpson, foreman of the Star Clothing company at Jefferson City, and Miss Blanche Steinner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Steinner, of the state capital, arrived in Sedalia at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon and will be united in marrriage in this city tonight.

They will spend several days in this city as the guests of Mr. Simpson's sister, Mrs. E. Herrick, 222 East Sixth street, and will then return to Jefferson City to live.

Meeting of Clio Ladies.

The regular meeting of the Clio club was held this morning. Miss Emma Bouldin's paper on "Court of the Grand Monarque" was very interesting. "Fountainbleau" was given by Miss Irene Blair, and another paper on "Dramatists" was given by Miss Germaine Joseph.

THEIR VICTIM A SUICIDE

ALLEGED BLACKMAILERS ARE THUS THWARTED IN PLOT IN CHICAGO.

THREE MEN NOW UNDER ARREST

Plan Was to "Gather Information" Regarding Their Victim and Demand Sum of $50,000 From His Aged Father.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—J. Edwin Stein, the proposed victim of alleged blackmailers who were arrested Tuesday, committed suicide yesterday in a room at a prominent south side hotel.

The deceased was 25 years of age and a son of David A. Stein, of the wholesale clothing firm of Ederheimer, Stein & Co.

The men arrested in the alleged blackmailing plot were Charles Gerbaum, Jacob Marooney and Joseph Rankin.

Their plan, according to Marooney's story to the police, was to "gather information" about young Stein and then to demand $50,000 of the young man's father, on pain of having scandalous stories spread.

It is said that a loud voiced quarrel among the three men on the street, each accusing the other of attempting to cheat, brought about a revelation of the conspiracy.

Young Stein's suicide came as an unexpected and tragic sequel to the arrests. He is said to have been profoundly depressed by the attempt to extort money from his father.

He left letters to his parents and to the hotel manager on his dresser and another he mailed to an undertaker. When the latter read it he telephoned the hotel saying that he had been informed a corpse would be found in Stein's room. The discovery of the body followed. Stein had taken bromidia.

ARNOLD-LOWER NUPTIALS

Bridal Couple Departed Last Night for Paris, Mo.

Married, at the home of the bride's parents, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Miss Catherine McClellan Lower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lower, and Mr. J. David Arnold, son of J. W. Arnold, of Paris, Mo.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Watkins, of Calhoun, Mo., in a very pleasing and impressive manner. Miss Yolande Hoffman, of Longwood, played the wedding march.

The wedding was a very quiet affair, only the relatives and close friends being present.

After the ceremony the bridal party proceeded to the prettily decorated dining room, where an elegant four-course luncheon was served by Miss Fanny Smith, of 400 West Fourth street, this city, assisted by the Mesdames Lower and Pottenger.

After this congratulations were in order, then the bridal party prepared for their departure to Sedalia, from which place they took the 8 o'clock train for the groom's home at Paris, Mo.

The best wishes of a host of friends go with them to their new home.

Will Wed Next Wednesday.

J. B. Finley, a prosperous young farmer of Houstonia, and Miss Inez Boatright, daughter of William Boatright, of Marshall, were granted a marriage license by Recorder Morey here today. They will be united in marriage by Rev. J. J. Hill, pastor of the Methodist church of Houstonia, at the home of Miss Boatright's father in Saline county next Wednesday.

A SOCIAL WAR THE CAUSE

SO IT IS SAID, OF THE RIDGELEYS' QUITTING THE BANK OF COMMERCE.

WOODS OR KEMPER FOR PRESIDENT

While Directors Sought Financial Supremacy Wives Conducted a Campaign for Social Recognition Only.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 12.—The result of the financial war within the directorate of the National Bank of Commerce is that the Ridgeleys will retire from the active management of the institution shortly after January. This is not because the bank has not prospered under the management of William B. Ridgely, who was former comptroller of the currency. It has prospered. But a financial struggle, made busier by a social war, in which Mrs. W. B. Ridgely and Mrs. Edward Ridgely play a prominent part, has been waging since the first week of the Ridgelys' stay in Kansas City, and the Ridgelys have been defeated.

It is claimed that as a result of the social war the bank has lost some business among Kansas City merchants and capitalists who say that their wives are snubbed by the two Mrs. Ridgelys. They say that at each of the social functions that have been attended by the wives of the eastern finaciers they have aloof from the major portion of the guests and have shown no tendency to "mix."

"The next president of the National Bank of Commerce will be a Missourian and a Kansas City man, who will conduct the bank according to the ideas of the members of the board of directors, for Kansas City people and the country tributary to this city."

This is the expressed opinion of the Woods-Kemper-Long-Heim-Dickey faction, which now holds the controlling interest of the stock of the institution after securing the stock held by the St. Louis interests at a heavy premium.

The reorganization committee installed William B. Ridgely as president and Edward Ridgely as cashier. Summing up the results attained by the eastern financiers, one of the stockholders and a member of the board of directors says they are not what they should be. Business from the country banks has been added, which is a valuable asset, but the business of the Kansas City business men has not been increased a great deal by the installation of the Ridgelys in the management of the bank.

FORMALITIES IN ELECTING A PRESIDENT.

The following from the St. Joseph News-Press, given in answer to an inquiry, furnishes some information not generally known, and is therefore reproduced:

"Editor News-Press: A bet B $5 that Taft would be elected president. When A went to collect the money the other day, B said A had not yet won it; that Taft was not yet elected president. How about that? — Subscriber."

Strictly speaking, B is right. The returns show that a majority of the presidential electors chosen on Nov. 3 are for Taft, and that he will be elected president if he lives, but he has not yet been formally elected.

The people do not elect a president; they merely elect men to select a president, and when these men get together there is no law to prevent them from electing any man they choose, though, of course, they will cast their votes for the candidates preferred by their constituents.

On the second Monday in January the electors of each state will meet at their respective state capitals, cast their votes and certify the result. Hence, Mr. Taft will not be legally elected until that time.

There are some other interesting facts connected with the election of a president that are not generally known. Men holding places under the government are not permitted to act as electors. In 1837 it was discovered after the electors had been appointed that North Carolina, New Hampshire and Connecticut had selected electors who were deputy postmasters. A congressional committee, headed by Henry Clay, held that their votes must be rejected. It happened that Van Buren was elected regardless of these votes, but it might easily happen, in a close election, that some mischance would defeat the will of the states. Also, the constitution requires that the electors shall meet on the same day.

In 1857 a snow storm kept the Wisconsin electors from meeting until the day following the appointed date. The Georgia electors have voted twice on the wrong day. In none of these cases did the irregular votes count, and in none did their loss change the result. The states and not the people elect the president. Thus, while in part the electoral representation is based on population because there is one elector for each congressman, in part it is based on "state's rights," because there is an elector for each senator, and each state has two senators, regardless of size.

IT'S UP TO YOU, MR. TAFT.

Now we will see how the man who "more than any other has been educated for the presidential chair" will perform in that responsible position. The republican political economists have maintained that while Roosevelt was an accident, Taft has been the special pet of Providence, and his whole career has been shaped from his youth to make him the ideal head of his people, capable, keen, judicious, wise, prudent, cautious, conservative, firm and great in everything.

The American people, without regard to party, hope he will make this prediction good.

TURNING BRAINS INTO CASH.

The brains you put into your advertising will come back in the form of ready money, says a business man's magazine. The more brains you put in the more money you take out. And it is essential to put brains into the manner of the advertising as well as the matter. The most persuasive, convincing, irresistable ad ever written will not pay its way unless good judgment is used in the choice of the means of getting it before the public. Only one medium reaches all the people. That is the daily newpaper.

One of the great New York hotels has enlarged its equipment for ministration to the needs of its patrons by fitting up within its walls a surgical ward or "emergency room" for first help to ailing persons. This is an innovation that might be ushered far to the front. Hotels are responsible for a great deal of incipient injury. It would be fine to have poison and antidote brought within reach in combination hotel-hospitals.

It might not be amiss at this time to suggest that the street railway company retire all their open cars for the season and replace them with comfortable closed ones. Pneumona is not a welcome visitor.

There seems to be no way of spiking Cannon. He claims to have enough pledges to re-elect him speaker, anyhow.

All persons curious as to the religion of President-elect Taft should inquire of Theodore Roosevelt for detailed information.

Well, well, Mr. Bryan, Henry Clay tried it three times and never made it. And his place in history is secure.

NOTHING ELSE LIKE IT

TREMENDOUS POPULARITY OF THE "VEGETABLE PRESCRIPTION" HERE IN SEDALIA.

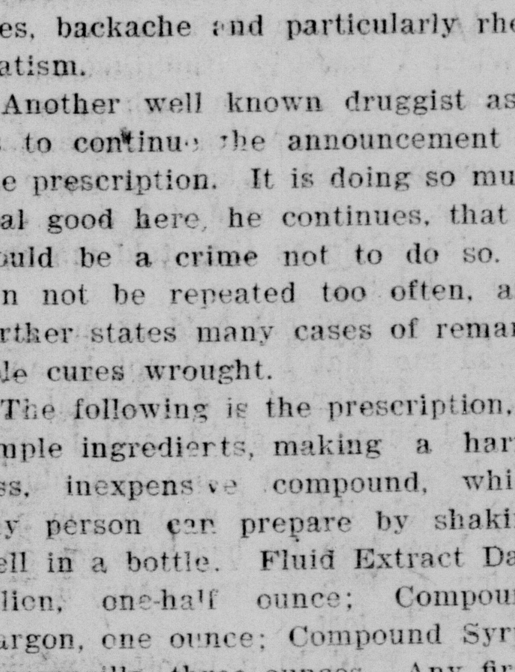
IT RELIEVES EVEN CHRONIC CASES

Mix It at home—No Sufferer from Kidney or Bladder Trouble or Rheumatism Should Leave It Untried.

That the readers of this paper appreciate advice when given in good faith is plainly demonstrated by the fact that one well known local pharmacy supplied the ingredients for the "vegetable prescription" many times within the past two weeks. The announcement of this simple, harmless mixture has certainly accomplished much in reducing the great many cases of kidney complaint and rheumatism here, relieving pain and misery, especially among the older population, who are always suffering more or less with bladder and urinary troubles, backache and particularly rheumatism.

Another well known druggist asks us to continue the announcement of the prescription. It is doing so much real good here, he continues, that it would be a crime not to do so. It can not be repeated too often, and further states many cases of remarkable cures wrought.

The following is the prescription, of simple ingredients, making a harmless, inexpensive compound, which any person can prepare by shaking well in a bottle. Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Any first-class drug store will sell this small amount of each ingredient, and the dose for adults is one teaspoonful to be taken after each meal and again at bedtime. There is enough here to last for one week, if taken according to directions. Good results will be apparent from the first few doses.



ACCIDENTS WILL HAPPEN.

And the result is usually a spoiled gown. Not so serious a matter as first thought makes it if the facilities we provide for perfect dyeing and cleaning of all manner of fabrics are utilized; and the cost is modest in the extreme.

ADELAIDE OSWOLD,
Prima Donna, Stewart Opera Company, at the Sedalia Theater Tonight.

THE GEISHA TONIGHT

Opera Is of Surpassing Excellence—All Artists Have Reputation.

"The Geisha," presented by the Stewart Opera Co. at the Sedalia theater tonight will undoubtedly prove a treat to the music lovers of this city.

The surprises do not stop with the excellence of the production, for after its strikes its gait there are surprises among the principals. Miss Hattye Fox, the little soubrette of the company, blossoms out as a particular star on her own account, and sings and dances her own sweet way to favor in an instant. She is a lively comedienne with a lot of magnetism. Miss Fox has been with the Stewart Opera Co. for the past three years, and although she is but nineteen years old, she is classed among the most clever and talented soubrettes of the age.

Miss Adele Oswold, who is known as the youngest prima donna on the stage, possesses a remarkable soprano voice of a full and rich tone. She was educated in Chicago, receiving instruction from the best voice builders there, and her future career is being closely watched by the critics. Miss Oswald will be remembered in the role of Jack of Hearts in the "Land of Nod."

Miss Marie Hogan, who plays the role of Lady Constance, is well known the country over, having been with many leading productions. She thoroughly enjoys her art for art's sake, and is classed as one of the leading actresses in comic opera. Her beautiful contralto voice secures for her a prestige difficult to excell.

W. G. Stewart, at the head of the company, has a reputation to maintain, hence the surprising excellence of the production. He was the promoter of the American School of Opera in New York City for seven years. Miss Edna Godrich received her first instruction from him. She is now Mrs Nat Goodwin. Hans Linne, the musical director, conducts with practical skill and has a national reputation. He was three years with Lew Fields and produced three of Victor Herbert's operas. He returns the coming season to produce the fourth. Hans Linne is an Austrian nobleman.

Charles Galagher, the bass soloist, is well known in grand opera, having played most of the leading roles.

Herbert Sallinger, the comedian, is noted for his high class, refined and clever characters. He keeps the house perpetually alert and always delighted.

Jack Philips, who ably fills the tenor role, was one of the high C tenors with Jack Sheahan. His added number in this opera secures him many encores.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is Laxative Bromo Quinine E. W. Grove on every box. 25c
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days

Mild Laxative for Baby Free

The child of today is the parent of the future, and whether it grows up healthy and strong, or puny and weak, depends upon the intelligence of its parents, for most children are born into the world healthy, but thousands become future weaklings between birth and the age of ten, when the parents are still in greatest control.

The prime cause of trouble is in the stomach. A baby that is digesting its food seldom cries and always looks cheerful; the little child whose stomach is good romps and plays and never whines; the growing child learns well at school and is eager for fun if its head is clear and its stomach light, and that means if it has no constipation.

The best and safest way to cure any irregularity of the stomach and bowels in children is by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a liquid laxative wonderful in its effect as Mrs. John W. Dunham, Apple Creek, O., Mrs. H. L. Cullam, Plainville, Ind., and numerous others can testify who give it to their children with extraordinary results.

A bottle only costs 50 cents or $1 according to the size you want, and even one 50-cent bottle will do a wonderful amount of good in a family. It can be given to any member of the family in constipation, sour stomach, indigestion, torpid liver, dyspepsia, heartburn, sick headache and similar digestive troubles. It never gripes or strangles like pills, tablets, salts and powders, which should not be given to children, women or old folks.

If you have a child or other member of the family who needs, but has never used this grand laxative tonic, send your name and address to the doctor and a free trial bottle will be sent to your home. In this way you can find out what it will do without personal expense.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 509 Caldwell bldg., Monticello, Ill.

WHAT CAUSES DYSPEPSIA

And Incidentally Constipation, Coated Tongue, Headache and Other Symptoms.

Did you ever know that the stomach is a churn? That just as soon as you are done eating, the healthy stomach commences to roll the food around, and mixes it thoroughly with the juices of the stomach?

And did you know, dear reader, that if the stomach is run down or flabby, so that it cannot do the churning, that dyspepsia is the result?

If the food is not churned, it lays heavily on your stomach, turns sour, and causes all kinds of distressing symptoms, such as heradache, coated tongue, constipation, etc.

And so, as every physician will tell you, the way to cure dyspepsia is to fix the churn, or in other words, build up the stomach so that it will properly mix the food.

If you have dyspepsia and want to get rid of it before it gets rid of you, go to the W. E. Bard Drug Co. and get a large box of Mi-o-na tablets. The cost is only 50 cents, and every reader of the Democrat-Sentinel is welcome to his or her money back if Mi-o-na does not cure.

A SON OF EDITOR KILLED

SCION OF HON. HENRY WATTERSON FALLS TO DEATH IN NEW YORK.

HE PLUNGED THROUGH A WINDOW

Was Closing Office Last Afternoon When He Slipped Over Sill and Struck on Roof Nine Stories Below.

New York, Nov. 12.—Harvey Watterson, son of Col. Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, fell from the window of his private office on the nineteenth floor of the Trust Company of America building last afternoon and was killed. He struck on the roof of the ten-story building next door and nearly every bone in his body was broken.

It is not known exactly how the accident happened. His friends say there is no possibility of suicide, but it is thought that in trying to close the open window he slipped and fell through, as the sill is very low.

Mr. Watterson had been talking in the library with B. D. Whedon, a lawyer connected with the firm of Wing, Russell & Watterson. About 4:45 o'clock Mr. Watterson said: "Well, I guess I might as well go home now."

He entered his private office and the door closed by a spring behind him. About ten minutes later a commotion was heard on the roof of the next building. Looking out, Mr. Watterson was seen huddled in a heap.

People in the offices on a level with the roof had seen Mr. Watterson fall and a call was sent for an ambulance. After a coroner's physician had viewed the body it was removed to a police station, where Mr. Whedon took charge of it until some member of Mr. Watterson's family should arrive.

In the room from the window of which he fell were found his hat, gloves and paperrs on a table, as if placed ready to be picked up after turning from the window. He had his overcoat on when he fell.

Mr. Watterson was 30 years old. After a preparatory education at his home in Louisville he went to Dartmouth college and subsequently to the Columbia law school. He was admitted to the bar four years ago, and in the following year became a member of the firm of Wing, Russell & Watterson. He was successful beyond his expectations in the law business and seemed certain to have a prosperous career.

Five years ago Mr. Waterson married Miss Alice Burrowes, who survives him. They had no children.

EXPERTS FOOLED BY MASTER.

Are Not Always Able to Judge Authenticity of Pictures.

One hears so much about false "old masters" and fake art treasures that it is interesting to recall the following anecdote, which is vouched for by M. Jean Bernard, so well informed on all that concerns art and artists. The story concerns a Rembrandt, which formerly figured at the Antwerp museum, under the description of the "Jeune homme a la cuirasse," during the exhibition of Rembrandt's works. To-day the canvas belongs to the German emperor. Twenty years ago the owner of the picture went to a collector, M. Seldemeyer, and showed him the Rembrandt, offering to sell it to him for $1,600. M. Seldemeyer in turn showed the picture to his usual experts, who declared it to be an imitation, and the next day it was returned to the owner, with the remark that he could not get a couple of guineas for it in Paris. The possessor of the "Jeune homme a la cuirasse" said nothing, but took the picture to M. Antonin Proust, who at once recognized it to be one of the best examples of the great Dutch painter. The German painter Knauss, purchaser for the imperial museums, happened to be in Paris at the time, and when the Rembrandt was shown to him he immediately offered to buy it, and the deal was concluded for $1,600. The transaction was one which the German emperor has never had any reason to regret, for if he wished to sell the picture to-day he could easily obtain $100,000.

SALOON THOUGHT NO. 13.

The Brewers' Journal thus points out the results should prohibition avail. "If Prohibition should be successful our lives would be an insurmountable daymare; we would be suffering from total social deadness and distates in a numb, soporificial good-for-nothingness; society would be an ossification all over; with an oyster-like insensibility to scientific facts dominated by a mind stupor duller than a country stage when the actors are off of it." The Comparative Method.

At a certain age in the masculine education, cleanliness is the main thing to be inculcated. Vigorous soap and water practice is about the only way to succeed. After giving the boy a chance to better his own condition, harsher methods usually follow.

Theodore had twice been sent to wash his hands, and was now returning for the second inspection.

"My child," said his mother, comparing the two hands critically, "your right is just as dirty as your left. What have you been doing all this time?"

"Why, mamma," explained the youth, "last time you said that my left hand was cleaner than my right, so I tried to make them even. I'll go again."—Youth's Companion.

The Early Morning.

There is no hour of the day so hushed and beautiful as the early morning, when the day is young, fresh from the hand of God. It is a new page, clean and white and pure, and the angel is saying unto us "Write," and none there be who may refuse to obey. It may be gracious deeds and kindly words that we write upon it in letters of gold, or it may be that we blot and blur it with evil thoughts and stain it with unworthy actions, but write we must!—Nellie L. A Personal Opinion.

The constitutional dislike to giving an opinion on any subject, which had always distinguished the Gorham family, reached its fullest development in Abel Gorham. He could scarcely be persuaded to express his mind freely about anything, still less about any person. Yet he managed to preserve a reputation for keen discernment.

"I really wish you'd tell me what you think of young Hobbs," said one of the summer residents. "Come, Mr. Gorham, I mean to give the young man a lift if he's worth it."

"M-m,' said Mr. Gorham, with his usual deliberation. "When you come to lifting, anybody that can be lifted is wuth lifting, seems to me. As to Pete Hobbs, I'm expecting he'll turn out just about such a sort of a man as I take him to be. I don't know as I'm called upon to speak any plainer'n that."—Youth's Companion.

Mourn for Dead Octopus.

New York has just finished its official mourning for Jonrock. This Jonrock was the pet octopus of the city aquarium. Jonrock went to the wicked metropolis with four companions from the Bermudas. He was the last survivor, for his companions drooped one after another and their multiple arms ceased the restless task of grabbing everything in sight.

A military funeral was given Jonrock. The flag on the aquarium building was placed at half-mast and other marks of respect were displayed. It was the plan to sprinkle tan bark in the harbor to deaden the noise of the ships, but this was abandoned. The obsequies were as peaceful as possible under the circumstances.

A FAMOUS IRISH ACTOR

BEGAN FIRST AMERICAN TOUR IN PHILADELPHIA, PA., THIS WEEK.

NOT HAVE CAUSE TO REGRET VISIT

It Is Likely That He Will Fill Engagements in All of the Larger Cities Before He Returns to Europe.

Philadelphia, Nov. 12.—Joseph O'Mara, the famous Irish actor and singer, began his first American tour at the Walnut Street theater this week, and if the ovation he is being given in the Quaker City is repeated in other cities, he will not have cause to regret his visit to Uncle Sam's land.

Mr. O'Mara made his initial American appearance in Patrick Bidwell's romantic comedy of the "ould sod," entitled "Peggy Machree." Dramatic critics are agreed that O'Mara is the theatrical "find" of the season. It is likely that he will visit all the larger cities of the country before returning to Europe.

Mr. O'Mara played with splendid dash and sincerity, and sung Erin's ballads. old and new, as they have never been sung in America before. His vogue in Great Britain and Ireland has been enormous for years, and he will repeat that success in this country without a doubt.

"Peggy Machree" proved to be a capital comedy, delightfully acted. It is the ideal Irish play. It has a strain of romance, a pretty love story, deftly told, a most bewitching heroine and as brave a lover as ever stepped from the pages of fiction.

Second only to the success of the star was the hit scored by charming and dainty little Adrienne Augarde, in the role of the heroine, Peggy. Miss Augarde, one of London's most popular young actresses, and a protege of George Edwardes, compares favorably with Billie Burke in her simplicity and charm of manner, and she sings and acts with delicious grace an sympathy.

She proved an appealing heroine and an excellent foil for the star of the evening. Mr. O'Mara's singing of "The West's Awake," and the "Wearin' o' the Green" elicited the most stirring scene of enthusiasm ever witnessed in a Philadelphia theater.

The Malacca Wildcats.

In the forests of Malacca and other Islands in the Indian ocean may still be found the animal known as a wildcat. The upper parts of it are generally of a clear yellow color, with black spots; the lower parts are white with black spots also. On the back the spots lengthen almost into lines or rings, black on yellow.

The average length of the animal, excluding the tail, is almost two feet; the tail averages nine inches. Its height when standing erect is about 12 inches at the shoulder and 15 inches at the hindquarters. Its temper is mild and gentle; it plays almost like a domestic cat, or rather kitten, chasing its tail and amusing itself with anything that it can roll with its paws.

Had Given It Away.

Lucille's mother had taken her for an outing. Now that the hour for luncheon had arrived, she called to the little girl:

"Lucille, we will now have a little roll and some chocolate, and you shall pay with the two sous I gave you but a short time since."

"Oh, mamma," cried Lucille, "I have already given the two sous away to an old woman!"

"I am so glad you have disposed of the money in such a charitable way. How did you happen to present it to the old woman?" asked the mother.

"Well, you see, I gave it to her in payment for two nice apples," confessed Lucille.

She Knew.

Two Chicago women, in New York for a stay of several months, were planning a series of visits to the opera. Their talk drifted to "Lucia di Lammermoor."

"I don't know where the story of the opera comes from," said one. "Of course I know that it is from one of the old Italian romances, but I am not familiar with the particular source."

The second assumed an air of superiority.

"You need not be ashamed of your ignorance," said she. "It is only by chance that I know. It's from 'Aesop's Fables.'"—New York Evening Post.

Gentle Reminder.

She was from Boston, and as cool as the traditional cucumber.

"What will you have?" ventured the young man as they sat down at the restaurant table.

"Er—really, I don't know," she said, undecidedly. "What do you think would suit me?"

Here was his chance.

"If you really want my opinion as to what would suit you," he responded, with a solemn face, "I think you had better try a little Chile sauce."

An Extensive Wardrobe.

The Tragedian—I'm indeed sorry to leave you like this, Mrs. Buskins; but I presume you have no objection to me taking my belongings away with me?

Landlady—You needn't worry. My husband has already hung your other collar on the hat-rack!

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health, but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating nervine. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeons' knife, would, it is believed, seldom have to be employed if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. In this connection it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take as candy.

Exciting Baseball Game.

The Flints at the Sedalia theater one week, commencing Sunday night.

Interest in baseball does not flag, even in the winter time, and when Dr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Flint let it be known that they are to put on their famous baseball scene they never fail to play to a packed house. When the Flint entertainment is well under way, Mrs. Flint proposes to the young men on the stage that they have a game of baseball, and as they look into her hypnotic eyes they readily agree to the proposition, and accept with the utmost faith the imaginary bats, balls, protectors and masks that she points out to them. Then the players are assigned to their positions in the aisles of the theater, which they are told are the lines of a baseball diamond. An umpire is selected and a game is started. So genuine does the scene become that the people in the audience dodge the imaginary ball as the men make motions of throwing it about. The hypnotized players coach the other players and ridicule the opposing nine in true bsaeball fashion. Sooner or later the game is sure to result in a wrangle and the umpire comes in for some genuine roastings. An amusing climax is when Mrs. Flint awakens the umpire and the angry and still hypnotized players continue to argue with him about some decision which he in his awakened state knows absolutely nothing about.

Due to popular request, the engagement of Bertha Kalich, in her new play, "Cora," at the Shubert theater, Kansas City, has been extended to include all next week, except Sunday. This is the first production ever running more than one week in Kansas City.

One of the marvels of Bertha Kalich's new production, "Cora,' are the costumes worn by Madame Kalich. These gowns, fashioned on the lastest empire and directoire models by one of the leading fashion designers of Paris, represent the extreme style of the Parisian capital. One of the gown, a creation of silk and lace, studded with countless jewels, is perhaps the richest ever seen on the stage.

Madame Kalich's date at Wood's opera house is Nov. 28.

Cure for Earache.

Take the heart of an onion and heat and insert in the ear and it will cure earache.

One Reason.

One reason why so many men do all their love-making before they are married is that the ladies are satisfied then to have more or less privacy about it.

Tailoring

"A saw is a good thing, but not to shave with." Also ready to wear clothing is a good thing, but not on the man. If your clothes don't fit you perfectly, they will not hold shape, and if they don't hold shape, they won't wear. That's the whole argument in a nutshell. Garments will only fit and hold their shape when they are cut, fashioned and tailored over your form. You can't buy clothing from off the counter and get value. That's common sense. Why, then, spend money for clothing not made for you, when for the same amount I will make a study of your build and then make you a suit—your suit. New and desirable weaves are now ready for your inspection and your selection now will put you in the van of the army of good dressers. Prices range $25, $27.50, $30 and $35.

Children's Sleep.

As a general rule the lad at school between the ages of 13 and 16 requires nine to ten hours sleep. Growing boys need a large amount of sleep, and when this is denied them, neither their bodies nor their minds can develop properly. An English authority points out this lack of hours of rest falls most heavily on the clever boys.

County Larger Than State.

Although the New England states are small, the average size of the counties is greater than in most of the middle, western and southern states. Worcester county, in Massachusetts, is an example of an eastern county that is at the same time large in area and very populous. It is larger than the adjoining state of Rhode Island.

JUDGE GETS FOUR YEARS

THOMAS McGRATH CONVICTED OF FALSIFYING PRIMARY RETURNS.

HE IS THE NINTH ON SAGER'S LIST

The Defense Offers No Evidence, but Files Notice of Appeal—First of the Officials Brought to Trial.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 12.—A penitentiary sentence of four years was assessed last night by a jury in Judge George H. Shields' court as the punishment of Thomas McGrath, the first primary election judge to be convicted of falsifying election returns. The case was submitted to the jury without any defense and very little argument on the part of McGrath's attorneys, and the verdict was returned shortly before 6 o'clock, after the jury had deliberated an hour and a half. McGrath's attorneys at once filed notice of appeal. The prisoner expressed great surprise at the verdict.

In his arguments Circuit Attorney Sager denounced dishonest election judges as a menace to the government and expressed sorrow that the statutes limited the punishment to five years.

The importance to the cause of honest elections of the conviction of McGrath cannot be overestimated, in the opinion of the prosecuting officers. He was the first of the election officials charged with manipulating the August primary returns to be brought to trial. It was shown that the vote was cast unanimously for certain candidates on the "gang" slate in a large number of precincts; that the names of men dead for years and of persons whose existence could not be established were voted. In some precincts names were marked as voting in alphabetical order, or from house to house, up one side of the street and down the other, showing that the judges and clerks had simply made up the poll books to suit themselves, regardless of who had voted or how they had voted, so long as the totals of the "gang" candidates were kept at high-water mark.

In the trial of the McGrath case Circuit Attorney Saged shower by witness after witness that votes had been cast in his precinct for Ball, Stapel and Wallace, yet they were credited with no votes in the returns. So clear was the fraud that McGrath's attorney, C. Orrick Bishop, attempted no defense.

The victory for honest elections lies in the fact that Mr. Sager has now convicted nine of the election and registration crooks, and not a single one of those tried has got away. Their only hope to escape the penitentiary is by appeal to the higher court on technicalities.

WORLD'S CITIES HARD TO KILL.

Rome Twice Burned, Six Times Starved—Paris' Eight Sieges.

Few of the world's great cities have not faced, at one time or another, total destruction. But a city is hard to kill.

Take Rome, for instance. She has been swept by pestilence no fewer than ten times. She has been twice burned and six times driven to submission by starvation. Perhaps it is on account of her great vitality that she is called the Eternal city.

Paris has gone through eight sieges, ten famines, two plagues and one fire which devastated it.

Constantinople has been burned out nine times and has suffered from four plagues and five sieges. In addition, she has been ruled by monarchs who were worse than a plague. Yet Constantinople still flourishes.

London has been decimated five times by plagues, in addition to visitations of typhus, cholera and other epidemics. She has been burned more or less severely several times.—Stray Stories.

Recognized the Line.

Two girls were talking over the phone one afternoon, the subject of the conversation being a lawn party to take place the following day. Both were discussing what they should wear, and after five minutes had come to no decision.

Right in the midst of this "important" conversation a masculine voice interrupted, asking humbly what number he had. A stern reply that the wire was busy did not successfully squelch the inquirer, for he asked again for the number. One of the girls now became indignant and with supreme scorn asked: "What line do you think you are on, anyhow?"

"Well," said the man, "I'm not sure, but judging from what I've heard I should say I was on a clothes line."

RUMBLINGS OF THE RAIL

THE TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY IS INDICTED AT NEW ORLEANS.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

The Texas and Pacific Railroad Co. was indicted by the federal grand jury at New Orleans, La., yesterday afternoon on five counts for alleged violation of the interstate commerce act with particular reference to the imposition of certain car service charges imposed on grain dealers in New Orleans.

The violations are said to have occurred between Dec. 24, 1907, and Feb. 16, 1908, and the local firms who are named as being overcharged are George B. Mathews & Sons, Benedict Commission Co. and Thomas J. Stanton. The shipments were hay and were made from Kansas City, Mo., and Stuttgart and Ulm, Ark.

It is averred in the indictment that the railroad, with the willful intention of getting more freight charges than its published schedule provided for, illegally imposed car charges for several days in each instance when it knew that the shipments were still in transit in the parish of Jefferson, and could out be delivered to the consignee in New Orleans.

A Central Branch Report.

The Central branch of the Missouri Pacific, said to be the roughest railroad in Kansas, was improved and repaired to the extent of $31,537.97 last year, according to the annual report of the company, filed at Topeka yesterday.

The revenues of the line were $1,498,798.07, and the expense $969,597,77. According to the report, George Gould owns 75,843 shares of the company's stock and Bailie Waggener and two other Kansans own one share each.

Waldo King Injured.

Waldo King, a Missouri Pacific boilermaker, son of Engineer M. B. King, while at work at the new shops at 7:40 o'clock Wednesday evening, accidentally fell into an unprotected ditch, sustaining a contusion of the back and head. He was temporarily treated at the M., K. & T. hospital. He is able to be on the streets with the aid of crutches.

A Katy Man Resigns.

J. G. Gossett, general foreman of the bridge and building department of the middle division of the Katy, states that he has resigned and will leave the service of the company on November 15th. His successor has not been announced. He has been with the company twenty-two years.

Missouri Pacific Earnings.

The following railroad earnings are reported in a New York dispatch:

Missouri Pacific—First week in November, $808,000, increase, $37,000. From July 1, $16,341,657; decrease, $1,616,788

Automatic Couplers.

W. F. Egan, an M., K. & T. switchman, resumed work today.

George Young, a Missouri Pacific engineer, is on the sick list and is laying off.

Superintendent N. J. Finney, of the Katy, is making a business visit at Nevada today.

Dominic Stoffel, claim agent for the M., K. & T., went to Harrisonville today on business.

W. A. Mitchell, master carbuilder for the M., K. & T., came in from St. Louis this morning.

C. A. Braun, a railway accident insurance agent, is here from Osawatomie, Kan., on business

"Jack" Lafferty, a Missouri Pacific brakeman, is temporarily running on the Lexington branch.

In future all crews from the east on the Missouri Pacific who tie up in this city are to register at the yard office.

A force of Katy section men is at work laying 85-pound steel rails in the local yards, replacing the 75-pound rails.

E. M. Alvord, general superintendent of the M., K. & T., in special car No. 49, will pass through here this evening on train No. 1, en route to Parsons, Kan.

The M., K. & T. wrecking crew passed through Sedalia from Parsons, Kan., to Pleasant Green this morning to clear up the derailment that occurred last Saturday.

J. D. Lyons, agent for the Van Noy News agency, went to Kansas City this morning, working train No. 37 for the Van Noy people.

Ron McDougall, holding a railway telegrapher's position at Waco, Tex., is here on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McDougall.

M., K. & T. train No. 2 arrived here one hour late today, owing to the carrying of a theatrical troupe from Clinton to this city.

William Flennelly, traveling passenger agent for the Southern railway, with headquarters in Kansas City, is here today on business.

W. L. Tracy, assistant superintendent of machinery for the Missouri Pacific, returned to Kansas City this morning, after a brief visit in this city.

An official circular was issued by the M., K. & T. today, requesting the discontinuance of transferring United States mail on train No. 2 at Deerfield, Mo.

H. G. Clark, superintendent of the Missouri Pacific at Pueblo, Colo., passed through here this afternoon, en route home from a business visit at St. Louis.

A. A. Blake, recently connected with the telegraph department of the Santa eF railway at La Junta, Colo., today accepted the position of yard clerk for the Missouri Pacific, in the absence of A. W. Spicer, who is on the sick list, but is improving.

WIDOW IS GIVEN NO BALM

MRS. ADALINE GILLILAND LOST HER $25,000 BREACH OF PROMISE CASE.

WAS RICH FARMER'S HOUSEKEEPER

Bride of Charles Miller Hears Plaintiff Tell Her Story and Her Husband Deny It—Verdict for the Defendant.

Maryville, Mo., Nov. 12.—Sixty-three years old, without a gray hair in her raven locks, Mrs Adaline Gilliland occupied the witness stand in the circuit court yesterday and told of indignities she said had been offered to her by Charles Miller, of Clearmont, reputed to be worth $100,000, whom she is suing for alleged broken promise to marry her.

Miller is a wealthy farmer 59 years old. Miller married another woman after the time Mrs. Gilliland says he promised to marry her, and seated in the rear of the court room, a heavy black veil drawn over her face, she heard the story of her husband's alleged duplicity.

Mrs. Gilliland said that Miller while she was acting as his housekeeper during 1907, told her that they were "as good as married." Mrs. Gilliland testified that she repulsed Miller on this occasion, and that one afternoon while pulling turnips, she again declined to listen to his talk of a common-law marriage, and continued to do so thereafter.

It developed during cross-examination that Miller was acting as a kind of John Alden for Harvey Ross, the Miles Standish, who was desirous of securing a wife.

As a second John Alden, Miller said he called on Mrs. Gilliland to secure her services as a domestic. At this time she was, so Miller testified, staying at a neighbor's. He admitted that it took two hours to close a bargain with her whereby she was to work for him for $2.50 a week, and that he also slipped in a few words for Harvey Ross, but denied that he ever was to receive $100 from Ross if Ross was fortunate in winning Mrs. Gilliland. Ross is still unmarried.

Attorney Blagg asked Miller if he was not really taking soundings for himself while doing Ross' courting, to which Miller answered in the negative. Attorney Blagg then asked him if he had not related to several neighbors as a sort of preface to assailing the heart of Mrs. Gilliland, that he wanted to marry some good, respectable woman. Again Miller answered in the negative.

Miller denied that he ever caressed Mrs. Gilliland; declared that he never slipped up and put his arms around her and kissed her, or that he ever walked up boldly and gave her an osculatory salute. Miller also stated that he never sat around the fire of nights after his 23-year-old son and his daughter had retired, and whispered honeyed words of love into the ear of the widow, but that he did hire another woman to act as housekeeper after Mrs. Gilliland had departed, and that four weeks after Mrs. Gilliland's successor came in, he (Miller) married her.

After being out about one hour the jury brought in a verdict for the defendant.

A PLAIN TAILORED WAIST

WILL CONTINUE TO BE WORN BY SOCIETY LADIES DURING WINTER.

MANY NEW DESIGNS ARE EXHIBITED

A Pretty Costume for Morning Wear Around the House Consists of a Skirt of Mohair or Serge.

(By Catherine Mann-Payzant.)

New York, Nov. 12.—That the plain tailored waist will continue to be worn during the winter is evidenced by the many designs that are exhibited on all sides.

While there is little new in the designs, the materials must match the skirt or suit with which it will be worn. Such fabrics as satin faced silks, mousselines, satins and nets are used both for the plain and dressy wear. In the former case the waist is finished in tailored style with a plain collar and tie, and when used for dressy wear the waist will be much trimmed, often with the material in the skirt.

A pretty costume was developed from olive green crepe de chine, while the waist exactly matches it in color, but is of net over the silk, a cream lace yoke and under sleeves is used.

A colored suit could have a waist plainly made with the collar, front piece and cuffs embroidered in self-colored polka dots.

Often a note of color is introduced by using a bright colored piping to edge the tucks in the waist, cuffs and collar. Plaids are also used for straps, cut on the bias and finished with fine machine stitching. Odd-shaped and often costly buttons are used to decorate the new waists.

For general wear the plain tailored waists of net, as well as those of satin and fine wash materials are given a preference over the short sleeved lingerie effects, which seem to be more and more pushed into evening or home wear.

The full length sleeve is more and more used on all styles of waists, those for general wear being in plain tailored style and finished with a narrow stiff cuff and those of the more dressy order in long, tight-fitting directoire style, either finished with a deep point over the band or with a frill of lace straight aroun.

The dull browns that border on grey, or greys that have a tint of brown in them are extremely well liked. Beige and brown are leaders in millinery and in different tints are known as Vandyke, rust cedar, forest and safron; and in furs we find sable, mink, marten and beaver the favorites, which are also liked for hat trimmings as well.

The fur turban or toque will be a favorite this winter. Some times it will be a combination of fur and velvet. While the fur hat in the first instance may be an expensive affair, they need on a very small amount of trimming. All that is needed is a torsade and a graceful bow of velvet or satin ribbon, a smart ribbon ornament caught down with a fancy pin, a pair of wings or a sheaf of quills. Some times flowers are used, but on the whole feathers seem to be the most appropriate trimming.

Nothing will renew the life of an old dark hat of straw as a bright wing or a touch of bright color.

Black and all dark shades are the characteristic features of this autumn's colors, but in nearly every case a note of bright color is introduced.

Many strange colors are sought for which though they go under the name of old familiar tints, they appear very unfamiliar to the eye.

Hats in reality too light in texture and color for wear with autumn suits or for autumn days are often made harmonious by the addition of a silk or satin under-facing and a good deal of trimming in a dark shade.

With the smart cloth tailor costume, an all silk hat trimmed with quills or ostrich plumes is bound to look exceptionally well. Satin hats are much worn at this time of the year and are quite as popular as the silk hat and will be worn all winter.

Hats fit down upon the head and the drooping brim is still fashionable, but less trimming will be seen.

Because of the great amount of trimming used on hats tulle and net are used in quantities in preference to ribbon and satin, as it is easier to use more of these materials than the heavier ones.

In feathers gourah and osprey are fashionable, as well as wings and quills.

Ostrich feathers are again in use and in all lengths, but the matter of application is a change to that used during the summer and is the mark distinctive of the new autumn hat.

The belt or girdle is the salient feature of all the more dressy waists. Many of the new girdles are made of broad ribbon and finished with fringe or tassels. The sash is brought around the waist, crossed in the back and brought around to the left side, where it is knotted several inches below the hip line. Others are in girdle style with sash ends falling from a rosette.

A pretty costume for morning wear around the house consists of a skirt of mohair or serge, cut with eleven gores and a front panel which closes on the left side. The tailored waist is of cream shirting striped with the skirt color and trimmed with straps of the material and large buttons.

PRINCESS IS ANARCHIST

IT IS SAID SHE WILL PAY A VISIT TO AMERICA EARLY IN YEAR 1909.

MEMBER OF THE RUSSIAN NOBILITY

Husband of the Princess, a Nihilist, Was Given an Ovation by Society Folk Here Some Years Since.

London, Nov 12.—Great curiosity has been aroused here by the announcement that the Princess Kropatkin, a member of the Russian nobility and an Anarchist, intends to visit America early next year.

The American immigration law forbids the admission of anarchists, and John Turner, a famous London anarchist, was turned back some years ago. The husband of the princess, a distinguished savant and Nihilist, was given a tremendous ovation by society folk when he visited America some years since.

The Kropatkins, who are exiles from Russia, have lived in London for the past twenty years.

The prince is a well known and respected author and a man of science, while the princess is almost as gifted as her husband, having taken degrees at the universities of Paris and Geneva and being a contributor to several reviews and periodicals.

The friends of the princess say that she will most certainly write herself down an anarchist in the blank which foreigners are required to fill out.

The immigration authorities, however, are expected to recognize the difference between her sort of anarchism and that of John Turner, who was excluded a few years ago.

TWO WAYS of Getting Glasses.

One is to let some slick tongued fakir who peddles through the country come into your home and sell you a pair, and run the risk of ruining your eyes. They know how to fit a glass that makes you see splendidly today, but it is an unnatural glass and the Eye cannot stand up under it. You find that tomorrow you cannot stand to wear them at all. Then you turn to your peddler—he is gone.

GREAT TUNNEL OPENED

ONE OF THE LARGEST ELECTRICAL CONTRACTS EVER CARRIED OUT.

PORT HURON, MICH., TO SARNIA, ONT

Attracted Attention of Engineers In All Parts of the World—Air Is Pure and Car Windows Left Open.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 12.—Distinguished railroad officials and electrical experts of the United States and Canada were guests of the Grand Trunk railroad today at the formal inaugural of the electrified international tunnel between this city and Sarina, Ont. The electrification of the tunnel was one of the largest electrical railroad contracts ever carried out in America.

The results have been satisfactory and gratifying, not merely in clearing the big hole from noxious gases and so avoiding discomfort and danger, but in increasing efficiency. Trains can be handled much faster under the electrical system than by steam locomotives.

The electrification of the St. Clair tunnel has attracted the attention of engineers in all parts of the world. The installation of the electric plant cost $500,000 including the power plant, wiring, locomotives and other equipment for an overhead wire power supply system.

Four heavy electric locomotives have been built for the work. They are among the largest of their kind in the world, have a tractive power of 30 per cent greater than the steam locomotive and can haul trains at an average speed of 10 miles an hour over the heavy tunnel grades.

The new system also insures safety, which is more important than efficiency or speed as the St. Clair tunnel, since its completion in 1891 has gained an unenviable notoriety by the number of fatal accidents which have occurred in it.

The least accident to a train passing through by steam power meant that some of the crew would be asphyxiated by the coal gases, and many employes have been killed in this way. It was necessary in passing through the tunnel that every car should be sealed as nearly as hermetically as possible and the transit was by no means a comfortable one for either crew or passengers under the most favorable conditions.

Under the electric system the interior of the tunnel has been brilliantly illuminated with arc lights and painted white. The absence of coal fumes and the ventilation make the air in the tunnel now so pure that the car windows can be left open during the entire run.

Discuss Atlantic Waterways.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 12.—An inland waterway extending almost the entire length of the Atlantic coast, from Maine to Florida, will be advocated at the first annual convention of the Atlantic Deep Waterways association in this city next week.

The local committee today completed plans for the gathering and acceptances have been received from hundreds of prominent men who will take part in the deliberations.

Ten thousand dollars will be spent in entertaining the visitors. It is declared that an inland waterway has become an imperative necessity and would be invaluable to the government in time of war.

THE FARMERS' INSTITUTE

IT WILL BE HELD AT SMITHTON, MO., NOVEMBER 20 AND NOVEMBER 21.

ALSO TO BE CORN AND SEED SHOW

Lecturers from the State Board of Agriculture Will Be Present—A List of the Premiums to Be Awarded.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Smithton, Nov. 12.—Arrangements are being completed to make the Farmers' institute, corn and seed show, to be held here Friday and Saturday, Nov. 20 and 21, one of the most successful and instructive institutes held in Missouri.

The farmers are taking unusual interest in the coming meetings and the success of the affair is assured, no matter how disagreeable the weather conditions may be.

S. M. Jordan and F. G. King, lecturers sent here by the state board of agriculture, will discuss stock and agricultural subjects in the morning and afternoon sessions of both days.

Mr. Hillman, of Washington, D. C., representing the United States department of agriculture, will also attend and address the farmers on the question of adulterated seeds.

Papers wll also be read by prominent local farmers and stockmen.

The institute will be held in the Woodmen hall, and the morning sessions will begin at 9 o'clock and the afternoon sessions at 1 o'clock.

Night meetings will be held should the weather be favorable.

An effort is being made to secure the state veterinarian to lecture on the ailments of stock one night of the institute.

Butter-making, a subject of great interest to the farmers' wives, will be discussed by an experienced and practical dairyman at 1 o'clock in the afternoon of the first day's session.

E. N. Norton, of the Maplewood distict, will read a paper on "The Fertility of the Soil," and W. Stockton Cotton, of Woodford farm, will make an address on "Hog and Cattle Feeding."

Louis M. Monsees, senior member of L. M. Monsees & Sons' Limestone Valley farm, and who has a national reputation as an authority on jacks, jennets and all matters pertaining to horses, will be asked to address the institute on "Jacks and Missouri Pumpkins.'

Col. M. V. Carroll, editor of the Ruralist, will also deliver an address on some topic germane to the meeting.

In connection with the institute a corn and seed show will be given, at which the following premiums will be awarded.

The object of these meetings is to bring the farmers and stockmen together and discuss the best ways and means of improving their farms, crops and stock.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

No case of contagious blood poison is ever cured until the last particle of the virus has been removed from the circulation. The least taint left in the blood will sooner or later, cause a fresh outbreak of the trouble, with all its hideous and destructive symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper colored splotches, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc. No other medicine so surely cures contagious blood poison as S. S. S. It goes down into the blood and steadily and surely drives out every particle of the infection. It absolutely and perfectly purifies the blood, and leaves this vital fluid as fresh, rich and healthy as it was before the destructive virus of contagious blood poison entered the circulation. S. S. S. quickly takes effect on the blood, and gradually the symptoms disappear, the health is improved, the skin cleared of all spots, sores and other blemishes, the hair stops coming out, the mouth and throat heal and when S. S. S. has cleansed the system of the poison no trace of the disease is left. S. S. S. cures contagious blood poison because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, tested and proven for more than forty years. Book on this disease with suggestions for home treatment, and any medical advice sent free to all who write.

ECZEMA CURED BY SIMPLE OIL

Tender Skins of Children Soothed by a Mild Liquid Compound.

Have you ever tried a few drops of an oil of wintergreen compound for skin trouble? It is the base of a liquid compound which seems to be about the only safe and sure cure for eczema, salt rheum, tetter, ringworm and kindred diseases.

The liquid is so mild that it is used with wonderful soothing effect on the tender skins of infants.

To prove efficacious, the oil of wintergreen must be mixed with thymol and glycerine, as in the prescription of Dr. D. D. Dennis, the Chicago skin specialist. The compound is known as D. D. D. prescription. Used with D. D. D. soap it appears to be infallible

A. J. Brand, 1228 Joliet street, New Orleans, La., writes:

"About five years ago, when my daughter was about three months old, she had eczema very badly. Her neck was one solid mass of sores, and we tried everything possible to relieve her, but to no purpose. The doctor we called said he could cure her, but that it would take at least two years to do so, and on account of her age we thought that the pain would surely kill her. We began using D. D. D. prescription, and after using two bottles she was as well and happy a child as you can see, with no mark or scar on her skin.

"My youngest daughter, now 2 years old, started the same way with a sore neck about six months ago. We did not lose any time in applying D. D. D. and it needed only a few applications to heal her neck. I also use D. D. D. after shaving with beneficial results."

As far as we have sen, the cures with oil of wintergreen as used ni D. D. D. prescription are permanent cures. And we certainly do know that the instant D. D. D. prescription is applied to the skin, the itch is relieved. A few drops takes the itch away at once, cooling and refreshing the skin. W. E. Bard Drug Co.

WORK WEAKENS THE KIDNEYS

Doan's Kidney Pills Have Done Great Service for People Who Work in Sedalia.

Most Sedalia people work every day in some strained, unnatural position—bending constantly over a desk—riding on jolting wagons or cars—doing laborious housework; lifting, reaching or pulling, or trying the back in a hundred and one other ways. All these strains tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they fall behind in their work of filtering the poisons from the blood. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, put new strength in bad backs. Sedalia cures prove it.

Mrs. J. V. Albertson, 611 West Seventh street, Sedalia, Mo., says: "My husband had kidney trouble for several years, brought on, no doubt, by the nature of his work. He suffered from pains in his back and hips and the kidney secretions became irregular, unnatural and contained a sediment. He tried many remedies, but did not receive much relief until he procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Bard's drug store. The first box made him feel 50 per cent better and he continued until he was in good health."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co. Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Our Shirt Fronts.

Why do we wear our shirt bosoms exposed? may seem an unnecessary question, but the answer is found in a queer bit of history. Nowadays the white shirt bosom is worn by people of all classes and stations in life, but only a hundred years ago the white shirt bosom, with the starched ruffles, which took the place of collar and cuffs, was the outward and visible sign of wealth and gentility. Linen was very expensive, cotton had not come into general use, and the inner garments of most men were made of wool.

Linen, therefore, was the emblem of wealth; the man who could afford a linen shirt was generally so proud of it that the tailors gave him an opportunity of displaying it to the best advantage. All gentlemen's coats were adaptations of the military uniform, and at first were tightly buttoned from throat to waist, with high standing collars that came up to the ears. The men who fashioned the clothes of our great-grandfathers turned down the collars, rolled back the lapels and gave the old gentlemen an opportunity to show that they wore linen instead of woolen shirts, and so we, however poor we may be, exhibit our shirt fronts because our ancestors gloried in their linen.

OWE LIVES TO HERO

Captain Scott, New York Sailor, Used His Own Body to Stop Leak in Crowded Ferryboat—All on Board Saved.

One morning in January, when the ice in the Hudson river ran unusually heavy, a Hoboken ferry boat slowly crunched her way through the floating floes, until the thickness of the pack choked her paddles in midriver. It was an early morning trip and the decks were crowded with laboring men and the driveways choked with teams; the women and children standing inside the cabins were a solid mass up to the swinging doors. While she was gathering strength for a further effort, an ocean tug sheered to avoid her, veered a point, and crashed into her side, cutting her below the water line in a great V-shaped gash. A moment more, and the disabled boat careened from the shock and fell over on her beam, helpless. Into the V-shaped gash the water poured a torrent. It seemed but a question of minutes before she would lunge headlong below the ice.

Within 200 yards of both boats, and free of the heaviest ice, steamed the wrecking tug Reliance of the Off Shore Wrecking Company, and on her deck forward stood Capt. Scott. When the ocean tug reversed her engines after the collision and backed clear of the shattered wheelhouse of the ferry boat, he sprang forward, stooped down, ran his eye along the water line, noted in a flash every shattered plank, climbed into the pilot house of his own boat, and before the astonished pilot could catch his breath pushed the nose of the Reliance along the rail of the ferry boat and dropped upon the latter's deck like a cat.

With a threat to throw overboard any man who stirred, he dropped into the engine room, met the engineer half way up the ladder, compelled him to return, dragged the mattresses from the crews' bunks, stripped off blankets, snatched up clothes, overalls, cotton waste and rags of carpet, cramming them into the great rent left by the tug's cutwater.

It was useless. Little by little the water gained, bursting out first below, then on one side, only to be calked out again, and only to rush in once more.

Capt. Scott stood a moment as if undecided, ran his eye searchingly over the engine room, saw that for his needs it was empty, then deliberately tore down the top wall of calking he had so carefully built up, and before the engineer could protest, forced his own body into the gap, with his arm outside, level with the drifting ice.

An hour later, the disabled ferry boat, with every soul on board, was towed into the Hoboken slip.

When they lifted the captain from the wreck, he was unconscious and barely alive. The water had frozen his blood, and the floating ice had torn the flesh from his protruding arm from shoulder to wrist. When the color began to creep back to his cheeks, he opened his eyes and said to the doctor who was winding the bandages:

"Wuz any of them babies hurt?"

A month passed before he regained his strength, and another week before the arm had healed so that he could get his coat on. Then he went back to the Reliance.—F. Hopkinson Smith, in Everybody's.

THE JOURNEY'S END

BOURNE TO WHICH NONE OF US TRAVEL ALONE.

"For No Man Liveth to Himself, and No Man Dieth to Himself"—Beautiful Allegory of the Last Dread Day.

The man was dying. His landlady, kindly soul, had sent for the vicar of the parish, and when the sick man heard a step on the stairs he strove through the agony of almost insupportable pain to unclench his hands and smooth his brow. As the parson—squat-figured and plain-faced—entered, the man smiled a twisted smile.

"Ah, padre, old chap, come to speed the parting guest, eh? I'm afraid I'm not a very promising subject for your ministrations."

But the clergyman, too, was a man, so wasted no time beating about the bush, but came straight to the point.

"No, I'm not here to-night to preach, but—we've known each other some time, and lately I've come to look on you as a friend"—here the man turned his head away and grinned quietly at the cheap wall paper—"how is it between you and your God?"

The man raised himself in the bed.

"Look here," he said. "I have lived my life without him and am I now to go to him whom I have defied whining for mercy? I have lived alone and I die alone. Do you—"

He fell back in a fresh paroxysm of torture; the bedstead quivered like the shaft of a racing screw under the grip of his one hand, while with the other he fiercely motioned his visitor to the door. The latter, seeing his presence was, for the moment, useless, retired—to spend long hours of the night on his knees in the lonely vicarage agonizing for the soul of one he loved. When he called next morning the end had come.

The long agony was over, and the naked soul lay alone.

Only vast silence and illimitable space. The man stood erect and cried:

"God! God! See me! Know me! Throughout my life on earth. I have transgressed thy laws, knowing thy will and thy power. Judge me. Cast me to the hell Thou has devised for me, and try whether, through all thy torments, the creature will not mock at the Creator. Here, a man, I stand before the Almighty for judgment, alone!"

There came no voice, no stirring of the calm, clear depths, but the man was shaken by the question:

"Art thou alone?"

Suddenly there came pressing on him from every side presences, faces. The face of a gentle lady, who, through all, had loved her boy—the face of a stern, gray-haired man, hoping ever for the son of his body—the sweet face of a brave girl, eating out her heart in lonely, trustful longing for the one she loved—men's faces, full of belief in the bright promise and friendship of old college days—children's faces—the brown eyes of faithful dogs—these all oppressed him, thronged around him, while through his being swept the words:

"For no man liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself!" Through space the cry rang out:

"Have mercy, God!"

CLOTHCRAFT STYLE

Young men want their clothes cut with a certain smartness—they ought to have what they want.

Older men—want more conservative styles—they, also, ought to have what they want.

Now, CLOTHCRAFT clothes for Fall and Winter have this merit;—you can find just the model and just the pattern best suited to your wants.

But, whatever you want, the style will be correct and proper—if you get CLOTHCRAFT.

The cutting, the making in every detail will be just right to give you good-looking clothes—a suit or an overcoat that will not only look well when you first put it on, but keep on looking well.

Because of their merit, CLOTHCRAFT clothes have the approval of the trade and of all who ever try them.

Most important, perhaps, of all—CLOTHCRAFT garments are all wool—pure wool with no cotton mixture—guaranteed wool all through.

And CLOTHCRAFT is the only line of men's clothing made of all wool materials and selling at from $10 to $25, suit or overcoat.

Look in soon while the stock is complete. Why not today? It will pay you.

RAISE THE SCHOOL AGE

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT FIXING MINIMUM AT SIX YEARS.

IT IS NOW DEMANDED IN WISCONSIN

Teachers Say That It Is a Crime to Compel Children Only Four and Five Years of Age to Attend School.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 12.—A constitutional amendment changing the minimum school age from 4 to 6 years is demanded by many of the delegates here today for the opening of the annual convention of the Wisconsin Teachers' association.

Many pedagogues declare that attendance at school by children of 4 or 5 years, as now permitted, is a positive crime and should be prohibited. The report on the subject will be presented tomorrow.

The session will continue through tomorrow and Saturday. The greatest feature of the convention will be the Calve concert at the Hippodrome tomorrow evening, under the auspices of the association.

Among the eminent teachers who will make addresses are William L. Bryan, president of the University of Indiana; Supt. S L. Heeter, of the public schools of St. Paul; State Supt. C. P. Cary, of Wisconsin; Dr. Luther H. Gulick, president of the National Playground association, New York; L. D. Harvey, of the State Manual Training schools, Menomonie, Wis.; State Supt. J. W. Olsen, of Minnesoat; Dr. John F. Woodhull, Columbia university, and Dean E. A. Birge, of the University of Wisconsin.

Ask Your Neighbors

So many people scattered all over the American Continent have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines that there's scarcely a hamlet where some of these grateful people are not to be easily found—ever ready to say a good word for the medicines which cured them and which very likely may cure you, if similarly afflicted. Look them up. They are walking advertisements for Dr. Pierce's medicines—ever ready to pass the good news along that these medicines cure when many others fail. Little advertised NOW, because their record of 40 years of cures makes great displays of their merits unnecessary. The great American people, pretty generally know of their unequaled record.

CATHOLIC CELEBRATION

A GREAT ROMAN MISSIONARY CONGRESS TO BE OPENED IN CHICAGO.

DATE IS SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 15

Will Celebrate the Most Important Step Taken by the American Branch of the Church in Last Century.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Committees of the Catholic clergy and laymen of Chicago today made final plans for the great Roman Missionary congress, the first of its kind to be held in America, which will be opened next Sunday.

Thousands of priests and distinguished laymen and scores of bishops and archbishops have notified the committees that they will be present, and every part of the country will have representation.

On Tuesday of last week the continent of North America was placed in a new category on the records of the Catholic church, and now, instead of being a missionary country, it is in the same order as the Catholic countries of Europe.

The congress will celebrate this great change, the most important step taken by the American branch of the church in the last century.

Pope Pius X will have a personal representative at the congress and will send a blessing.

YOU can build up the entire system by the use of the Bitters. It is a splendid tonic and prevents Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Colds Grippe and Malarial Fever.

Cure for Eczema

Dr. J. E. Currier Tells How It Can Be Used By the Patients Themselves.

(From Chicago Examiner)

"Eczema, tetter, ringworm and other skin diseases are spreading," says Dr. J. E. Currier in the Doctor's Guide, writing about a new and wonderfully successful cure for skin affections.

"I apply plain pure citrox, dissolved in hot water, twice a day. You who know how stubborn tetter, ringworm and eczema can be, will be amazed to see how soon this stops the itching, dries up the eruption and causes a growth of new healthy skin. I now tell my patients to get a package of pure citrox at the drug store and dissolve a teaspoonful in two tablespoonfuls of hot water, as this solution must be made fresh each time and used warm.

"I am having better success than ever before. A case of tetter on the hand that had run six months, citrox cured in a week; and a young woman whose back was a mass of pustules was cured in two weeks. I could cite many others. Be careful to get the pure drug put up in small, sealed packages."

It will interest women to learn that this well known drug's value for skin diseases was discovered by the doctor's wife.
